SMITH IGNORES PEACE OFFER OF ROOSEVELT MEN

ACTION DISAPPOINTS GOVERNOR'S FRIENDS

Westhampton Beach, Long Island, Aug. 28 (U.P.).—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith today rejected peace overtures made to him by the campaign forces of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The one-time nominee of the Democratic party for the Presidency traveled 85 miles to avoid remaining in the precincts where a gathering of Democratic chieftains was in progress, and pointedly ignored their invitation to be present.

Friends of Roosevelt had expected to heal the breach made at the Chicago convention today, and perhaps to prevail upon the once "happy warrior" to make at least one speech in Roosevelt's favor.

Goes to Visit Son.

Instead, Smith deserted his usual week-end haunts, not far from the home of Basil O'Connor, the governor's law partner, where the conference was held, and journeyed to Far Rockaway to visit his son, Arthur.

Roosevelt's supporters were keenly disappointed, feeling, as they said openly, that one speech from Smith would mean a million votes.

Smith's action was regarded as the most deliberate, almost studied, indication of his decision to remain aloof from the party's campaign, that he has given since he returned, a disappointed man, from Chicago.

Leaves Early In Day.

Calls to the summer home of Maj. and Mrs. John Adams Warner, son-in-law and daughter of the former governor, where he has been staying, brought information that Smith "left early today and will not return until late tonight." By that time, Roosevelt's schedule called for his return to Albany.

Gov. Roosevelt spent a quiet day at O'Connor's home, where he received a flood of telegrams commenting on his antiprohibition speech at Seagirt, N. J. Among other political leaders, he met John H. McCooey, Democratic leader of Kings County; George W. Olvany, former head of Tammy Hall; several national committeemen, and the chief of Suffolk and Nassau counties.

Walker Hearing to Resume.

Melvin Traylor, Chicago banker, who has charge of the party finances, was also listed on the day's engagement pad for a conference.

Roosevelt will plunge into the Walker ouster hearings again tomorrow, reviewing the testimony thus far presented with his special counsel, Martin Conboy. Later in the day he is scheduled to hear arguments for clemency for prisoners now in the death house at Sing Sing Prison, and at night he will resume the Walker hearing, which swings into its fourth week.

Smith Backs Wardell.

Los Angeles, Aug. 28 (U.P.).—Alfred E. Smith, of New York, today threw his support to the California candidacy of Justus F. Wardell for United States senator.

Smith's action struck indirectly at his old political enemy, William Gibbs McAdoo, who threw the recent Democratic convention to Roosevelt and is now opposing Wardell for the Democratic senatorial nomination in California.

The former governor appealed to his supporters in the presidential primaries to vote for Wardell "in the best interests of the party."

Miami, Fla., Aug. 28 (U.P.).—The potential hurricane blowing up from the Bahamas was reported 200 miles southeast of Miami tonight and expected to reach here in the morning, perhaps at grave proportions.

The storm has not yet reached the intensity of a hurricane, but the weather station, in ordering storm warnings from Jupiter to Key West, reported that the disturbance was slowly increasing in intensity and will cause increasing northwest winds tonight becoming strong early Monday morning, possibly of a gale force near its center.

United States Coast Guard cutters at Fort Lauderdale have been ordered to be ready for emergencies.

Mollison in St. John, Ready for Hop Today

Completes First Leg of Return Ocean Trip, Hindered by Fog.

St. John, New Brunswick, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Capt. James A. Mollison, with the most hazardous half of his transatlantic adventure behind him, tonight turned his glance toward home and his bride of a month.

The intrepid young Scottish pilot flew 500 miles from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., to Nerepis, 18 miles from here, today and motored on to St. John to spend the night preparatory to his try for the distinction of being the first person to fly the Atlantic solo in both directions.

Tomorrow, he will proceed to Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, with the intention of hopping away at once on the final stretch of his return flight from New York to London in his tiny plane "Heart's Content," a veritable "flying gas tank."

He promised he would keep a sharp watch for the missing plane "Green Mountain Boy," unreported for more than 90 hours on a flight from Barre, Vt., to Oslo, Norway. If he should sight Clyde Lee and John Bochkon

SECOND IN LORTON ESCAPE PLOT DIES

The second colored man who tried to rush to liberty from the Lorton Reformatory Saturday night paid for his attempt for freedom with his life. James Gray, 25 years old, who was felled by a reformatory guard, who also killed his accomplice, Edward Thornton, 29 years old, died last night in Gallinger Hospital. Both were from Washington.

According to Capt. M. M. Barnard, in charge of the institution, Gray and Thornton, who were serving long terms for robbery, tried to rush the guard tower, in what was thought by the reformatory officials to be an attempt to wrest a gun from the guard, L. C. Brown.

Brown called upon the men to stop. His repeated commands went unheeded and he opened fire. Thornton, who was serving eight years for his attempt to rob the Franklin National Bank of $100 under a threat to blow up the bank with a bottle of nitroglycerin, was felled with a bullet through his heart.

The other convict, Gray, continued his rush toward the guard, and he was downed with a bullet in the head. Thornton was dead when he arrived in Gallinger Hospital and Gray died last night.

"In Thornton's pockets was an improvised 8-inch dirk, which had evidently been fashioned in the machine shop," Capt. Barnard said. "The guard deserves credit for the way he frustrated the attempted escape. It was the only thing he could do. Had he attempted to subdue them, they would most certainly have killed him. Both were desperate men.

"The men started their attempt to flee when they rushed past the guard in the dormitory and ran through the door which is always kept unlocked. Brown was not in the guard tower at the time and he confronted the men near the tower."

Thornton was sentenced here on June 7 after his attempt to hold up the bank. Gray, who had served a term in Leavenworth, was sentenced last May 10, for assault with intent to rob. When they entered the reformatory, Gray gave his address as 618 Fifty-sixth street northeast, and Thornton as 925 N street northwest.

Five Men Entombed In California Tunnel

Livermore, Calif., Aug. 28 (U.P.).—Five men were trapped by an earth slide tonight in a tunnel of the gigantic San Francisco municipal water project. They were entombed between Mocho shaft and Valee, in the Coast Range tunnel, near Livermore. Eleven escaped unharmed when the earth slide started.

Rescue crews were driving in from both sides in an effort to get the men out before they suffocated or were crushed.

60 PILOTS PROTEST PRIZE MONEY SPLIT

Threaten to Quit Races Unless Closed Course Cash Is Doubled.

Cleveland, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—More than 60 pilots at the national air races tonight signed a petition to withdraw from competition unless demands were met for doubling the prize money in closed course events.

A committee of three, headed by E. M. (Matty) Laird, Chicago plane builder, was appointed to present the petition to L. W. Greve, president of the national air races, and demand an answer by 11 o'clock tomorrow morning when the daily pilots' meeting is held.

Laird did not sign the petition, but the other two members of the committee, Les Miller, Los Angeles, and Dr. J. E. Owen, Asheville, N. C., affixed their names.

All the signers were men, though several women were present at the "indignation" meeting where the petion was started after dissatisfaction had been voiced with the stakes offered for closed-course events. Among the well-known names on the list were Doug Davis, Atlanta, Ga., speed flier, and B. O. Howard, Kansas City and Chicago mail pilot.

The pilots at their meeting contended that $28,000 was the total stake posted for closed-course racing and that if this was doubled they would still be getting practically only half of the $100,000 advertised in prerair race literature of the National

Blast Ruins Home; Suspect in Hospital

Explosion in Ohio Hurtles Timbers Through Walls of Houses Nearby.

Conneaut, Ohio, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—An explosion of undetermined origin today wrecked the home of Martin Garrity, East Main road, sending a pillar of flame hundreds of feet into the air to add destruction to the mass of twisted wreckage.

Less than two hours later a man who gave his name as Angeli Rioli, 33, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital at Erie, Pa., suffering from severe burns about the hands and face. Conneaut police and Ashtabula County deputies said he refused to talk, but that as soon as he is able to leave the hospital he will be arrested on a charge of arson.

The explosion shattered windows for a radius of 400 yards. It hurtled heavy timbers through the side walls of adjoining houses and forced police to halt traffic on Route No. 20 for two hours. The Garrity family had left home some time before the blast occurred, but C. M. Butts, a neighbor, was cut by flying glass.

Razor-Slayer of 2 Women In Baltimore Dies of Poison

Baltimore, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—A despairing man, who left a note to his father saying "this is the only way out" and then killed two women last night by slashing their throats with a razor, died early today from effects of a poison tablet he had taken before he broke his back in a jump or fall from a railroad train.

The man, who told police he was William Mosely, of Middleboro, Ky., admitted he killed Mrs. Grace Gregory and Miss Eileen Pritchard, but declined to say why he had done it except to say, "I had an argument with my sister Grace."

He was discovered several hours after the women were slain, lying beside the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks, some distance from the home where he and the women lived.

The killing was witnessed by a terror-stricken child, 5-year-old Bobbie Evelyn Pritchard, who screamed, "Don't kill my mother" as Mosely hacked the women with his razor. Dry-eyed, but with a face blanched with horror, she quietly told police "Daddy done it."

The relationships of the women, Mosely and the child had police puzzled.

The child said Mrs. Gregory was her

HITLER HOPES ARE BLASTED BY VON PAPEN

Declares Nazi Leader's "Recklessness" Bans Coalition Rule.

FORCE THREATENED AGAIN TO KEEP PEACE

Munster, Germany, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Chancellor Franz von Papen, addressing an assembly of Westphalian farmers today, thrust aside all possibility of receiving Adolf Hitler's national Socialists into a coalition government.

His speech was a bitter attack on the "impulsive recklessness" of the Fascist chief, and in the course of an outline of the present government's economic program he indicated unmistakably the cabinet has no intention of relinquishing power for months to come.

This speech had been awaited for days and the audience was eager for the official version of the government program, but before he touched upon economics, the chancellor turned a broadside against the Nazis.

View on Nazi Penalties.

Referring to heavy penalties recently imposed by special courts for political violence, he declared:

"I recognize no principle of justice which is usurped by one class or party as an instrument of combat. That is a Marxist conception which I reject even if it is advocated by the Nazis, for it is a blow in the face of every German and an offense against the Christian conception of justice.

"The impulsive recklessness manifested by the Nazi leader is ill suited to his claims for leadership in government. I do not accord him the right to consider that the minority which follows his orders of itself constitutes the German nation, nor the right to look upon all other Germans as outlaws."

Threat of Force.

The attack had surprised most of his audience into silence. The chancellor plunged ahead into the government's determination to adminis-

Enquirer's Editor Dead in Cincinnati

G. S. McDowel, 76, Was Possibly Oldest Managing Editor in U. S.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—George S. McDowel, 76, managing editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and possibly the oldest "M. E." in American newspaperdom, died early today of a heart attack.

McDowel, dean of his craft in Cincinnati, passed away a few hours after supervising the "putting to bed" of this morning's Enquirer. His death was not discovered until noon, however, when a member of the household went to his room to awaken him.

He had worked on newspapers 52 years, all the time in Cincinnati. He had been with the Enquirer 28 years, becoming managing editor in 1926. He spent ten to twelve hours daily at his desk. McDowel entered the profession in 1880 on the Cincinnati Gazette, whose editor and proprietor then was Murat Halstead, famous journalist.

NECK-AND-NECK RACE DEVELOPS IN TEXAS VOTING

Gov. Sterling Leads by 916 After Count of 900,000 Ballots.

CONTEST IN COURTS SEEMS IN PROSPECT

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Continuing its own tabulation after the Texas Election Bureau stopped for the night, the Dallas News reported that returns from previously unreported Dallas County boxes overcame Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's lead for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. The news figures, added to the bureau's last total, gave Gov. R. S. Sterling a lead of 916 votes.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The dramatic effort of Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson to regain the governor's office in Texas, approached a climax tonight as she ran neck and neck with Gov. R. S. Sterling, seeking reelection.

Repudiated by a majority of the voters of the State in 1926, when she sought a second term after serving as Texas' first woman governor, and defeated again two years ago, Mrs. Ferguson came back strong in yesterday's Democratic run-off primary. When more than 900,000 ballots had been tabulated the outcome still was in doubt.

With returns from 251 counties, 153 of which were complete, tabulated by the Texas election bureau, Mrs. Ferguson led by 493 votes. At that time the vote was 459,405 for Sterling and 459,898 for Mrs. Ferguson. It was the final tabulation of the night.

Unprecedented Election.

Nothing like it ever had happened in Texas politics. Accustomed to bitter contests for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, tantamount to election, many veteran observers had anticipated a close race, but few had expected what amounted to a deadlock.

As hours passed following the close of the polls and the lead passed from one contestant to the other, enormous crowds watched bulletin boards

Jurors at Mineola Fail in Agreement

Dismissed After Deadlock Over Fate of Three Policemen.

Mineola, N. Y., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The trial of Deputy Police Chief Frank J. Tappen and two detectives on manslaughter charges growing out of the fatal beating of a prisoner ended in a jury disagreement today.

After deliberating 17½ hours, the jury reported it was hopenessly deadlocked and would be unable to reach a verdict. Supreme Court Justice John B. Johnston, who had told the jurors the could find verdicts ranging from first degree manslaughter down to third degree assault, or acquittal, expressed regret they were unable to agree and discharged them.

The defendants who had been remanded to the custody of the sheriff when the jury took the case were released and continued in bail aggregating $38,500 pending a final disposition of the case.

Quickened Movement of Raw Materials Reported in Steel Industry; Record Coal Shipments Being Made From Southern Illinois Fields.

(Associated Press.)

Optimistic developments in business yesterday were:

Cleveland—Optimism for the steel industry, said the magazine Steel, is seen in quickened movement of raw materials and 9¾ per cent increase in the scrap iron composite.

Kansas City—Purchasing power of the farm dollar advanced five points in the month ended July 15, said the monthly review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Kansas City. It was attributed to better prices for hogs, cattle, eggs, cotton and some minor crops.

New York—High point for the current upturn in hide prices was reached Saturday on the New York Hide Exchange with a turnover in excess of 8,000,000 pounds.

Chicago—The Galesburg division of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad reported coal moving in such amounts from southern Illinois that some difficulty in keeping an adequate supply of empty cars moving toward shipping points was noted.

New York—A Stock Exchange seat was transferred Saturday at a price of $168,000, $8,000 over the previous sale.

Special to The Washington Post.

Akron, Ohio—"Up to July 1, this year, the General Tire & Rubber Co. made and sold 17.6 per cent more tires than during the same period in 1931, which up to that time had been the record for the largest number of tires made and sold in a half-year period," W. O'Neil, president of the company, announced.

Despite low price levels, the sales volume in dollars and cents for the first half of 1932 was only a fraction of 1 per cent less than in 1931, Mr. O'Neil added. The company is also striving for additional business by urging automobile owners to insure their safety by driving on good tires rather than those which have outlived their safety value.

SEVERE FIGHT ON IN STREETS

All of Nipponese Local Forces in Defense.

Tokyo, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Because of anxiety in high quarters over what is regarded as growing tension in Japanese-American relations, Vice Admiral Kichisaburro Nomura has been directed to sail from Yokahama next month on a good-will mission to the United States.

He is probably Japan's best-known naval officer, with a wide acquaintance in America, having served as naval attache at the embassy in Washington from 1915 to 1918, and as aid to the Japanese delegation to the Washington Disarmament Conference in 1921 and 1922. He commanded the third fleet in Chinese waters during the recent Shanghai conflict, and lost an eye as a result of injuries in the bombing of Hongkew last April.

His present mission is a result of what high naval officials delsignate as "loose talk" on both side of the Pacific concerning the possibility of conflict between Japan and the United States.

Navy Looks to U. S.

It is worthy of note that while army officials at present directing the policy in Manchuria consider Soviet Russia in their calculations, the navy looks across the Pacific toward America.

Although navy officials make no comment, lay experts and the newspapers have expressed concern over the announcement that the United States fleet is to remain in the Pacific through the winter.

Admiral Nomura is expected to tell his American colleagues that the Japanese navy is anxious at least to maintain peace and to promote an understanding by America of Japan's position in the Orient.

As for the army, rumors are current that arsenals and airplane factories are working overtime, producing ammunition and planes, but trustworthy information regarding the reports is unobtainable.

Army officials are uncommunicative beyond asserting that the arsenals

Boy, 3, Is Rescued From Dingy Room

Gallipolis, Ohio, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—A 3-year-old boy, half starved, speechless and nude, was rescued last night from a dark, dingy room in which the woman with whom he lived said, he was placed "to keep out of trouble."

Officers said they learned the child had not been bathed in more than a year. He was so dirty, they said, the color of his skin could be determined only with difficulty. Mrs. Sylvester Hochter, at whose home he was found, told authorities the boy, Loren, was her husband's.

The child, his body so emaciated he weighed no more than a normal 1-year-old child, was allowed to play in the sunshine today. Dr. F. W. Shane, health commissioner, said he showed no physical defects except lack of weight and inability to talk. With proper nourishment, he said, the child probably would recover both his weight and speech.

ULTIMATUM IS SENT TO ECUADOR REBELS

Loyalists Surrounding Quito Demand Bonifaz Backers End Revolt.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Aug. 28 (U.P.).—Goverment troops surrounding revolutionary forces at Quito, the capital, sent an ultimatum to the rebel leaders tonight demanding that they abandon their movement to put Neptali Bonifaz in the presidency or prepare to fight.

The loyalist demands ended a peace parley at La Tacunga, where rebel missionaries were presented with conditions on which the government would accept a settlement.

Advices from the Quito area, where thousands of loyalists were reported concentrating, said government leaders supporting Acting President Alfredo Baquerizo Moreno had consented to reorganization of the government, but demanded of the rebels:

1. Dissolution of the Bolivar Regiment which backed the rebels.
2. Free entry for government forces into Quito.
3. Surrender of weapons held by civilian rebels.
4. Acceptance of the congressional decision barring Bonifaz from the

Mrs. Hutton Collapses Returning to Her Pulpit

Los Angeles, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, evangelist, collapsed today as she prepared to return to the pulpit of her Angelus Temple after an absence of five months from preaching duties because of illness.

Five to six thousand persons crowded the temple when, at the start of the services, her condition was announced. After the services it was explained the evangelist had recovered consciousness. The evangelist returned here two months ago from Central America suffering from a tropical ailment and was convalescing here when she suffered a head injury in a fall at her Lake Elsinore home.

Bank of England Head Confers in New York

New York, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The Times says Montagu C. Norman, governor of the Bank of England, conferred with New York bankers over the week-end and attended a conference at the Federal Reserve Bank presided over by Gov. George L. Harrison.

It was said in banking circles, the newspaper reports, that war debts and reparations did not receive first attention and that the conference discussed a wide range of topics.

AIMS TO QUIET RIFT RUMORS

Keeping Nation's Fleet in Pacific Causes Alarm.

Mukden, Manchuria (Monday), Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Bands of Chinese raiders early today attacked a number of strategic points in Mukden and forced Japanese authorities to call out all available troops and police. Severe fighting was going on in the streets at daylight.

The great arsenal, the air base and the wireless station were among points descended upon by the Chinese without warning. Fire broke out in the arsenal and in the air base and the city was thrown into panic.

The chatter of machine guns and the rumble of tanks was heard throughout the city during the night as groups of raiders numbering several hundred men each, executed well-concerted sallies on vital links in the Japanese scheme of defense.

Penetrate Japanese Section.

The Chinese even penetrated the strictly Japanese section of the city and threw their forces against the south gate of the walled city as well as launching attacks on the outskirts.

The streets swarmed with Japanese troops, gendarmes and police fighting against an enemy which often eluded them in the darkness. After daylight Japanese authorities reported that the majority of the raiders were retreating to the south.

The Japanese accused a portion of the Chinese police of joining the raiders and participating in the attack on the south gate. They also alleged that the Chinese chief of police had recently communicated with Marshal Chang Hsia-Liang, former ruler of Manchuria, and had helped to plan the raids. As a consequence, many of the police were arrested.

Air Base On Fire.

The uprising followed closely upon the arrival in Mukden of Nobuyoshi Muto to be supreme military commander of Japanese forces here and to act as ambassador to the Manchukuo government. He was quartered in a mansion formerly belonging to Marshal Chang, and a heavy guard was rushed to the scene as soon as trouble broke out.

In a severe battle near the arsenal one Japanese officer and two Manchukuo soldiers assisting the Japanese were killed. The air base was on fire, endangering extensive airplane concentrations, and the whole Mukden fire brigade was summoned.

The wireless station on the outskirts of Mukden was reported to be surrounded by 300 Chinese guerillas and Japanese gendarmes were battling them hand to hand.

Fascist Militiamen Halt Mutiny on British Ship

Naples, Italy, Aug. 28 (U.P.).—Two Fascist militiamen today were credited with quelling a mutiny by 26 members of the Chinese crew of the British oil tanker Haliotis.

While the tanker was in the harbor the crew overpowered six British officers after the helmsman had attacked and slightly injured the commander. The helmsman then ran along the deck, fell and seriously injured himself when his head struck an iron piece. The militiamen locked up the crew pending orders from the British consulate. The ship delayed departure for Laspetia.

$600,000 Blaze Ravages Sacramento River Fleet

Sacramento, Calif., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Fire raged through a fleet of Sacramento River vessels on the river here early today, causing damage estimated by River Lines officials at $600,000, of which about half was covered by insurance.

The fire was believed to have originated in an explosion aboard the steamer Flora.

Twelve craft, ranging from river packets to tugs, burned and drifted, spreading flames from boat to boat, igniting oil and gasoline on the river. Some of the vessels drifted against the steel I street bridge, connecting Sacramento with Yolo County, and burned fiercely. Damage was confined to guard piling around the piers.

The Southern Pacific Co. dispatched a fire train to the bridge, but to little avail. The fire finally burned itself out, leaving the wreckage of a dozen hulks obstructing the channel. Docks, piers and ways maintained by the River Lines also burned.

All the boats were moored on the Yolo side of the river, where Sacramento Fire Department apparatus was useless.

Several persons, eager to save their houseboat homes, swam out into the river stream and cut loose the mooring from their vessels.

HOME LOAN STOCK ON SALE THIS WEEK

Directors of System Have $128,000,000 to Sell in 30 Days.

(Associated Press.)

To provide capital for the twelve Federal Home Loan Banks, the new banking system's board of directors this week will tackle the job of selling $128,000,000 in stock.

With announcement of the sites selected for the district banks, the board said it would make arrangements in the immediate future to open stock subscription books for 30 days.

Chairman Fort hopes the entire amount will be subscribed by building and loan associations, insurance companies and savings banks eligible to become members of the system, in order that the board shall not have to put up Federal money for capital. The law, however, authorized the use of $125,000,000 through the Reconstruction Corporation for the initial capital in the event the stock is not sold.

Foreclosure Suspension.

The original stock subscription for each of the twelve institutions shall equal 1 per cent of the aggregate of the unpaid principal of the subscriber's home mortgage loans, but not less than $1,500 to each eligible member. The shares will have a par value of $100 each and will be sold to members only.

To keep hard-pressed home owners from losing their property until the Home Loan banks begin functioning, about October 15, the board has launched a move to suspend for 60 days foreclosures of mortgages held by closed banks.

Banking authorities of approximately half the States have assured the board of their cooperation, and the suspension already has been ordered so far as national banks are concerned.

District in District 4.

It was the amount of mortgages held by institutions eligible for membership that decided the geographical locations of the dozen home loan bank districts and the amount of capital for each institution.

The biggest bank will be at Newark, N. J., serving District 2, comprising New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, and capitalized at $20,000,000. The board said that in this area mortgages held by institutions eligible for membership amount to $9,500,000,000.

Following is a description of the division embracing this territory, with the amount of mortgages, location of bank and its capital:

District 4, Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina, District of Columbia, Georgia, Alabama and Florida; Mortgages, $520,000,000; bank, Winston-Salem, N. C.; capital, $10,000,000.

Famous Painting To Folger Library

(Associated Press.)

A famous 300-year-old portrait of Shakespeare by Cornelis Janssen, Dutch artist, has been purchased through a London firm of antiquarians for the Folger Shakespeare Memorial Library here. In making this announcement, Mrs. Henry Clay Folger, widow of the donor of the library, did not disclose the price.

Mrs. Folger described the portrait as "A beautiful and delicate representation of Shakespeare as he must have appeared in life."

Hurley's Accusation Of Roosevelt Scored

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Secretary of War Patrick Hurley's chrge at Providence that Gov. Roosevelt had not enforced New York laws controlling security sales today drew from Attorney General John J. Bennett the reply that the laws were being enforced strictly, although, he said, Gov. Roosevelt had nothing to do with enforcement. That, he said, was invested solely in his own department.

The attorney general said, "Secretary Hurley essays to speak about the law of New York regarding the fraudulent sales of securities without knowing that law."

Hindered by fog shrouding the Bay of Fundy, Capt. Mollison elected not to land at the municipal airport here and set his ship down easily in a field on the outskirts of Nerepis. He left New YoYrk at 10:50 a. m., Eastern standard time, and arrived at 3:45 p. m., a flying time of 4 hours 55 minutes.

Before quitting New York, he dispatched a cablegram to Amy Johnson, his wife and flying companion, saying: "Starting immediately. St. John, Harbor Grace, Croydon. All my love." She had urged him not to start until weather conditions were exactly right.

At the same time the flier disclosed he had received a cablegram from Miss Johnson, saying, "Hurry up consistent with good weather." He lost no time in carrying out her bidding.

To complicate matters further, just before Mosely died he asked police to "notify Mary and the kids." Police were unable to find to whom he referred.

New York, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—In response to requests from many parts of the country, Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, in an interview on the subject of unemployment, spoke of the success that has met the campaign of America's largest industrial unit in distributing work among its 220,000 employes.

This program has succeeded in the present emergency, in the opinion of Mr. Taylor, because it is the most equitable plan that can be devised which apportions the work available that all may have some occupation in such a fair way that it is bound to be acceptable to all.

Shortly after the serious declines occurred in the values of securities in 1929, it appeared to the management of the United States Steel Corporation that these were forerunners of eventual readjustments which would directly affect the operation of the corporation's plants and that, "unless provision against it were made, unemployment would inevitably follow."

At that time the executives of the corporation and the operating officials of the subsidiary companies arranged at a conference for the plan of rotating service of employes in order that all employes of the steel corporation would get such ratable portion of full employment as it was possible to offer.

14 Per Cent of Capacity.

Mr. Taylor said that in his own mind he had, in 1929, figured on a business relapse which might bring steel production down to 50 per cent of capacity, but neither he, nor apparently anyone else, could have anticipated a shrinkage to only 14 per cent of capacity, such as registered by the industry as a whole in recent weeks. But severe as has been this decline in business, calling for the production of only one ton of steel when under normal conditions the rate would be closer to six, the corporation has adhered to its program of dividing the work. It has been reluctantly obliged to reduce wages, but only after drastic reductions and economies had been effected in all other directions, and except for a comparative few who either left for other fields of employment, died or were retired under the pension plan, the steel family have been kept intact.

Early in the depression, however, it became apparent that this principle of apportioning the available employment among its workers would not of itself be enough to take care of all them adequately. The program was then carried into new phases by way of extending relief to employes whose resources had been seriously depleted, which Mr. Taylor classified as follows:

1. Direct relief given by the corporation.

2. Credits extended by the Corporation.

3. Relief extended by good fellowship clubs and other employes' welfare organizations.

Total of Direct Relief.

The cost of providing relief for its employes bulks large in the aggregate, but compared with the business volume of the great industrial company it is not unduly oppressive. Mr. Taylor said the directors feel it has been fully justified.

For the first half of this year, the total cost was $1,410,199—$417,902 in direct relief and $854,869 in credits extended to employes, in addition to $137,408 expended by the employes' good fellowship clubs. For a period of 21 months, from October 1, 1930, to July 1, 1932, as Mr. Taylor has previously stated, the cost to the corporation for direct relief and credits aggregated $3,063,024. Aside from this, the corporation has assisted in general relief activities in communities where its plants are situated.

Outstanding in the corporation's effort to help its employes is the gardening feature, which has met with greater success than even its advocates expected. Under the plan, the corporation attempted and has succeeded in furnishing a garden plot for every employe who expressed a desire to grow his own vegetables. These gardens are divided into two groups—small home gardens for individual employes and community gardens, which are operated by a number of employes. They total 73,511 in all, of which roughly one-third are small gardens and two-thirds community gardens. Estimated value of this garden produce, Mr. Taylor said, is $1,837,775 for 1932.

Instructors for Housewives.

The corporation has even gone so far as to provide skilled instructors to teach housewives how to can fruits and foodstuffs for their winter use, including foodstuffs which are grown in 11,032 acres of gardens in the steel mill communities, the development of which the corporation has encouraged and fostered.

The program has also been carried to a point where the Steel corporation is furnishing instructions to the wives of employes in the almost forgotten art of home baking of bread. The science of baking bread, the corporation's experience would indicate, was all but lost in the home somewhere back in the prewar days when housewives tossed aside their kneading boards for the simpler expedient of purchasing the baker's product.

In instances where cheap flour induces housewives, who are regarded as part of the Steel family, to inquire into the way to make bread, the corporation is ready with skilled instructors to teach them the art.

"We are confident that when the final chapter of this depression is written," Mr. Taylor said, "the United States Steel Corporation's record in providing work and in extending relief to its employes will be one of its outstanding achievements."

Aeronautic Association and the national air race management.

They talked further of forming an associated group of racing pilots to give the competing fliers a means of expressing organized sentiment in the running of the races.

Only sixteen of the original starting field of 21 sportsmen pilots finished the four-lap dash for the William B. Leeds Trophy and $2,000 in prizes. John Wright, of Utica, N. Y., piloting a monoplane, finished second in the point standings.

C. M. Taylor, of Little Rock, Ark., was the only one of the simon pures to cross the finish line in the second annual amateur air pilots' cruise, winning the trophy established by Charles Lanier Lawrence, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce. Five entrants started.

The Lawrence and Leeds Trophy races were run together, having been scheduled to finish here yesterday afternoon, but delayed until today because of bad weather, which grounded the fliers for the night at Wheeling, W. Va.

Pursuit Group Performs.

The race was marred by the crash yesterday of the plane piloted by Maj. James Lake, managing both flights. Both Lake and his assistant, W. D. Guthrie, treasurer of Roosevelt Field, were severely injured.

Picking up in tempo, the races today presented a variated picture of speed, thrills and stunts.

Twenty-one pursuit planes from the Seventeenth Squadron of the First Pursuit Group at Selfridge Field, Mich., gave a holiday crowd of 25,000 its first thrills of the races when they swept over the airport from Mount Clemens to join the Marine Corps Squadron from Quantico, Va.

The military fliers will be joined by two more squadrons from Selfridge Field tomorrow.

Maj. James H. Doolittle, who "washed out" his plane at St. Louis in test flights for the transcontinental speed dash, informed air race officials he will fly Russell Boardman's racing plane on Labor Day in the 100-mile Thompson trophy race.

Louise Thaden Stricken.

The transcontinental speed record holder took off for Springfield this morning to bring back the ship, which Boardman was prevented from piloting himself by injuries received when he crashed in a test flight. He returned here at 5:25 p. m. (E. S. T.), having averaged 210 miles an hour on the return trip.

Another development was the withdrawal of Russell Thaw and substitution of Charles Meyers, of Newark, N. J., as a pilot of a gull-winged monoplane designed by Robert L. Hall, for entry in the transcontinental dash and Thompson race. The ship has been test-flown at 284 miles an hour.

While en route to the races today, Mrs. Louise M. Thaden, of Baltimore, was stricken by appendicitis and forced to enter a hospital at Akron. Mrs. Frances H. Marsalis, with whom she set the new women's endurance record of 193 hours last week, continued on to Cleveland.

Mrs. Thaden's condition was described as "very good" by physicians who said she would remain in the hospital for three or four days before returning to Baltimore, probably to undergo an operation there.

Harold Neuman, of Moline, Ill., negotiated the pylons at an average speed of 86 miles an hour to win the closed course race for OX-5 and OX-6 planes, six laps around 3½-mile course.

Parachute Drop Thrills.

Despite the exhibitions of speed, the crowd's greatest thrill came in seeing H. E. (Spud) Manning fall a mile and a half through the air, a trail of wind-blown flour released from a 100-pound sack marking his path, before he opened his parachute, 1,500 feet from the ground.

Manning started his sensational leap from 10,000 feet above the airport. He first dropped head first, then back first and finally came down feet first with a jerk as his 'chute opened while he was falling at a rate of 185 miles an hour.

Johnny Runger gave the crowd a comparable thrill by standing on top a plane, his feet fastened in stirrups, while the machine made the loops and three turns of a spin. All the while he waved to the gaping spectators.

Jerry Wessling, of Toledo, Ohio, won the parachute jumping contest by landing 10 feet from the flag in front of the stands. E. F. Beckley, of Akron, won the first of two dead-stick landing contests by stopping his ship, its motor dead, 13 feet from the flag. Winston Kratz, of East St. Louis, Ill., won the other contest by stopping only 5 feet from the flag.

Brown and Stitt Finished 16th and 23d in Derby

Henry Brown and E. W. Stitt, Washington entrants in the Atlantic wing of the Transcontinental Air Derby, finished sixteenth and twenty-third, respectively, according to Associated Press dispatches from Cleveland.

"Flying Family" Waits On Isle, Weather-Bound

Port Menier, Anticosti Island, Quebec, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The "flying Hutchinsons" spent the first weekend of their aerial trip to Europe in this quiet lumbering center.

Grounded by unfavorable weather reports, George Hutchinson, his wife, two children, a crew of three and a cameraman still were accepting the hospitality of Port Menier tonight, four days after their arrival from St. John and New York. They will leave for Labrador when flying conditions improve.

BYRD TELLS INTENT OF ECONOMY LEAGUE

Seeks to "Return Country to Sanity" in Spending of Taxpayers' Money.

Boston, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The United States has already spent $6,000,000,000 on World War veterans and will spend $21,500,000,000 by 1945 if payments continue under the present law, says a statement issued today by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, chairman of the national committee of the National Economy League.

"The thought exists in the minds of many citizens of this Commonwealth that the aim of the National Economy League is to attack all veterans," said Byrd. "The contrary is the real truth. What this league proposes to do will benefit the great majority of the veterans.

"The league itself is made up largely of veterans. It is inconceivable that such patriots as Calvin Coolidge, Alfred E. Smith, Gen. Pershing, Newton D. Baker, Admiral Sims and Elihu Root could take part in any movement, as they have in this, that would not be fair and just to the veterans.

Would Aid Real Veterans.

"These gentlemen have joined this movement for economy in government as a patriotic duty. The object of the league is to help end the depression by putting an end to our wild Government money spending. It is simply that the $14,000,000,000 of expenditure is one-fourth of the total income of the 120,000,000 people of this country. The local, State and Federal Governments take one dollar out of every four that the citizen earns. The country can not stand this for long.

"By organizing the generally inarticulate majority—millions of voters in congressional districts—this league will war to bring the country back to sanity in governmental money-spending, and it will not be stopped by the selfish interests which are misleading the veteran and the citizen as to the true purposes of the league.

"The league also will benefit the real war disabled veteran who is being gradually lost sight of by the rapidly increasing number of civil life disability veterans.

Smith Blames Big Taxes.

"The 'pension' ranks will be swelled in the years to come by tens of thousands of these civil life disabilities and the Government will not be able to pay the bill.

"However, expenditures on account of veterans are only a part of the whole story. In the aggregate the local governments have been the worst offenders in extravagance. Hundreds of millions of dollars could be saved in the multitude of Federal governmental agencies and in State and local governments if the sound reorganization of these bodies, which have consistently been defeated the last 20 years, could now be put into effect."

A letter from Alfred E. Smith was made public with Byrd's statement, in which the former New York Governor blamed excessive taxation as one of the causes of the trouble the country is now experiencing. He expressed the hope the league would "succeed in bringing all classes of people to an understanding that underlying a part of the trouble we are going through at the present time is excessive taxation, and they should direct themselves to the elimination of every form of waste in the expenditure of governmental funds to the end that taxation may be reduced, capital may more freely flow into trade and commerce and that widespread unemployment be relieved."

Saloon Statement Denied by Cannon

Says He Did Not Declare He Would Back Hoover, Conditionally.

(Associated Press.)

Bishop James Cannon, jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, said in a statement last night that "to safeguard this country from the saloon" he holds to be "an utterly impractical proposition, if the liquor traffic is again legalized in the several States."

Bishop Cannon said he had been misquoted in a dispatch from New York Friday on his arrival from Europe which stated:

"Bishop Cannon said he would not vote in the presidential election 'unless Hoover gives assurance that he will safeguard the country from the saloon.'

"If I get a definite guarantee from President Hoover that he will safeguard the countrry from the saloon I will vote for him. If I don't get such a guarantee my dry friends and myself will not vote for him."

In his statement Bishop Cannon said:

"Not only did I make no statement as to how I would or would not vote, but I certainly made no reference as to how my friends would vote."

presidency on the ground he is a Peruvian.

Reports from Quito said the departure of rebel representatives for La Tacunga to treat with the Loyalists followed a telegraphic conference between the Bonifacita leader, Carlos Frelle Larrea, who reportedly has assumed executive power in the capital, and Commander Tapia of the Pichincha battalion, who arrived at Ibarra en route to Quito.

Tapia told Larrea that the Pichincha battalion, the Calderon artillery regiment and 1,000 volunteers were advancing on Quito, together with southern forces, ready to attack insurgents. These forces will refuse to recognize any government except that of Baqueirzo Moreno, Tapia said. He added that resignation of the acting president would not be recognized by Loyalist troops because it would have been obtained by force.

The governor of the province of Guayas likewise conferred telegraphically with Larrea, informing him that the coast province will not recognize any government but that of Baqueirzo Moreno.

Quito was reported to be completely surrounded by Loyalist troops, and the capitulation of the Bonifacista forces seemed only a matter of time. Minister of War Sotomayer Luna was at La Tacunga personally directing the campaign. He said he had 1,100 well-equipped soldiers ready to attack the rebels.

University Will Accept Farm Produce for Fees

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Illinois Wesleyan University will accept cattle, hogs, grain or other farm produce in exchange for tuition this fall, President H. W. McPherson said today.

The offer of "tuition in kind" is open to bona fide students from farms, and they may apply also their offerings on dormitory fees or for musical education.

A substantial premium over current market prices will be accorded by the university, which has completed arrangements with an elevator for the storage and sale of grain it may receive.

BUDGET ESTIMATES GO TO ROOP TODAY

Economy Is Still Watchword as Preparations for Supply Bills Begin.

(Associated Press.)

With economy still the watchword, estimates of the cost of running the Government during the coming fiscal year are to be laid before the budget director today by department heads. Hearings behind closed doors are to get under way after Labor Day.

Although President Hoover has not issued specific orders to department heads to slash expenses where possible this year as he did last, it is understood at the Budget Bureau that his previous instructions to pare costs to help reduce the Treasury deficit have been followed.

The President asked Congress last December for $3,942,764,614 to operate the Government during the current fiscal year, but this was augmented by about a billion dollars through appropriations for the administration's economic relief program and outlays to the Veterans' Administration for loans on bonus certificates.

The budget for this year was $52,271,920 less than for the preceding twelve-month period. Congress slashed the President's estimates of appropriations by about $100,000,000 in addition to making savings through the economy bill.

However, the demand for economy in government and reduced taxes is expected by J. Clawson Roop, budget director, to result in further cuts in the departments' estimates.

The figures will be made public in President Hoover's annual budget message to Congress in December.

Chairman Byrns, of the House appropriations committee, said he also would begin hearings in the late fall on requirements of Government departments in order to have two or three supply bills ready for House consideration immediately upon the convening of Congress.

Hull Says Halting Tariff Rise Vital

(Associated Press.)

'Assailing American tariffs and declaring the Ottawa trade agreements, "slashing United States trade to the tune of $100,000,000 to $300,000,000," were "prompted by self preservation," Senator Cordell Hull (Democrat), Tennessee, said yesterday America was duty-bound to demand a halt in the "wild increase of tariffs" at the coming world economic conference.

In a statement telegraphed to Washington and made public by the Democratic national committee, Senator Hull asserted the "huge American trade loss resulting (from the Ottawa imperial conference) is but one of many colossal losses our country has suffered in its foolish and futile effort to live by itself."

"The Bourbon administration at Washington * * * offers no basic panic relief, but only tonics and hypodermics," he said. "The Democratic platform offers a three-point fundamental remedy; namely, first, a world economic conference; second, reciprocal commercial treaties based on mutual tariff concession; third, tariff reduction to a moderate or competitive level."

VON PAPEN BLASTS NAZI CHIEF'S HOPES

ter "equal justice unaffected by political pressure."

"If necessary," he said, "I shall use force to bring about recognition of the equal rights applicable to all German citizens. I am firmly determined to stamp out the smoldering fires of civil war and to suppress increasing political unrest and political acts of violence."

Not until this point did he touch upon his economic program by means of which he hopes to set the Nation on its feet again. The bottom of the depression has been reached, he declared, and the problem now is to pour new strength into industry that the revival may begin.

Regulation of Imports.

The Cabinet, he said, does not favor any course which would attempt to make Germany economically self-sufficient, for the Nation can not turn its back upon foreign economic relationships. He promised, nevertheless, "continued moderate regulation of imports."

"Our currency must not be endangered," he said. "We desire no devaluation of the mark. We shall make no artificial experiments.

"We regard personal, private enterprise as the most important source of strength for giving impetus to our economic life. Hence, the Government opposes all interference with the sphere of private economy."

Economic Projects.

He recalled President Hoover's hopefulness concerning the recent Lausanne conference and admonished Germans also to remember that since that meeting the fruits of their labors once more accrue to themselves.

Then he announced his economic projects:

First, extension of public works, such as street-building, agricultural relief measures, house repairing, regulation of canals, for which 135,000,000 marks has been appropriated. This program would be augmented by establishment of rural and suburban settlements.

Second, revival of private industry with the purpose of returning thousands of jobless to productive tasks.

CHAMBER BODY HITS HIGH TRACTION TAXES

10-Point Relief Program Is Outlined by Special Committee.

(Associated Press.)

An "urgent need for relief from oppressive special taxes" was set forth yesterday by a special committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States as one factor to aid city passenger transportation companies and officials in fully meeting urban transit problems.

This statement was coupled with ten recommendations for assisting in solution of the problem, which were submitted by the committee to the chamber's membership for a vote to obtain the organization's attitude.

The American Electric Railway Association, in a statement issued over the signature of Labert St. Clair, advertising director, said "business prosperity is linked closely to good local transportation in all urban communities and business men should cooperate actively in seeing that it is thoroughly coordinated and maintained."

The chamber's committee found that although city transportation companies were "rendering vital public service, the public has, to a serious extent, lost confidence in their securities" and the companies suffered from a lack of credit.

The committee was headed by Chester I. Barnard, of Newark, N. J., president of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co.

Among the committee's recommendations were:

Encouragement of the efficiency of transportation agencies by public regulation, providing proper coordination and preventing unfair competition.

Development of differential rates for off-peak and short-haul service.

Fixing taxicab rates by taximeter, based on cost and a reasonable profit.

Indeterminate franchises, flexible in terms, subject to regulation.

The report showed 14,000,000,000 passengers carried in the cities by street railway and bus lines in 1930, listing 580 companies with capital investments aggregating $3,350,000,000.

West-East Plane Race Under Way

Five Fliers Vie for $15,000 Prizes in California-to-Cleveland Trip.

Los Angeles, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Five fliers seeking $15,000 prize money definitely agreed late today to start at 5 a. m. (E. S. T.) tomorrow the spectacular annual airplane race from the West Coast to Cleveland, Ohio. Reduced to five in number by withdrawal of G. H. Gotch, of Los Angeles, the contestants agreed after studying weather reports that only a dense fog over United Airport at Burbank, point of take-off, would delay the start.

The order of take-off was decided as follows: Clair Vance, 5 a. m.; Col. Roscoe Turner, Hollywood, 6:30 a. m.; Jimmie Wedell, New Orleans, 6:35 a. m., Jimmie Haizlip, St. Louis, 6:40 a. m., and Lee Gehlbach, Detroit, 7 a. m.

Vance, who plans a nonstop flight and has a slower ship than the others, chose the early hour in the hope of reaching Cleveland by dusk. Gehlbach preferred all the daylight possible in the fore part of his journey.

Legal Sanction Sought For Mine Strike Army

Gillespie, Ill., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The second offensive against operating mines in southern Illinois by strikers protesting the $5 wage scale will not be made until legal approval of the invasion is accorded.

William J. Roberts, Springfield, member of the striking miners' policy committee, said the committee today decided to seek legal sanction and was confident approval would be forthcoming for its plan to penetrate the operating area by organized pickets. He said "legal sanction meant approval by Gov. Louis L. Emmerson.

Norfolk Woman Killed By Gas Blast in Home

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Gas ignited from an electric doorbell exploded with such force today that it fatally injured Miss Annie C. Enright, 32, wrecked her third-story apartment, and trapped other inmates of the building behind warped doors.

The explosion occurred when Miss Peggy Peed, who came to visit Miss Enright, pushed the electric button at the apartment entrance. Thrown back by the force of the blast, which splintered the door, Miss Peed suffered a severely injured hand and other less serious injuries.

PRESIDENT STUDIES ROOSEVELT SPEECH

Withholds Public Comment; Will Return From Camp This Morning.

Skyland, Va., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Close attention was given by President Hoover today to the Seagirt speech of his Democratic opponent, Gov. Roosevelt, as it appeared in newspapers brought to his Rapidan camp by a Marine airplane carrying the White House mail.

The Chief Executive had no public comment to make upon Roosevelt's assertions, including his charges that the Republican leadership was attempting to satisfy both wets and drys and that deliberate misinterpretation had been made of the Democratic prohibition plank.

Aids at the mountain camp said Mr. Hoover, aside from reading the morning papers and going over that part of the White House mail requiring his personal attention, devoted himself entirely to rest. Close by during the day, however, were various of his nongovernmental friends and advisers representing more than half a dozen industries and professions. Among them was one of the President's closest personal friends, Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, who has just been chosen chairman of the central committee designed to speed national recovery through coordinating business and governmental efforts.

The Chief Executive's party plans to return to the Capital early tomorrow, rising shortly after daybreak, so Mr. Hoover may reach his desk by 9:30 o'clock.

Ely Raps G.O.P. Tariff Policy and Rum Plank

Danbury, Conn., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts, in an address here today assailed the Republican tariff policy and characterized the G. O. P. prohibition plank as one adaptable to the needs of individual candidates in an address today before Connecticut Democrats.

The Bay State governor appeared with Gov. Wilbur L. Cross of Connecticut before the annual outing of the Thomas F. Reilly Association, an organization of Fairfield County Democrats.

Factory Lighting Survey Published

(Associated Press.)

In a study of lighting conditions in 1,300 establishments, published yesterday, the Women's Bureau said the problem of providing proper light for workers "has not been solved."

Natural lighting was pronounced unsatisfactory in 619 of the 1,300 because of inadequacy or glare. Artificial lighting was found unsatisfactory in 691 cases for the same reasons.

The bureau advised employers to "decide that the adequate light with protection from glare is essential for your plants and then secure it." State departments of labor were informed: "There are standards for good lighting that have been tested by experience—guessing is no longer necessary," and were advised to adopt lighting codes as thirteen States have done.

Lawyer Who Labored 22 Years to Pay Debts Dies

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—A near lifetime of labor, dedicated to the satisfaction of a strict code of financial honor, has ended with the death of Gray Carroll, Tulsa lawyer.

Carroll died yesterday in a Topeka, Kans., hospital after two years' illness.

Twenty-two years ago in Little Rock, Ark., Carroll, a middle-aged lawyer, found himself in financial straits. His liabilities totaled $24,702.24. His assets were negligible.

Two decades later he settled his debts at an approximate cost of $50,000.

Soon he began repaying his debts—some large, some small. For each dollar he owed he returned $1.26 in interest.

Of course, he didn't have to. A convenient bankruptcy action would have absolved him from any legal liability.

Carroll also had borrowed $500 to complete his college education. Forty-eight years later he also repaid this debt which with 6 per cent annual interest had amounted to $7,500. In every instance he paid this 6 per cent interest on the debts. It took him 22 years but he did it.

On May 31, 1928, his last debt was paid. He decided to invite a few friends to dinner. One hundred and twenty-five attended.

"My debts are paid. I am happy. What else matters?" were the words Carroll used in dismissing his liquidation.

G. O. P. CRITICS RAP SPEECH AT SEAGIRT

Moses and Beck Ridicule Roosevelt Claims for His Wet Program.

New York, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Republican critics of Gov. Roosevelt's prohibition speech asserted in statements tonight that the Democratic candidate was "a little Lord Fauntleroy not grown up in political stature," and that the Democratic platform prohibition plank was incapable of being put into operation."

"Gov. Roosevelt says that the States themselves can suppress the saloon," said Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire. "He hasn't given any proof of that under his administration."

Representative James M. Beck, of Pennsylvania, asserted the Southern States "will never ratify the kind of repeal which the Democratic party, in order to get office, is now insincerely proposing."

The "main difference" between the Democratic and Republican platforms, in regard to prohibition, Senator Moses said, is that "the Democratic platform is incapable of being put into operation."

He charged that the "high priests" of whom the governor spoke were in his own camp. "With them is a motley crew of ghost dancers and ghost writers," he continued, "and the latter are fast getting the governor into trouble."

The Beck statement, distributed with that of Senator Moses by the Republican national committee, said the governor's address "reassured the American people by admitting he had learned something since his fifth year."

"To many he is a little Lord Fauntleroy," he said, "chosen for his attractive personality and charming manners in preference to that stalwart leader of the Democratic party who so bravely upheld the standard of his party four years ago, favoring prohibition reform, when Mr. Roosevelt was silent and Mr. Garner was blocking all attempts in the House of Representatives to secure such reform by legislation."

Educational Policy Is Revived by Soviet

Moscow, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—On the eve of the new school term, opening September 1, the central committee of the Communist party has issued an edict making a significant departure from the communistic theory of education followed since the beginning of the Soviet regime.

Hereafter the work of individual students will be emphasized, the theory of group instruction to be abandoned in elementary and secondary schools.

Michelin Scion Dies in Crash.

Paris, Aug 28 (U.P.).—Etienne Michelin, 33, eldest son of the multimillionaire rubber tire manufacturer, was killed today when his plane crashed in a storm near Clermont Ferrand. Michelin was piloting when the craft hit the Puy de Dome Mountainside while flying in fog.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH CANDOR QUESTIONED

Representative Hull, Illinois, Says Differences With Plank Concealed.

(Associated Press.)

An assertion that Gov. Roosevelt "failed utterly in candor" in his Seagirt, N. J., speech of Saturday was made yesterday by Representative William E. Hull, of Peoria, Ill., in a statement through the Republican national committee.

"He concealed the fact," Hull said, "that the prohibition plank adopted by the Democratic national convention, and which he has indorsed 100 per cent, was not the plank which originally was drawn by his representatives and his spokesmen at the Chicago convention."

Hull added that when the "Roosevelt plank" was "thrown overboard" the "Smith plank was appropriated by the Roosevelt forces." He asked that the governor attest to the accuracy of stories Hull said were current at the convention that this was done to keep Alfred E. Smith from trying to stampede the convention with his wet plank.

"It would seem significant," Hull said further, "that the Seagirt address, dealing solely with prohibition, which many regard as the chief issue in this campaign, was broadcast only within a radius covering the wet States of the Eastern Atlantic seaboard.

"Could it have been that in his candor Gov. Roosevelt did not desire this speech to be heard by the people of the Democratic South and West?"

Former Senator Henry C. Hansbrough, of North Dakota, national chairman of the League for the Modification of the Volstead Act, issued a statement terming the Seagirt address "a frank, straightforward statement of the vexatious prohibition question."

"The governor," he said, "leaves no room for doubt in the mind of any one in regard to the liquor plank of his platform or the position of its nominees.

"It means the outright repeal of the eighteenth amendment, and because of the considerable time necessary for the enactment and ratification by three-fourths of the States of such legislation, favors immediate modification of the Volstead act so as to legalize the manufacture, sale and taxation of beer and other beverages within the purview of the Constitution.

"As conceded by any well informed antiprohibitionist, beer and a tax on beer is possible of attainment within six months, whereas it is doubtful if repeal can be effected within two or three years."

Immigration Drop Stressed by Hull

U. S. Practically on Selective Basis, Commissioner Says Over Radio.

The United States is now practically on a selective basis in admitting aliens, Harry E. Hull, Commissioner of Immigration, said last night in a radio address over the National Broadcasting Co. network.

The commissioner described the work of his bureau in the prevention of illegal entry and deportation. "Instead of 1,000,000 aliens coming here to reside as was the case before the law of 1921," he said, "last year only 35,576 aliens were admitted, while during the same period 103,295 aliens left this country."

"It is quality and not quantity that is the deciding factor when an alien is admitted under the present regulations," he said. "This great change is to a great extent the result of the action of the President."

JAPANESE GOOD-WILL AGENT TO VISIT U. S.

(Associated Press.)

China's boycott against Japanese goods and shipping has been fanned into new life by the Japanese army's invasion of Jehol Province, and the seizure of Chinese customs houses and Chinese postoffices in Manchuria.

The entire Yangtze Valley is now reported to be involved in the boycott, which spread from Shanghai to Nanking and threatens to involve the entire republic in spite of efforts of Japanese officials to persuade the Nanking government that the movement is a violation of the peace made at Shanghai after the Japanese invasion.

This boycott is one of many steps taken by the Chinese to embarrass Japan in Manchuria. The embargo placed by the Chinese postoffice on mail posted in China for Manchurian points, and the refusal of the Chinese postoffice to route European mail through Manchuria is an embarrassment to Japan and the new Manchukuo government established in Manchuria.

WARFARE IN CHACO MAY BE RECOGNIZED

Neutrals Considering Action; Coalition Cabinet Is Near in Bolivia.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Although official information is lacking, sources close to the government assert that neutral South American countries seeking to arbitrate the dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay are considering an opportunity to declare those two nations in a state of war.

Such action, it was said, would be based on The Hague convention stipulation that neighboring countries may declare the existence of a state of war between two disputants even if war has not been formally declared.

This would mean that to maintain their neutrality, neighboring countries would prevent passage through their territory of any war material destined for the disputants.

La Paz, Bolivia, Aug. 28 (U.P.).—President Daniel Salamanca prepared today to form a coalition cabinet in order to afford his government unusually strong political backing in the Chaco territorial dispute with Paraguay. Foreign Minister Juan Mario Zalles and Minister of Education Alfredo Otero, both of the Liberal party, have resigned within the last 24 hours, and the resignations of the remainder of the ministry were expected tomorrow.

Policy May Stay Same.

The change in ministry was not expected to alter Bolivia's foreign policy in view of the national unity existing regarding Bolivian claims to the Chaco. The two resignations followed by several days the retirement of Luis Abelli as Bolivian Minister at Washington.

The Bolivian government made public a new note to the five neutral nations, in which Bolivia's stand that she is disposed to suspend hostilities in the Chaco territory providing her present military positions are recognized, was reiterated.

(Paraguay has declared that the military positions should revert to the status quo existing on June 1, before the latest series of encounters between the military outposts of the two countries occurred. Paraguay's contention was upheld by the United States and eighteen other Pan-American republics.)

Note Unacceptable.

Asuncion, Paraguay, Aug. 28 (U.P.).—Bolivia's new note to the five neutral nations reiterating her stand that she will permanently suspend hostilities in the Chaco territory only providing her present military positions there are recognized, was interpreted here today to mean an end to peaceful negotiations.

The note, it was indicated, is absolutely unacceptable to the Paraguayan government, and many observers considered that war between Bolivia and Paraguay is inevitable unless the neutral nations, led by the United States, can exert sufficient pressure to force Bolivia to recognize the Pan-American declaration that military conquests do not give territorial rights.

Finance Unit Formed By New York G. O. P.

New York, Aug. 27 (A.P.).—Jeremiah Milbank, Eastern treasurer of the Republican national committee, announced today the formation of a New York Republican finance committee to raise campaign funds in this State, with Henry Rogers Winthrop, of New York, as chairman.

At the same time it was announced that Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the President, has accepted honorary chairmanship of a woman's committee to further the candidacy of Trubee Davison, Assistant Secretary of War, for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. The committee will hold an organization meeting at her home tomorrow.

NECK-AND-NECK RACE DEVELOPS IN TEXAS

and eagerly snatched up extra editions of newspapers. The candidates themselves watched the returns tensely, declining to forecast victory or admit defeat.

Many persons believed that unless the tide of votes turned definitely in favor of one candidate, the Democratic State executive committee would be called on to decide the issue with its official canvass of returns on September 12, prior to the State Democratic convention in Lubbock, on September 13.

In the event the committee's decision were not accepted, the whole matter might be thrown into the courts. The contesting candidate might seek court action to prevent the placing of the name of the successful candidate on the general election ballots to oppose Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls, the Republican nominee.

Possible groundwork for such contention was laid prior to the run-off primarily when supporters of Gov. Sterling charged that at least 100,000 illegal ballots had been cast in the first primary. Election officials watched the voting carefully in the run-off, spurred by Gov. Sterling's offer of a reward for conviction of persons violating the State's election laws.

Fergusons Silent.

At her home in Austin Mrs. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson, were deluged with messages from friends. Sterling watched returns at his residence in Houston.

While declining any direct comment on the returns as tabulated by the election bureau, Ferguson put a number of stenographers to work in efforts to gather results of the election directly from the 254 counties of the State.

He said the available returns showed the standing to be "so close I do not care to make any comment at this time." Previously, when Mrs. Ferguson had a small lead, he had forecast victory for her. Mrs. Ferguson stayed close to her home.

The race for three Congress-at-large places was relatively unchanged, with two men indorsed by "wet" organizations and one "dry" leading.

George B. Terrell, of Alto, had 440,735 votes, to 361,790 for Pink Parrish, of Lubbock, in the contest for place No. 1.

For place No. 2, Joseph Weldon Bailey, of Dallas, son of the deceased former United States senator of that name, led J. H. (Cyclone) Davis, of Sulphur Springs, 482,100 to 335,208.

Sterling P. Strong, of Dallas, had a lead of 431,692 to 366,706 over Joe Burkett, of San Antonio.

Terrell, Bailey and Burkett were classified generally as "wets." Strong is a former Texas State superintendent of the Antisaloon League.

Patrol Boat Crippled In Collision With Whale

New London, Conn., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The Coast Guard destroyer Wood returned to the New London base today with a heightened respect for whales, and in need of repairs.

Officers reported the destroyer collided with an 80-foot whale at 7 o'clock last night while the Wood was on patrol 40 miles west of Nantucket Lightship. The craft came out of the encounter with its bridge supports wrenched and its starboard propeller bent.

The whale, officers said, disappeared after striking the Wood broadside.

DEFEATS SUFFERED BY BRAZIL REBELS

Rio de Janeiro, Aug 28 (A.P.).—Federal troops in the field against the rebels of Sao Paulo reported today that they had captured the town of Reibeiropolis, an important highway junction 60 miles northwest of Bury.

The day's bulletins also announced capture of the railway stations at Eleuterio, Atalivanoguerira, Prata, and Mococa, on the border between Sao Paulo and Minas Geraes. Fourteen federals were killed and 28 wounded in these engagements.

Belated dispatches from the town of Manaos said federal naval forces had won an engagement 800 miles up the Amazon. The federals commandeered two cargo vessels, armed them and sank two similar ships which had been commandeered by the rebels at Obidos.

Montevideo, Uruguay, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Rebellions involving upward of 3,000 armed men have occurred in several centers in the Brazilian state of Rio Grande do Sul, dispatches from that section said today, and the situation with regard to the federal government is grave. A number of state officials were said to have fled from Porto Alegre.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Ezequiel Ubatuba, representative of the Sao Paulist rebels, declared today that Gen. Tasso Fragoso had recently resigned as chief of staff in the Brazilian army because of his unwillingness to bombard the city of Sao Paulo from the air or to destroy her munitions factories.

Unfrocked Pastor Uses Phonograph for Choir

Stiffkey, England, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Using a phonograph to supply music for hymns, the Rev. Harold Davidson, banned rector of this parish, today fulfilled his promise and held an open-air religious service attended by 300 persons.

Wearing a lounge suit and a clerical collar, he emerged from the rectory onto the lawn while a friend carried the phonograph. He had been forbidden by the Bishop of Norwich to officiate within the church after being convicted of immorality by an ecclesiastical court.

W., B. & A. Hearing Comes Up Today

Annapolis City Council to Consider Further Plea for Franchise.

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., Aug. 28.—A further plea in behalf of the Washington, Baltimore & Annapolis Electric Railroad for a continuance of the privilege of operating its cars through a certain section of the city in order to make connections with the Claiborne-Annapolis Ferry Co.'s steamers, will be heard at a special meeting of the city council tomorrow.

The railroad, which is in receivership, is now operating in the city under a 60-day extension granted by Judge Coleman in United States District Court of Baltimore, its 25-year francise having expired last July 1. The extension expires August 31. Two months ago eight of the ten members of the council opposed renewing a franchise on any grounds. Since then local civic organizations launched a movement in the cause of the railroad, believing that discontinuance of the service will be detrimental to business interests of the city, as well as the railroad and ferry lines.

A committee of these groups presented a petition to the council, embracing the proposal of the railroad abandoning its West street terminal and establishing a union terminal at the Bladen street station and permitting cars to move over about two-thirds of College avenue, thence to the foot of King George street to the ferry pier.

Herriot and Samuel Hold Island Parley

Conversations Are Linked to World Economic and Arms Conferences.

St. Heller, Island of Jersey, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Delayed by dense fog, Sir Herbert Samuel, British home secretary, came to this Channel island today for an ostensible holiday with Premier Herriot of France and Minister of the Interior Chautemps.

The quay was lined with police when the steamer Isle of Jersey docked four hours late and Maj. Gen. E. H. Willis, lieutenant governor of the island, was on hand to welcome Sir Herbert. The French statesmen were on the way from Havre.

Although it was officially stated the meeting would have no political significance, well informed persons suggested that the conversations might cover preliminary matters in connection with world economic and disarmament conferences.

It was also pointed out that Sir Herbert and M. Chautemps hold similar posts in their governments, by which they might find common ground for a discussion of passport and immigration problems, and it was not forgotten that the three might exchange views on Anglo-French trade relations, with special reference to the recent imperial conference.

SCIENTISTS HOPING TO SEE SUN'S CUSPS

Nature of Flaming Layer Is Important in Proof of Einstein Theory.

Boston, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Something literally "new under the sun," observations of Old Sol's cusps, will be attempted by astronomy during the total eclipse on Wednesday.

The cusps are the tips, or horns, of the thin crescent of sun visible before the moon completely covers the sunlight. Cusps offer a source of information about the nature of sunlight which hitherto has not been used, although attempts at such observations have been made. Haze has thwarted previous experiments.

These crescent tips are in effect like sputtering trains of gunpowder. Although nothing is visible there to the eye, the astronomer's spectrum of glass prisms shows an array of colors just where the sun's edge is sinking beneath the moon. These colors are thought to come from the lowest layer of the sun's atmosphere, 1,000 miles or so deep.

Determining the nature of this flaming layer is scientifically important, and one of the things that might be translated some time into practical values in some earthly laboratory. It is of immediate importance also in Einstein's proofs of relativity, for the measurements of wave lengths of light, taken at the cusps, are expected to be useful in calculating more accurately the bending of light relativity attributes to the sun's mass.

The nature of this layer has been studied at eclipses by another method known as the flash spectrum, which, however, is limited to about six seconds' duration in each eclipse; three just as the last edge of the sun passes behind the moon, and three seconds more when it emerges.

The new method does not give as much of the layer, but it can be employed for 20 to 30 minutes. Total eclipse is not needed.

Higher Atlantic Rates Said to Be Planned

New York, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The Times says shipping men are planning to increase passenger rates on transatlantic travel at a conference in Europe next October, to be held probably in Paris or London.

Last April rates were lowered approximately 20 per cent. As a result, passenger traffic increased on most lines, but not sufficiently to equalize the lowered income, the paper says.

Mrs. Gann Leading Brother on Stump

Drops in Town for Brief Visit Between Talks for Republicans.

(Associated Press.)

Mrs. Dolly Gann is beating her brother, Vice President Curtis, to the campaign speaking stumps. Returning yesterday from Oakland, Maine, where she addressed a Republican rally, Mrs. Gann announced she would go to Iowa this week to speak at Shenandoah on Thursday. Meanwhile, Mr. Curtis left the Capital yesterday for a rest at Providence, R. I., where he will visit his daughter, Mrs. Webster Knight, for a week or ten days before opening his campaign.

Speaking dates for Mr. Curtis remained to be announced, but the national committee is preparing to use him almost as extensively as in 1928 when he traveled to every section of the country.

Mrs. Gann was enthusiastic about her trip to Maine and said she would return there later for another speech.

"Things are looking fine," she said. "There is wonderful spirit and I am told the meetings are better attended than ever."

Five Hurt in $150,000 Blaze at Tarrytown

Tarrytown, N. Y., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Four firemen and one civilian were injured today in a fire that swept through Orchard street in the heart of the business section.

Damage was estimated by the fire department at $150,000 and several business concerns were burned out. Five families were rescued by Policeman George Higle, who discovered the fire beneath a stairway under a fruit store.

Striking Farmers' Picket Lines Wane

All Trucks Are Halted, but Some Are Permitted to Proceed.

Des Moines, Iowa, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Lines of farm holiday pickets remained posted around Des Moines today, but the number on duty was smaller than yesterday when the strikers made their first attempt to shut off farm produce from this central Iowa market.

All trucks attempting to pass the highway blockade were halted and the pickets endeavored to persuade the drivers to turn back. In some cases they were successful, but in others the truckers insisted on their rights and were permitted to proceed market-ward with their wares.

Only about a half dozen roads were picketed as holiday leaders contented themselves to holding their ground over Sunday, intending to spread their activity to about a score of other important farm market routes tomorrow.

400,000 Involved In British Walkout

Spinners Must Quit if Weavers Do Not Go Back to Work.

Manchester, England, Aug. 28 (A.P.) Today was the gloomiest Sabbath the north country has known for years as thousands of striking textile workers faced the fact that they would not plod their accustomed way to the machine tomorrow.

With the entire weaving section involving upward of 200,000 workers, engaged in the walkout, the ominous fact was that the equally large spinning section also must make a decision as to whether to take a 10 per cent wage cut or quit their jobs. They will vote on the matter within the next ten days.

Even if the spinners decide to accept the slash, observers commented, it can hardly help them long because without the weavers the entire industry must slow down and finally cease. Lancashire has no use for spun produce that can not be woven.

TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCHES

New York, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Charges that foreign countries producing nitrogen are making a combined attack on the nitrogen industry of the United States were made today by Francis P. Garvan, president of the Chemical Foundation. Garvan emphatically opposes acceptance of the recent proposal that 40,000 tons of Chilean nitrate be shipped here in exchange for 2,500,000 bushels of wheat held by the Federal Farm Board.

Sacramento, Calif., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Policies of the Veterans of Foreign Wars on prohibition, the bonus, and numerous other questions are scheduled for determinatoin at the thirty-third annual encampment of the organization, which formally begin here tomorrow.

Marshall, Ill., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Victor C. Miller, Clark County State's attorney, prepared tonight to bring first degree murder charges against H. C. Moor, 31, Robinson (Ill.) high school teacher, for the slaying of his wife, Marjorie, 32. Miller said Moor, jailed since the killing August 14, confessed last night he shot his wife because of long-standing incompatability between the pair and because he was in a "highly nervous state" due to overwork.

Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—A boycott of all "contract jumpers" among motion picture talent is recommended in a resolution adopted by the Association of Motion Picture Producers in semiannual meeting here. The resolution is construed as hitting at such players as James Cagney, who Warner Bros. studios allege walked out on his contract with them, and Ann Dvorak, who left Hollywood with her husband, Leslie Fenton, and now is in Europe preparing to make a picture there.

Chicago, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Funeral services were held today for David R. Ettinger, president of the Riggs Optical Co., who was found poisoned Thursday in a New Orleans hotel room. A coroner's jury returned a suicide verdict. He had been missing four days when the body was discovered.

Chicago, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—R. J. Blair, a pilot staff member of the airship Puritan, left here today for Akron, Ohio, to join W. T. Van Orman. The pair will pilot a balloon in the international balloon races at Basel, Switzerland, on September 26.

New York, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform announced today it will ask every candidate for the United States Senate and House his or her stand on unconditional repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

What Today Means to You

"VIRGO."

If August 29 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a. m. to 11:45 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 3:40 p. m. and from 9 p. m. to 10:15 p. m. The danger periods are from 8 a. m. to 9:15 a. m. and from 6 p. m. to 8:30 p. m.

Astrological influences on August 29 will be of too negative a nature to expect much energy to be put forth. A great many duties will be pushed forward to another day's program. Danger of wasting time and money. Young people will fall under pleasant but seductive influences during the evening hours, with worry to their elders.

The child born on this August 29 will be a practical little body and interested in the bread and butter side of life. It will not be an idler, and, whether at work or at play, will try to excel. It will have active sympathies, live emotions and warm affections.

If born on August 29, you are always on the "qui vive" for something new or something different for your time and efforts. You like most things, or most work, until the newness begins to wear off, and then the sameness or routineness gets on your nerves. This, of course, does not spell progress or success for you, although it does spell change. Sheer boredom often makes you a quitter when it would be to your advantage and to the advantage of others if you would be a more consistent sticker. You do not possess a monopoly of the being "fed-up" feelings, only most other people take in the good and the bad in their stride without changing so often their step or course.

Your affections for people are very warm while they last, but you love with such intensity that it soon burns out. Your life will be full of passing friends, and there will be many who will hate to give you up. There will be many times that you will wish that you had that loyalty of self which can exact the undying loyalty of others. Your own heartaches will be sharp but short of life. A little more discretion would, at times, save you much embarrassment.

Successful people born August 29:

Oliver Wendell Holmes, physician and author.

Charles Jasper Glidden, automobilist.

George F. Hoar, senator.

Benjamin F. Reinhart, artist.

George W. McCrary, statesman.

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

POISON IVY.

A CONSIDERABLE number of plants are, in some degree, poisonous to those who handle them. Of these poison ivy is much the most troublesome, though its relative, poison sumac, is responsible for some skin diseases.

The poisonous principle of poison ivy is a resin which is found in all parts of the plant, but which is most abundant in the young, rapidly growing twigs, branches and leaves. When the resin touches the skin of a person who is sensitized to it—one who is capable of being poisoned by it—there is a local inflammation which is characterized by intense itching. Presently the red, itching area is seen to be occupied by crops of small pinhead blisters, which push their way through the skin. When these small blisters burst a watery fluid oozes out and a raw surface is seen. If the area becomes infected with pus germs the oozing fluid changes to pus. The opinion that poison ivy blisters appear on any skin over which this fluid has oozed is not correct, according to the evidence in hand.

The patient can tell by the itching whether his disease has run its course or not. When it stops the eruption is on its way to recovery.

One method of prevention consists in thorough washing of the exposed parts. If this is done promptly and thoroughly it is reasonably effective, otherwise it fails. The custom is to wash the skin with warm water and laundry soap. Washing in ordinary gasoline—some brand that contains no lead—is effective.

Exposure may consist in wearing gloves, shoes or garments that have been soiled with the poison within the last several years. Once the resin gets into a garment it will remain there, capable of poisoning for several years.

Soiled garments can be freed of it by washing in gasoline or in hot soap suds followed by thorough rinsing. Vaccination to desensitize by any of the several methods proposed is both dangerous and ineffective. Washing the acute stage eruption with plain gasoline, free from lead, is generally all that need be done.

One of the best remedies for the eruption in this stage is a one to five watery solution of ferrous sulphate. This is applied freely and frequently. Another is a one to twenty watery solution of permanganate as an eradicator.

YOUR ADVICE IS GOOD.

Mrs. L. P. H. writes: Tell F. L. D., whose child has silky hair, to do everything she can to stimulate the scalp and encourage a stronger growth. Brushing and massage and, of course, perfect cleanliness—and more brushing. Good health should be listed first.

REPLY.

I concur in your advice. It is good, whether or not it succeeds in changing silky hair to hair that is coarser and stronger.

NOTHING NEED BE DONE.

A. B. C. writes: What should be done for a varicose vein of the kind called varicocele?

REPLY.

Nothing.

MAY MEAN MANY THINGS.

D. M. C. writes: What does it mean when a person's ankles sometimes swell? Is this a sign of some form of rheumatism?

REPLY.

It may be due to heart disease, kidney disease, severe anemia, varicose veins, milk leg, wearing tight garters. In hot weather the ankles are likely to swell from no ascertainable cause. In these circumstances the circulation in the feet, ankles, and lower legs is poor because of some organic fault, but the fault is so small that accepted methods of testing do not show what it is.

SWELLING ANKLES.

Mrs. J. M. writes: I am a woman 43 years of age. My feet swell during hot weather, so much so that at times I am unable to put on my shoes.

REPLY.

Swelling of the feet during hot weather may not indicate organic disease. It is said to be due to local acidosis. Use cold leg baths and vigorous rubs night and morning. Be certain your trouble is not due to heart disease. Bright's disease, anemia, varicose veins, pressure on the veins, in the legs, or in the pelvis.

HAVE LABORATORY TEST.

M. P. writes: Do swellings under the eye indicate any kidney disease?

REPLY.

Often but not always. Why not let laboratory tests decide?

DIABETIC DIETS.

S. C. writes:

1. Can a diabetic eat honey without harm?

2. Can he drink alcoholic liquors without harm?

3. If he has colitis, is it all right for him to take lactose?

REPLY.

1. Probably not, though there are some who hold otherwise.

2. I don't think so. Some ten or more years ago some authorities allowed diabetics who were on starvation diet to have alcohol. We hear but little of this method in recent years.

3. Lactose is milk sugar. In the present state of our knowledge it seems best for diabetics to avoid all sugars, at least to avoid using them in any appreciable quantities.

In white dimity with blue dots was this model carried out. The beruffled neckline and brief sleeves were of crisp white organdie with picot edge.

You can make it in about an hour's time. Just a few seams to run up on the sewing machine. Have the edge of the ruffles finished professionally with picot edge. Or if you prefer, you can buy some ruffling already to sew to the dress.

There are dozens of schemes for this cute model so enticingly cool.

Style No. 2838 is designed for sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Size 4 requires 1½ yards of 35-inch material with ¾ yard of 35-inch contrasting. Price of pattern 15 cents. Our new fashion book is ready!

Fashions for women and children, beauty hints, &c. This book will help you look your best and save money. Price 10 cents a copy, sent to Fashion Department, The Washington Post, Fifth avenue and Twenty-third street, New York City.

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

Warmth yet slenderness in coats for the coming winter! Notice the way the natural otter trims this dark green woolen coat. And the black woolen coat on the smaller sketch has an interesting cape and tie effect in breiteschwantz. (Courtesy of the Maison Heim, Paris.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—It's bad taste to pay attention to the happily infrequent kicks that come in the fan mail of all "public writers" invariably addressed to the editor and as invariably minus the name or at least the address of the writer. But one that I just received bears a little explanation on my part—assuming, of course, that the sender actually felt justified in writing it and was not merely using me as a defenseless vent for a nasty disposition.

'Twas about the French pronunciations I've been giving you here, usually fashon pronunciation of words we women are always reading in fashion columns or coming up against when buying pretties, and usually stumbling over. But this time I mentioned that the famous French exclamation "tiens" which indicates anything from a mild surprise to a potent fury, and several innuendoes which are impossible to explain in English, was usually comically pronounced by foreigners, the most amusing being "Tins, tins, tins."

The nearest I could possibly come in print to telling my readers the correct pronunciation was "tee-en." You see, it is absolutely impossible to spell in one language the enunciations of another.

Which is my explanation, under no circumstances to be construed as an apology, to the lovely lady who took it upon herself to write to my delightful editor and tell him all about how Dah-ray (shades of my French ancestors!) didn't know how to pronounce "tiens."

* * * *

Speaking of fifty million fan letters, better send your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for this week's leaflet while you may! Because any time that you can get a whole leaflet full of individual and artistic designs for nothing—well, anyone who has ever paid an artistic $50 or so for one won't hesitate a minute. These designs are not for dresses, you know—they are the kind of designs that are to be used for embroidery, or for decorating lamp-shades or book-covers, or, oh, just anything artistic and arty that clever fingers want to make. Better send for your leaflet before you forget it!

* * * *

How is a fur coat not a fur coat? Well, if you have been reading the Dare column as faithfully as you should, you'll know that the answer to that is—when it's a Heim model. 'Nif you want to know more about it, look at the coat I illustrated for you today with its collar, cuffs, and gilet of natural otter. This is the latest Heim model on the market—Oh, I almost forgot to tell you that it's of a lovely dark green woolen material!

I just had room to sketch the upper part of another perfectly charming Heim coat up in the corner. This is a dressier coat of black woollen, with the top part forming a cape effect over the shoulders, which ties in an unusual manner. And this top is of breit-schwantz, and the coat decidedly empire in effect. Are you with me?

Au revoir.

How to Be Beautiful

By ELSIE PIERCE

One Way to Beat the Budget Is to Know Your Clothes and Colors.

"I HAPPEN to know that her budget has been cut in half, yet the past year she seems to be dressing twice as beautifully as ever before. At least she looks twice as smart."

Perhaps you've heard that remark recently. I have. Dozens of times. Far be it from this column to sing praise of depression, but one thing it has done: It has taught women to dress more smartly and sensibly. More simply, too, which is the essence of smartness.

Dress, millinery and accessory departments all report less haphazard buying. Perhaps a salesgirl spends more time per customer than she did a year ago. What of it, if that makes for greater satisfaction? There's less experimenting, less snap judgment, and consequently less regrets in the long run. And there's less matching by memory. If a woman wants a certain shade of green, she wisely has a specimen of the color right with her, instead of only in her mind's eye. Isn't it the truth? Don't you see less clashing colors and crying shames?

A Science With the Screen Stars.

Of course, you know that clothes and colors are a science with the screen stars. And should you protest that these fortunate ones can well afford to study themselves, their lines, their most flattering shades and call in the best couturiers to show them off, let me hasten to assure you that one's yearly income does not have to run into six, nay, not even four figures. Good taste is easy to cultivate, costs nothing and saves a great deal in its own right. Careful study, too.

Do you know what lines you should wear to hide any figure flaws, what lines are most flattering to your type, what colors blend best with your skin, eyes and hair? Study yourself, borrow some secrets from the screen stars if you wish, and cultivate that knack of wearing clothes that fit.

In Hollywood I was delightfully impressed with the way Peggy Shannon wears her clothes. That knack, that knowing air. Hang them on her and she pours in, makes a good gown look better, and no gown can look bad on her. Of course, posture and carriage are exremely important, but we'll take that up another time.

In the meantime you can send a self-addressed, stamped envelope for my color chart if you wish, and another for my Fashion Hints. One covers flattering colors and another flattering lines. And talking about lines, Virginia Bruce and I were discussing just that subject when I saw her and she said, "How many women, I wonder, know that crepe for evening makes one look twice as slender, and satin twice as wide." Types of materials and their influence on lines are also discussed in my Fashion Hints Bulletin.

Elsie Pierce, famous beauty lecturer, will answer any questions on beauty you wish to ask her. Address Miss Pierce, in care of The Washington Post, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Culbertson on Bridge

By ELY CULBERTSON

421.

MASTERS OF BRIDGE.

HENRY P. JAEGER, of Cleveland, who is known to his thousands of bridge friends throughout the United States as "Hank," although comparatively a young man, is a veteran of the games of Whist, Auction and Contract. So many victories has he achieved in national competition that when I asked him for a list of his past triumphs, he merely stated he had won several national championship titles and a number of sectional titles, and added that he had probably played in 100 tournaments in the last seven or eight years. His most important national title was as a member of the Cleveland Whist Club team, which won the national Auction team-of-four championship at Hanover in 1926, and his victory in the pair championship at Auction of the American Bridge League at Chicago in December, 1927.

Mr. Jaeger has been prominently identified with tournament Bridge both as a player and an official. As a player, he delights in interesting end-play situations and squeezes, and is one of the quickest to recognize the situations thus developed.

An interesting hand which he played was the following in which his partner had carried him to a Grand Slam a trifle too ambitiously. The hand, of course, was made by a squeeze, and this squeeze is particularly interesting because it could not have been developed by simply running down the diamond suit.

South—Dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ 8 7 4 ♡ A K 2 ◇ A Q 9 7 2 ♣ K 4
♠ 9 3 ♡ J 8 5 4 3 ◇ 10 8 3 ♣ 10 7 5	N W E S	♠ Q 10 6 5 ♡ Q 6 ◇ 6 4 ♣ Q J 9 8 6
	♠ A K J 2 ♡ 10 9 7 ◇ K J 5 ♣ A 3 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	3◇	Pass
4NT	Pass	5◇	Pass
6◇	Pass	7NT	Pass
Pass	Pass

West opened the Ten of clubs, and the King in Dummy won the first trick. When Mr. Jaeger studied the hand, he saw that its success required at least a finesse, and that it could only be made then by means of a squeeze. Therefore, the spade finesse was taken immediately, and the Knave held the trick. The Ace of spades and King of hearts were next played. Four rounds of diamonds were then played, East discarding two clubs, South a heart, and West also parting with a heart. All suits except diamonds were still safely stopped by the East and West players. The next trick was taken with the spade King in the closed hand, and West discarded another heart. Dummy was put in with a heart, and the following situation developed:

	♠ — ♡ 2 ◇ 9 ♣ 4
♠ — ♡ J ◇ — ♣ 7 5	N W E S	♠ Q ♡ — ◇ — ♣ Q J
	♠ 2 ♡ — ◇ — ♣ A 3

When the last diamond was played from Dummy, both East and West had to discard clubs, as East had to retain the spade Queen and West the heart Knave. South thus won the last two tricks with the Ace and trey of clubs.

An exhibition of faultless play permitted the fulfillment of the contract.

Today's Pointer.

No matter how accurate a player's system may be, there is always an element of guess. The guess may be as to the location of an outstanding honor or as to which of two suits offering equal possibilities should be developed.

Tomorrow's Hand.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

West—Dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ J 6 5 4 ♡ Q ◇ K Q ♣ K 8 7 6 4 3
♠ — ♡ A K 10 6 5 2 ◇ A 8 6 3 ♣ Q 9 2	N W E S	♠ K 10 8 3 2 ♡ J 8 4 ◇ 10 7 5 ♣ J 5
	♠ A Q 9 7 ♡ 9 7 3 ◇ J 9 4 2 ♣ A 10

Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

TABLE AND OTHER FATS.

(United States Department of Agriculture.)

The feeling of satisfaction that follows a good meal is due largely to the fats which were either a part of the food itself or were added to it for flavor, nutritionists of the United States Department of Agriculture say. It is fat that gives staying power to food, and fat, together with starch and sugar, gives to food its energy value. In low-cost meals, fats are therefore important.

To the good cook, butter flavor is a desirable addition to almost any vegetable dish and to many desserts. The use of butter for seasoning may seem extravagant. But butter is just now a remarkable food bargain, and two level tablespoons, or about 1 ounce, will season a family-size dish of cabbage, carrots, snap beans or peas.

The margarines are used the same as butter and possess the same energy value. Some of them are made of fats and oils churned with milk or butter or cream, to give the butter flavor. Salad oils also add energy value and staying qualities to a meal. In the small quantities required for French dressing or for use as "melted fat" in a muffin recipe, they are economical.

It is probable that we depend on some of the cooking fats, even in summer, to a greater extent than we realize. What is more useful for giving flavor to vegetables than bacon fat or salt park? Panned and fried foods, too, are cooked in fat. Salt pork contributes needed fat and flavor to the diet at small cost, for it has many different uses which add variety to cooking. It keeps easily and can be obtained almost anywhere at any time. Use salt pork in chowders and bean or pea soup, and in stuffings.

Bacon fat for frying or for seasoning, as well as crisped bacon broken in small bits, give a smoked flavor along with the tang of the salt. Fried tomatoes, onions, potatoes—almost anything from the frying pan, tastes better for the flavor of bacon drippings.

Lard is the cheapest fat for use in frying whenever the bacon flavor is not desired, and it is preferred for piemaking by many housewives. It is true that because of poor frying methods, fried foods have come into some disfavor, but frying, properly done, gives a flavor and texture not obtainable by any other method of cooking.

Finally, there are the pies, shortcakes and other desserts in which butter or other fats are used in the main part of the dish or in the sauce. In all these ways fats are added to the low-cost diet to give it staying power, energy value and variety of flavor.

HAVENGA TO REACH WASHINGTON TODAY

South African Minister of Finance to Be Presented to President.

N. C. Havenga, minister of finance of the Union of South Africa and leader of the South African delegation to the recent Ottawa conference, will arrive in Washington today. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Havenga, and they will be the guests of the South African Minister and Mrs. Eric Louw at the legation.

Mr. Havenga has had an interesting and distinguished career. As a young man he fought through the Boer War and was military secretary to Gen. Hertzog, the present prime minister of South Africa. He was badly wounded on three occasions, the last just before the end of the war, when he was taken prisoner by the British troops and confined in a prison hospital.

After the war Mr. Havenga took up the practice of law in the Orange Free State, took a prominent part in politics, and later became one of the leaders of the Nationalist party. After the defeat of Gen. Smuts' party in the 1925 election, Gen. Hertzog became prime minister, and Mr. Havenga was appointed to the cabinet as minister of finance, which post he still occupies.

It is said to be mainly due to his strong attitude that South Africa is still on the gold standard, South Africa and the United States being today the only two countries outside of Europe maintaining the gold standard in the full sense of the term. During the last session of the Union Parliament, Mr. Havenga introduced a bill to provide for a distinct and separate South African currency based on the decimal system. He was one of the outstanding figures at the recent Ottawa conference.

Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Havenga will be presented to President Hoover by Mr. Louw.

FOREIGN NEWS IN BRIEF

Berlin, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Premier Mussoloni of Italy and Premier Herriot of France are among 41 recipients of a gold medal bestowed by President von Hindenburg in connection with the celebration of the Goethe centenary at Frankfort-on-Main, it was learned today.

Biarritz, France, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, who arrived here recently after inspecting the British Mediterranean fleet, are guests at the home of Mrs. Lawson Johnson. Lady Furness (nee Vanderbilt) is a member of the house party. Last night the royal visitors danced at a night club until 4 a. m.

Ashridge, England, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Fifty years from now the world will be divided into huge territorial, industrial units and the greatest of these will be the British Empire, Lord Melchett told the students of Bonar Law College today. Lord Melchett, son of the industrialist, foresaw a United States of Europe, Russia as an extremely prosperous state and a Far Eastern federation. "But the greatest of all the units will be the British Empire," he said. "It has practically everything man desires."

Leipsic, Germany, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Nine thousand carrier pigeons fluttered into the morning today, marking the opening of the Leipsic fall fair. In a speech opening the fair, Raimund Koehler, chairman of the directorate, advocated some form of labor conscription as essential to enable the farmer to produce cheaper food for home consumption.

Moscow, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Five prosperous peasants, including a woman, have been sentenced to death in the Ukraine, dispatches recounted today, for the theft of grain from collective farms in three districts. Harvesting of the Ukraine wheat crop has been lagging badly and "shock brigades" embracing 100,000 peasants have been recruited to bring up the work to last year's mark.

Madrid, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Gen. Jose Sanjurjo, facing a life sentence for rebellion against the government, is not the "greatest enemy of the republic," Minister of Justice Alvaro Albornez said today, and further investigation might reveal that others played a great role in the recent monarchist revolt.

Rome, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Proudly wearing their black shirts and carrying real rifles, 10,000 boys from 14 to 18 years of age encamped in a tent city outside Rome today for the fourth annual encampment of the Fascist Avanguardisti, or advance guards.

Berlin, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Franciscе Zwirko, Polish flier, won the international round-Europe flight, which started from Templehof Airdrome last Sunday and ended there today with a 300-kilometer speed race. Fritz Morzik, the German who won last year and the year before, was second, only three points behind the winner. Reinhold Poss, another German, was third.

Rome, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Wages in the Italian cotton industry have been reduced 10 per cent for all workers except those already receiving the minimum scale. This is one of several measures enacted by the government and mill operators in an effort to revive the industry.

Officials Review Plane Maneuvers

Crowd of 5,000 Watches Army Craft at White Sulphur Springs.

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—For the purpose of determining a base of operations in the Middle South, Army planes have begun maneuvers over this region.

The Eighth Pursuit Group, consisting of the Thirty-third, Thirty-fifth Thirty-sixth and Fifty-eighth Service Squadrons of the Air Corps of the Army, and the Second Bombardment Squadron, under command of Maj. E. Jones, of Langley Field, Va., are participating.

The Eighth group was inspected and passed in review yesterday before Gov. John Garland Pollard of Virginia, Gov. I. C. Blackwood of South Carolina, Adjt. Harry Rene Lee, U. S. A., of Nashville; Dr. George Bolling Lee, and other prominent visitors here for Lee Week. Gen. Henry Lee is a grandson of Robert E. Lee. The review and maneuvers were witnessed by 5,000 spectators from nearly every section of the country.

FAIRFAX RUM DRIVE ENSNARES 15 MORE

Several From Washington Among Those Arrested; Hearings Today.

Police of Fairfax County, Va., continuing their drive against violators of the State prohibition law, arrested fifteen persons over the week-end who are being held for a hearing this morning before Judge Paul E. Brown, of the County Trial Justice Court.

Monte de la Vegas, 32, of 1835 K street northwest, Washington, was arrested on the Lee highway and charged with transportation and possession of ardent spirits. A small quantity of alleged liquor was seized in his car. Capt. E. D. Middleton, 54, of Melrose, Mass., was arrested on the Washington-Richmond highway on a charge of driving while drunk.

Prudie Munch, 25, of Fairfax Station, was arrested at Sandy Run and charged with possession of ardent spirits; Richard Lambert, 50, of Vienna, was arrested at Andrew Chapel for driving while drunk; William Tolson, 22, of 745 Sixth street southeast, and J. O. Puffenberger, 26, of 652 I street southwest, Washington, were arrested at the Bull Run Dance Hall and charged with possession and transportation of ardent spirits; T. Bell Flemming, 30, of Falls Church, was arrested near Falls Church and charged with driving while drunk, and Frank Javins, of Springfield, was arrested for possession of alleged liquor.

Descending on the Bull Run Dance Hall, the police arrested the following persons and charged each of them with being drunk and drinking in public: Preston Kerns, 21, of Nokesville, Va.; Douglass Wingfield, 20, and Raymond Lambert, 19, of New Baltimore, Va.; Maurice Gregg, 20; Lewis Evans, 20, and Claude Evans, 17, all of Bull Run Postoffice.

John B. Warfield, 65, Dead in New Orleans

New Orleans, La., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—John B. Warfield, 65, member of a prominent Maryland family and nephew of Mrs. Johns Hopkins, wife of the noted benefactor of the university of that name, died here today.

Mr. Warfield formerly had been general manager of the American Tobacco Co. in the Far East, but recently was connected with a real estate firm here. He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Genevieve Moody, a native of Virginia, and a daughter, Miss Mabel Warfield. He was a nephew of the late Gov. Edwin Warfield of Maryland.

Hope Is Virtually Gone For Lee and Bochkon

Barre, Vt., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The citizenry of Barre and Montpelier today virtually had abandoned hope for the safety of Clyde Lee and John Bochkon, missing since Thursday on an attempted flight to Norway that was to have advertised this granite center to the world.

The fliers, who left the Barre-Montpelier Airport on August 23, took off from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, last Thursday for Oslo, Norway, and have not been heard from since.

NEW POETS' GROUP FILES ITS CHARTER

League, Incorporated, Plans to Establish Offices in Southern Building.

The Poet Laureate League of America, founded by Earl Alphonse Cuevas, known as Carl Cave in poetry circles, filed a charter of incorporation at the District recorder's office Saturday. The league will establish offices in the Southern Building. The charter was signed by the founder, Mr. Cuevas, and Orion Marie McKee and Myrtle R. Patterson, all well-known in Washington pen circles.

The main objectvie of the league is to create a national poet laureateship. It is the contention of Mr. Cuevas that poetry is the most important and the most neglected of the noble arts. "Scholarships for painting and sculpture have been granted freely," he said, "music and drama have been sponsored lavishly, but our libraries and museums are filled with moth-eaten manuscripts whose antiquity alone makes them priceless."

The Poet Laureate League will confine its efforts entirely to contemporary poets, disregarding the poets of the past and future, it was pointed out.

Besides the creation of a national poet laureateship, the platform of the league contains eight other planks. They are: To find poets of promise; to find patrons for poets; to foster poetical activity throughout the Nation; to create a poet laureateship for each State; to organize active branches of the league throughout the Nation; to assist in the placing and publishing of poetical works of merit; to build or acquire a suitable home for the poets of Washington to be used as national headquarters; to build a Palace of Poets in the National Capital, where all works of American poets may be found and studied.

Judge Cameron McRae Dies in North Carolina

Fayetteville, N. C., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Judge Cameron F. McRae, 58, of the North Carolina superior court bench, was stricken with a heart attack here today and died almost immediately after being taken to a nearby hospital.

Judge McRae, who had made his home in Asheville for many years, came to Fayetteville, his birthplace, yesterday and was a guest of his sister, Mrs. J. Lilly. He planned to leave late today for Mocksville, where he was scheduled to open a term of court tomorrow.

Boone Descendant Dies; Mother of Woman Here

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Mrs. Virginius P. Smith, who said she was a great-granddaughter of Daniel Boone, died last night at her home after a long illness. She was 75.

She was born in Harrisburg, Pa., the daughter of Garvin H. and Sarah Ann Boone. Among her children are Mrs. Anna E. Grier, of Washington, D. C., and E. Stanley Smith, of Sarnia, Ont. Three other children live in Lancaster.

HYGIENE MEETINGS OPEN HERE OCT. 27

Eastern Regional Conference to Draw Delegates From Several States.

The Eastern regional social hygiene conference will be held here October 27, 28 and 29, it was announced yesterday by Dr. William A. White, president of the Social Hygiene Society of the District of Columbia. These meetings, Dr. White stated, will bring to Washington national and international authorities in the fields of public health and social service, as well as delegates from a dozen States.

The tentative program covers a wide range of subjects. Thursday, October 27, there will be a joint meeting with the American Public Health Association, which will be holding its annual convention in Washington at the same time. Luncheon Thursday will be devoted to the White House conference on child health and protection.

Friday morning will be given over to a series of round table discussions for members of parent teacher associations, nurses and social workers.

Waters Declares B.E.F. Is Not Dead

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Mayor Eddie McCloskey arrived by plane tonight from New York, where he conferred with Commander W. W. Waters on plans for reorganization of the Bonus Expeditionary Force.

Fourteen B. E. F. camps have been established in various sections of the country, McCloskey said, and others will be set up during the autumn and winter.

"Waters remains national commander of the bonus army," said the mayor, "and he makes it plain the B. E. F. is not dead. He will attend the national convention of the American Legion in Portland, Oreg., September 12. After that, the B. E. F. will be revamped. Each State will have its division.

"Waters told me that he hopes it will never be necessary to again march on Washington, but that if it should be necessary, he will lead his men to the Capital again."

Moors Attack French Troops.

Paris, Aug. 28 (U.P.).—A band of desert Moors attacked a mobile French column penetrating Mauretania, killing six French officers and soldiers, the colonies ministry announced today. At least 39 Senegalese and French Moors were missing after the clash.

SOUND DOLLAR BENEFITS.

Comparatively few Americans are in a position to realize how many evils they escape, in the midst of other depression worries and losses, by the stability of the dollar. They suffer no difficulties in settling international balances, or in securing ample funds for traveling, and are relieved of all necessity of resorting to ancient forms of barter in order to exchange goods. The nations that have been forced to abandon the gold standard have so demoralized international trade that 33 countries are impounding foreign exchange.

It is difficult to appreciate what this means to countries which are much more dependent than the United States upon export and import trade. Attempts to apply old methods of exchange in connection with present-scale trade encounter many difficulties in the way of exactly matching amounts, leaving an over-lapping balance on one side or the other, and there remains the same adjustment dilemma as in connection with the original transaction. Without a fixed medium of exchange it is naturally impossible to trade except on wide and fluctuating margins, which must inevitably increase costs to consumers.

The scarcity of foreign exchange in Germany and her neighbors in Central Europe has resulted in the formation of organizations to facilitate business that must be done without money, notably the International Goods Clearing Co. of Bremen, which is, as its name indicates, a commodity clearing house. It is a cumbersome and wasteful method of doing business, and one in which the merchant can not possibly figure upon what an exchange consignment will cost in the fluctuating currency of his home city.

A few localities in the United States have resorted to informal barter of products when money was scarce, and the Farm Board has negotiated some wholesale international exchanges for its wheat, but there has been no necessity for any general adoption of the practice. Foreign exchange is always available, and there have been no restrictions put upon gold for export or even for hoarding purposes when desired by timid souls. American business suffered drastic losses in volume, but has never been subjected to the annoyance, delay and heavy discounts that depreciated currency and exchange curbs are causing in all parts of the world.

The extent to which some countries have been forced to barter is shown in a recent survey detailing many transactions, such as German iron-ware traded for Grecian currants and Turkish almonds, Canadian wheat for German jewelry, Krupp machinery for Danish cattle, German chemicals for carpets from Persia and nitrate from Chile. Such business could only be carried on successfully if all nations were organized on the Soviet plan with government control and ownership of commodities. When thousands of merchants are concerned the manifold difficulties that result are readily understood.

Exchange restrictions in Europe not only hinder business, but travel from one country to another is seriously handicapped. Most of the nations restrict the maximum allowance of foreign currency to a traveler to less than $100, a requirement that entails the necessity of securing a new supply at every international border and often adequate funds are obtained only after vexatious delays and searching inquiries. Residents of these countries find that travel is almost prohibited, due to monetary regulations. In various South American countries, likewise, the earnings of American enterprises and payments for goods can not be sent abroad. Freedom from any unusual restriction on money is one of the reasons why visitors from abroad so frequently express the opinion that Americans do not appreciate in how many ways they have been spared the worst effects of the world depression.

PROTECTING THE FORESTS.

The large urban centers of the United States hear very little of forest fires and fear them not at all, yet they caused a loss last year of $67,000,000 and for those who live on the borders of the great timber reserves they often bring danger and serious loss. No less than 186,894 forest fires were reported in 1931, and the areas burned over amounted to more than 50,000,000 acres.

The areas in the United States under some form of organized fire protection now exceed 400,000,000 acres. On these lands 61,854 fires burned 6,378,000 acres, but over 87 per cent of the burned acreage was on unprotected land. The damage to protected areas amounted to $17,000,000, while the loss suffered on unprotected lands ran to a total of more than $50,000,000. These figures take account only of tangible losses, not including destruction of scenic, wild life or watershed values.

It is remarkable that the carelessness of campers in this enlightened age of Boy Scout training should continue to be responsible for so many destructive forest fires, yet camp fires last year caused 5,236 forest fires. Incendiary fires, however, were almost three times as numerous. A report of the Department of Agriculture just issued shows that, in contrast to human carelessness and cussedness, fires from such causes as locomotive sparks, lumbering fires and lightning decreased in number.

According to the Forest Service, about 617,000,000 acres need fire protection, but 35 per cent of this area is without organized protection. In addition to protecting the national forests Federal forces now cooperate in the protection of 200,000,000 acres of State and privately owned land. Over $7,000,000 is expended in this work alone, of which the Government supplies $1,532,000. All the money spent for forest fire control is insurance well invested. What the losses each year would amount to if it were not for the vigilance of the Forest Service can not be estimated.

THE ROOSEVELT NAME.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Governor General of the Philippines, son of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, is returning to the United States from Manila next month to take part in the Republican campaign for the reelection of President Hoover. It is charged in some quarters that he has been recalled to emphasize the fact that Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt is only distantly related to the late President.

It seems incredible in this day of newspapers and radio broadcasting that there should be any confusion regarding the family relationships of Gov. Roosevelt, who heads the Democratic ticket. He is neither a brother nor a son of the late President, but is a distant cousin. Gov. Roosevelt, of course, has never made any claims whatever to any other relationship, yet many persons throughout the country have the impression that a close family relationship exists.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the late President, following the nomination of Franklin D. at Chicago, received hundreds of letters and telegrams of congratulation, many of them from admirers of the former President, felicitating Mrs. Roosevelt upon the selection of her husband to run again for the presidency. The poll of a big excursion train from the South recently disclosed that a large proportion of the voters believed that the Democratic nominee was the son of the late President.

Notwithstanding this impenetrable ignorance, however, the number of voters who might vote for Franklin Roosevlet for the sole reason that they suppose him to be former President Roosevelt or his son or brother will not be large. If they are so devoted to the memory of the great "T. R." they will hardly cast Democratic ballots. Col. Theodore, junior, would be wasting time if he should come from the Philippines merely to distinguish between Roosevelts. He comes, evidently, because he is an ardent Republican and an admirer of Mr. Hoover, and because it is not in the nature of the son of Theodore Roosevelt to be absent from a scrimmage.

NEW ENGLAND'S ECLIPSE.

In addition to the unusually complete arrangements that are being perfected for scientific observation of the eclipse of the sun next Wednesday, unprecedented efforts are being made to popularize and commercialize the celestial spectacle. The total eclipse will be visible only in a diagonal strip across New England about 100 miles wide, and the moon will completely hide the face of old Sol only about as long as it takes to run a Kentucky derby.

For months the New England Council, chambers of commerce, railroads, bus lines and hotels, in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts have been advertising the advantages of their respective places where visitors can be comfortable and at the same time be able to see absolutely nothing of the sun for about 100 seconds on the afternoon of August 31. Many thousands of folders have been distributed to educate possible visitors and entice them to a region where they may see the sun turn to a black spot with only a luminous fringe.

The railroads will run special excursions and the boat trips will be made from New York in special steamers chartered for the occasion. While New England, as a center of culture and keen on science, is, of course, primarily interested in the eclipse from the knowledge that may be gained which will be advantageous to mankind, incidentally it is expected that visitors scientifically inclined or merely curious will leave behind several million dollars.

The cities directly in the totality path that have been most active in making known their advantageous locations for viewing the eclipse are Provincetown and North Conway, Mass.; Wolfeboro, Littleton and Whitefield, N. H., and Fryeburg, Me. Hotels within 100 miles of the shadow find that they can do no less than provide motor bus excursions that will take their guests into the 100 per cent zone. Mount Washington advertises that its broad top will accommodate many amateur observers.

The few spots in the four New England States that are not enticing visitors, but are firmly telling them to keep their distance, are the scientific rendezvous where telescopes and all manner of scientific instruments are being set up to secure innumerable photographs and make observations of various kinds. The astrologers announce that, quite unlike all the rest of the northeastern part of the United States, they will be too busy to entertain visitors or answer questions. To offset the possibility that the day may be stormy several of the scientists, both amateur and professional, have arranged to go above the clouds and take airplane observations and photographs. So the world do move, and even a sun obscured by both moon and clouds cannot escape.

The path of totality, starting from the Arctic Circle, will travel from northwest to southeast in a strip a little wider than from New York to Philadelphia. It will travel, so the professors say, at the rate of 34 miles a minute, passing over the North Magnetic Pole, across Hudson Bay, James Bay and the province of Quebec, striking New Hampshire squarely, but touching northern Vermont and southern Maine and later the northeastern corner of Massachusetts, and ending in the middle of the Atlantic Ocean. While the complete blackout is reserved for those who live in New England, or can journey there next Wednesday, a partial eclipse will be visible throughout the entire United States, and the majority of the population will have to be satisfied with that.

FREE TRADE DELUSIONS.

Three free trade theorists—an American, a Canadian, and a Britisher—entertained the volunteer solvers of world problems at the Williamstown Institute of Politics last Wednesday. These theorists are all professors, of course.

The Briton, Dr. T. E. Gregory, of the London School of Economics, seemed to regard tariffs as immoral, if not obscene. He deplored the Ottawa conference, regarding it as a "great disaster from a moral point of view." The British system of governments were actually setting up tariff preferences, which he looked upon as not only directly opposed to the idea of free international trade, but a humbug so far as beating down tariff walls was concerned. Britain, he said, possessed "moral prestige" before it swung over to protection, but now, if at the forthcoming world economic conference it should protest against high tariffs, it would be charged with the same immoral practice. Dr. Gregory concluded that the world economic conference had been killed by the Ottawa conference.

Prof. John E. Williams, of Harvard, asserted his belief that the Ottawa conference would not bring about serious injury to Canadian-American trade, because geography, culture, transportation and finance were influences which imperial preference could not overcome. Nevertheless, he believed that the Ottawa conference might do some good by scaring the world into making reciprocal tariff concessions, thus making a start toward tearing down tariff walls.

Dean Corbett, of McGill University, charged that the Smoot-Hawley tariff was responsible for the Ottawa conference. The American tariff had caused keen resentment in Canada, which thereupon had led off in the movement to build out of 100 per cent British materials a new heaven and a new earth. Dean Corbett added, however, that fear of a loosening of the bonds of empire had had something to do with bringing about the Ottawa conference.

Free trade is the ideal of these idealists, and tariffs are their abomination. But what would they think if Canada should abolish tariffs, and permit the United States to take over its market. They are all willing, apparently, that the United States should be swamped with foreign goods. They accept without reservation the idea that the Smoot-Hawley tariff is too high, ignoring the fact that since Britain left the gold standard it is possible for British products to drive American goods out of the American market. Some schedules in the American tariff must be raised if American producers and workers are to remain employed.

It may be highly immoral for nations to protect their own people and thus disappoint free traders who would like to see the whole world on a common level, but nations enjoying a high standard of living refuse to bring their citizens down to the level of over-populated pauperized countries. England found that the "moral prestige" of free trade was working her ruin. She decided to protect herself, after immense harm had been done by the delay in adopting a protective tariff.

The free trade idealists overlook the fact that world trade will not amount to much if all nations are reduced to a common level of poverty. The development of greater trade within the British empire will benefit the United States by raising the prosperity of the British dominions. The threatened collapse of England was a menace to the welfare of the United States. England's prosperity under a protective tariff can not fail to increase Anglo-American commerce. Dickering for mutual tariff concessions will be indulged in, usually without much effect in any direction, but world trade will increase regardless of tariffs if the nations have common sense enough to build themselves up by attending to the welfare of their own people.

WE PAID TO HELP

From the Saturday Evening Post.

There is a kind of indecent plausibility in saying, as some Europeans do, that when we sent supplies and ammunition to the allies, we charged for them, whereas when we sent man power to consume our own supplies and ammunition we charged nothing, so that now, when we talk of collecting a debt owing us for supplies and ammunition, we seem to be setting a value upon things over the value of the lives we ourselves were willing to contribute.

When we began to send man power into the allied countries—no, we did not charge for that. We were charged for it.

We were charged for moving American soldiers across the sea in British ships, we bought pounds sterling with dollars and paid cash for that British service.

We were charged port dues for landing ships in French harbors—ships bearing our own munitions and supplies; we bought French francs with dollars and paid cash for the right to enter.

We were charged for moving American soldiers, American munitions and American supplies on French railroads to the front; we bought francs with dollars and paid cash for the privilege of getting our man power and equipment to where the war was.

Everything the allies got in this country they borrowed; for everything we got in the allied countries we paid cash. Never through all the tumult about war debts has this detail of truth been mentioned by the allied governments to us, nor by any of them to their own people.

If Bruening and Von Papen can maneuver the Hitlerites into a coalition cabinet the Nazi movement will meet its finish by smother and disintegration.

The difference between Speaker Garner's "I am big enough to handle Hoover" and "You're the boss, what shall I do?" measures exactly the distance from Uvalde to Albany.

The thing that is making business better is the realization by both wholesale and retail purchasers that it will be a long time before prices are lower and not long before they are higher.

Industrious persons, apparently having no objection to used cars, are doing their best for the new-car market by causing the disappearance of 300 to 400 Washington automobiles every month.

Montagu Norman arrived in this country incog as Professor Skinner. Are the gears set to pull England back on the gold standard?

Washington only gets an 89 per cent bargain on Wednesday's eclipse, but if you can't journey to the path of totality, cheer up, New England will have another in 33 years.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT YOUR GOLF GAME.

Golf must be played when the heart is free
From care and the mind is at rest,
Or however skillful a man may be,
He can never achieve his best.

They knew him of old as a player fine,
Able and brave and strong,
But strangely his shots were off the line
And all that he did was wrong.

"He has lost his cunning," they whispered low.
"He is lifting his head too much.
He isn't the man that we used to know
With that marvelous putting touch."

But, who bothers to think of a brassie swing
Or the way that a shot is made,
Or looks upon golf as a vital thing
When the whole world seems afraid?

Golf is a game for our happier days,
And not for these times of doubt.
There are too many cares for the man who plays
This summer to think about.

Your Neighbor Can Buy More Eggs From You if You Pay His Taxes

By ROBERT QUILLEN

ONE reason why you are hard up is because 22 cents of every dollar you get goes for taxes. Perhaps you don't hand the tax gatherer $22 of each $100 you earn, but you pay that much in some way. Much of it is added to the cost of things you buy, so you don't realize what you are doing.

Why must you pay so much tax? One reason is because you are paying for the war. The entire burden has been shifted to your shoulders.

Here is the way it was done.

During and immediately after the war, the allies borrowed ten billion dollars from our Government. The Government raised the money by selling interest-bearing bonds to American citizens.

The allies were unable to pay their debt in a lump sum, so they were given 62 years in which to square the account. Interest for that period, added to the principal, made the total a little over 22 billion. They agreed to pay it.

They have in fact paid $1,676,000,000. But they did not take one cent of that from the pockets of their taxpayers. They got it from Germany.

Did it then come out of the pockets of Germany's taxpayers? Not one penny of it. Germany borrowed that money, and as much again, from American banks.

Where did the banks get the money? They raised it by selling bonds to American citizens—and taking a fat commission for the service.

Thus, you see, American citizens furnished the money which Germany paid to the allies, which the allies paid to our Government, which our Government paid to its citizens.

But that isn't all of the story. Our Government must pay interest on the bonds sold to its citizens. And it has paid almost two and one-half billion dollars—more than twice as much as it has received from the allies.

Where did it get the extra money? By taxing its citizens—taxing them to get the money to pay them.

Now it is proposed that America cancel the debt of the allies. But if the allies don't pay, who will furnish our Government the money to repay American citizens the ten billion dollars they loaned for the allies? Why, the American taxpayer. You.

Why cancel the debts? The theory is that European taxpayers, if relieved of that burden, will buy more American goods.

But will you buy more American goods if you are forced to assume that debt? Why increase a foreigner's purchasing power by decreasing yours?

St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Change in American public opinion toward the war debts has in the past few months been second only to the change in opinion on prohibition. Until recently, the attitude of official Washington, shared by practically all the leaders of both major parties, has been that under no circumstances would the United States reduce the debts. As late as June, 1931, when President Hoover made his moratorium proposal, it took pains to state that we expected these debts to be paid in full. Collection of the last cent was still the American policy.

President Hoover, in his recent acceptance speech, while in form standing on his former policy of full collection, in fact brought the camel's nose of cancellation well into the tent by his statement that "if for any particular annual payment we were offered some other tangible form of compensation, such as the expansion of markets for American agriculture and labor, and the restoration and maintenance of our prosperity, then I am sure our citizens would consider such a proposal."

On the R. F. C.'s List.

New York Herald Tribune.

The publication of loans made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in the last ten days of July should set at rest the notion advanced by the Democratic candidate that the corporation was using its credit to bolster the big borrower at the expense of the "forgotten man." Overwhelmingly predominant in the list of beneficiaries are small banks in little towns, just the type of institution on which the "forgotten man" must rely in the conduct of his business and on whose solvency depends his salvation. Not a single bank in New York City is included and few large banks elsewhere, the number receiving more than $500,000 each being seven out of a total in excess of 300.

Hoover as a Prophet.

Kansas City Times.

Gov. Roosevelt has discussed the general issues of the campaign and the proposals of the Democratic platform in his two previous speeches. His Columbus speech, therefore, is not to be considered as a comprehensive attempt to cover the whole field. Rather, it is a discussion of the speculative boom of 1928-29, the relation of the administration to the boom, and of remedies to prevent its recurrence.

It is a powerful indictment that the Democratic nominee makes of the madness of the boom period. In retrospect, the country seems to have lost its senses. But his charge that the administration was to a considerable respect responsible, lacks evidence.

If Mr. Hoover was an accessory to the runaway stock market (which, in fact, he did his best to control after he assumed office, though without success) it was in his mistaken sharing of the universal belief in 1928 that the country was in a new era of prosperity. Gov. Roosevelt has no difficulty in establishing that, in his utterances in the presidential campaign of 1928 and for the year following the collapse of the stock market, Mr. Hoover was a rotten prophet.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sun-Baked Fan Disapproves of Bunts and Steals Too Early in a Game—Swat the Ball!

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I take pride in the fact that I am in the class of old sun-baked baseball fans. As such, I think I am within my rights in airing an idea in regard to the game's technique which has been rankling within me for the past few months.

First, let me say that I do not pretend to know all about it. I criticize each particular game as the spirit moves me. Sometimes I may be wrong, but that's all right. It would spoil all its fascination and delirious joy if a fan ever grew so knowing that he couldn't help viewing his baseball as you would an exact science, and, in fact, I sympathize with professional baseball writers because that is more or less their fate.

I think that as a general rule bunting and attempts at base stealing should not be much indulged in in the first half of a ball game. If my life-long observation of the game is not at fault, this idea was kept more or less in mind in the past. I don't think any of the clubs that now visit our ball yard pay special attention to it, and I feel certain that the Griffs would at least be in second place right now if they had not started unnecessary bunting and base stealing strategy in the early innings of a good many games.

While a game is still young it seems plain to me that the best plan is to try to get the opposing pitcher's goat in an unbroken front of good, honest stickwork.

Of course, there may be exceptions. But after the fourth, fifth or sixth inning, if it looks as if the opposing pitcher is in airtight condition, it is time enough for a change of tactics.

In such a case, if ~~the club~~ is behind and the game happens to be close, the forlorn hope of the safe bunt or the stolen base may be in order.

There has been only one hitless wonder nine in baseball history. In these days a full batting line-up of extra-base hitters is what every club is striving and praying for.

Our own team packs a punch of which they have no need to be ashamed. With the exception of a fan or so who sighs for the return of something which he calls "inside baseball," the great mass of fans stand up and shout the roof off when Manush, Cronin & Co. punish the horsehide.

To show lack of faith in a club's slugging strength, by taking a chance on bunts and stolen bases before a game is well started, does not, from where I sit, look like good management.

BOX SEAT.

Says Privately Owned Liquor Traffic Will Insure Return of the Saloon, or Worse.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: If prohibition ever becomes an issue in the States, political leaders will insist that the question be settled by local option in the counties and cities. If we legalize local private liquor rackets, plenty of graft will still find its way into the same dirty paws that now collect from the bootlegger.

The sale of intoxicating liquors in any State in the Union should not be permitted in private hands. Most of us are opposed to Government in business when that business is of a type we wish to see flourish, but such is not the case with the traffic in liquor. Those who seek the repeal of the eighteenth amendment without at the same time making provision against the return of a privately owned liquor traffic, are either unthinkingly or intentionally working for the return of the saloon or worse.

There is need of providing in the national law certain guiding principles intended to prevent the development anywhere in this Nation of a condition which might prove worse than encountered at the present or any previous time.

R. E. NEWELL.

Europe Striving to Capture World Markets—Lower American Tariff Would Help Foreign Competitors.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Some politicians say that our tariff is so high that Europe can not sell to us and pay her war debts. What do they expect her to do if we are stupid enough to lower the tariff? Close down her industrial plants, cease producing all agricultural products in order to be better able to purchase and consume our surplus goods? It stands to reason that if Europe is able to produce enough for all her needs and have a large surplus to dump on our shores, she certainly would not buy from us, especially industrial goods and such agricultural products as wheat, corn, &c.

These politicians also seem to be ignorant of the fact that several European governments subsidize their industries, which enables them to sell their products below cost until they gain a foothold in other nations. They are now forming huge trade cartels against America in order to drive us out of the world markets. Would lowering our tariff stop that practice? Certainly not!

A Tax on Checks and a Check on Taxes—Uncle Sam Must Remember Everything Has a Limit.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Uncle Sam has placed a tax on this and on that. He has a tax on checks, which is bringing in considerable revenue for the relief of the deficit. Uncle Sam must remember, however, that there is a limit. If he does too much taxing, the tables might be turned and instead of the citizens paying a tax on checks they will turn right around and put a check on taxes.

Browne and Mrs. H. M. Roper, of West Point.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Phelan, of Cleveland, Ohio, with their three children, have arrived in Washington for an indefinite time and have taken an apartment at Wardman Park Hotel.

Fifth Baptist Church was the scene of an attractive late summer wedding on Saturday, when Miss Josephine Byram of Culpeper, Va., was married to Mr. George Walker Allen, jr., of Atlanta, Ga., and this city.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Samuel T. Byram, wore a charming transparent velvet gown of wine color with hat of the same shade, and carried a bouquet of tea roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Rowena Byram, her sister, and Miss Mildred Allen, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Byram wore a contrasting color wine crepe with hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses and delphinium.

Mr. Richard Harvey of this city, was best man.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Briggs.

The event was witnessed by a large company of relatives and friends of the young couple. The church was decorated with palms, summer leaves forming the background with gladioli and summer flowers around the altar, forming an attractive setting.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Georgia University in the class of 1926 and is the son of Mrs. Mildred Gourley, of this city. He is a member of Alpha Iota Kappa National Fraternity.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Byram, well-known Virginia family, formerly of this city.

David B. Karrick to Wed Miss De Blasiis Today.

Miss Anna Elizabeth De Blasiis, daughter of David De Blasiis, of Glens Falls, N. Y., and David Brewer Karrick, of Washington, whose engagement was announced recently, are to be married this afternoon at Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York, by the Rev. Talbot Rogers. Miss Josephine De Blasiis is to be her sister's only attendant, and James Lawson Karrick, jr., will be his brother's best man. Donald Beaver, of New York, brother-in-law of the bride, is to give her in marriage.

Mr. Karrick is a son of Mrs. James Lawson Karrick, of Washington and Stockbridge, and he is a grandson of the late Justice David J. Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court. He is president of the Fidelity Storage Co. at Washington. Mr. Karrick and his bride are to depart tomorrow on the Bremen for a two-month trip abroad, and they will be at home after December 1 at the Fransboro, in Washington.

The marriage of Miss Agnes Schneider to Mr. Trenis Leverett Jones took place Saturday night in the Incarnation Lutheran Church. The Rev. E. Edward Folk, pastor, officiated, and the edifice was nearly filled with the company of friends and relatives of the couple.

The bride wore a triple chiffon gown and a white veil. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses. Edgar Werner acted as best man while Mrs. Margaret Moffatt was matron of honor. Mr. Carl Schneider, father of the bride, gave her away. After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, at 6228 Georgia avenue northwest. Later the newly married couple left for a ten-day bridal tour on the New Jersey shore.

Miss Churchill Is Bride Of Frank Aiken Cashel.

The marriage of Miss Florence Evelyn Churchill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Churchill, to Mr. Frank Aiken Cashel, was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents at 4911 Forty-fourth street northwest, in the presence of only the members of the two families and a few intimate friends. The Rev. Henry W. O. Millington, executive secretary of the Columbia Association of Baptist Churches, officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Marion Grace Churchill Dove was maid of honor. Mr. Harvey Davison was best man.

An informal reception for those attending followed the ceremony, when Mr. and Mrs. Churchill received with the bride and bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Cashel later in the afternoon started by motor for a short honeymoon.

Mrs. Cashel is a graduate of Strayer's College, and for the past few years has been employed in the accounting department of the American National Red Cross. Mr. Cashel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cashel, of Clarendon, Va. He also is employed by the American Red Cross as a field representative, and lives at Chevy Chase, Md.

GRAVER ISSUES OF THE CAMPAIGN.

I.

If I'm to go Republican
Or be a Democrat,
There are some issues grave on which
The chiefs must come to bat.

II.

The tariff and the banking laws
Quite paramount may be
In leaders' minds, but there are things
That matter more to me.

III.

For instance, how does Hoover stand
On chicken a la king?
Does he propose to do his part
To take out bone and wing?

IV.

And will he, if elected, give
His pledge that he will try
To get a little chicken in
A dish of chicken pie?

V.

How does he stand on cellophane
And does he think the stuff,
Despite its sanitary aims,
Has been used quite enough?

VI.

Before I cast my ballot I
Must know if Herb and Frank
Think Turkish beach robes are a boon
Or just a bit of swank.

VII.

I want to know what Herbert thinks
Of crooning as a whole
And will he, if elected, work
For Federal control?

VIII.

I feel that Franklin D. should tell
Us frankly how he stands
On Mr. Graham McNamee
And Meyer Davis bands.

IX.

What is the G. O. P. posish
On tunes upon the air?—
Does it hold one tune eighty times
A night a bit unfair?

On back-seat driving Frank and Herb
Should give their views, of course;
If I support them will they strive

XI.

What do they think of traffic lights
And will they go ahead
And work (if chosen at the polls)
To disconnect the "red?"

XII.

On cults of nudity I think
Your views you should declare
So all the voters can decide
About their underwear.

XIII.

Those "swim suits" at the bathing beach
Present an issue tall:
Do you propose to act before
They've nothing on at all?

XIV.

Regarding paper cups on trains,
What do you, Herbert, think?
And should it cost a passenger
One cent to get a drink?

XV.

What are your views on movies and
Have you a yen intense
To see that now and then they have
A plot that makes some sense?

XVI.

One question more—it's paramount:
If you corral the vote
Will you when fishing please not wear
YOUR BUSINESS PANTS AND COAT?

EMBARRASSING, TO SAY THE LEAST.

Elmer Twitchell regards the publication of that list of Government loans as highly improper. "If the newspapers were to print the names of all the people in this country who are living on borrowed money these days it'd be pretty embarrassing," he puts it.

WHEN ARE YOU EVER GOING TO RUN DOWN— AND STOP TALKING ABOUT MRS. TOM CARR AND THAT NECKLACE OF HERS? IS THERE ANYTHING NEW THAT YOU HAVE HEARD THAT YOU HAVEN'T TOLD US?
NEVER MIND— I DON'T TELL EVERYTHING I HEAR—
AND THE ONLY REASON FOR THAT IS— THAT YOU DON'T HAVE TIME— AND YOU WONDER WHY THE WORLD REFERS TO A WOMAN AS AN AMAZON—
AND WHY— CAN YOU TELL ME— WHY DO THEY CALL A WOMAN AN AMAZON?
OH— BECAUSE— I GUESS THE MAIN REASON IS— THAT RIVERS ARE CONSTANTLY FLOWING AT THE MOUTH— AND THE AMAZON RIVER HAS THE LARGEST MOUTH!

Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

EVERY third school in Germany is now equipped with radio receiving equipment, according to a recent report from Berlin. The German school radio programs now reach 2,500,000 pupils and 65,000 teachers.

School broadcasts last year numbered approximately 2,000 programs, with 24 per cent, the largest single type, devoted to music. Broadcasts on information about Germany ranked second and comprised 22 per cent of the programs.

On the basis of data received and compiled by the German Central Office for School Radio, educational broadcasts in Germany show a significant growth. In 1930 there were 13,000 schools equipped with radio apparatus compared with about 20,000 in 1931. As there are 55,000 schools in Germany, this means that one school in three affords the use of radio in teaching.

The majority of schools that lack radio equipment are included, as would be expected, among outlying rural elementary schools.

The 2,000 broadcasts last season were distributed generally as follows: 480 musical offerings, 440 broadcasts about Germany, 340 foreign language presentations, 300 history and civic broadcasts, 240 presentations in natural science, questions in economics and technical problems, and 200 broadcasts on geographical information.

JESSE H. JONES, publisher of the Houston (Tex.) Chronicle, and a member of the board of directors of the Reconstruction Financial Corporation, will speak over WRC at 9 o'clock tonight. Because of the magnitude of the work being done by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and because of Jones' prominence as a financier and business leader, his message is expected to be of special interest.

Myrt, Marge, Jack Arnold, Gwen, Clarence Tiffingtuffer and the other popular characters of the "Myrt and Marge" back-stage sketches, will again greet the WMAL audience at 6 o'clock today. They return after a summer vacation. The opening episodes of the new series will be so drafted that new listeners may readily pick up the plot.

RUDOLF SCHRAMM, pianist-conductor of the Gaslight Hour, will do Beethoven's Sonata Pathetique as his special contribution to the program (WRC, 7 o'clock) tonight. James Wilkinson, baritone, has chosen "I'll See You Again," "Hold My Hand," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," and, with the orchestra, selections from "The Band Wagon." Straight orchestra numbers include "Whistle and Blow Your Blues Away," "Wedding of the Painted Doll" and "Sleep, Come On and Take Me."

The Flower Song from Bizet's "Carmen" will be sung by Richard Crooks, tenor, as the closing number on the Voice of Firestone program (WRC, 7:30 p. m.). Crooks will sing two semiclassical numbers in the earlier part of the program.

Martha Attwood, soprano, will be the guest with Erno Rapee's orchestra during the Parade of the States program paying tribute to New Hampshire (WRC, 8:30 o'clock) tonight.

ISHAM JONES' first name is an enigma to his host of followers. They are divided into two camps—one using the short "i" as in "it," the other the long "i" as in "ice." Let Isham himself decide. All right, the long "i" wins. * * * Tito Guizar, the romantic young Mexican tenor, has written a new theme song. It is entitled "Rosa Mia." * * * Scene near the N. B. C. studios in New York: Frank Crummit leading Julia Sanderson by the hand through Fifth avenue traffic to the middle of the street for a chat with the traffic policeman. Frank knows all the policemen in the neighborhood. * * * Ed Wynn has found out what caused the depression. He says it's because the currency in this country isn't current.

Mrs. Ann Amanda Dent Dies in St. Louis at 96

Carthage, Mo., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Mrs. Ann Amanda Dent, 96, a belle of Washington society during the administration of President Grant, her husband's brother-in-law, died here last night. Her husband, Col. John C. Dent, whose sister was President Grant's wife, died soon after Mr. and Mrs. Dent moved to Carthage in 1881 from St. Louis.

Costa Rica Announces Plan for Bond Interest

New York, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The republic of Costa Rica, though its fiscal agents, today announced a plain for meeting interest payments during the next three years on its 7 per cent gold dollar bonds of 1926 by a partial cash payment and the issue of interest-bearing funding bonds for the balance.

In exchange for interest coupons on each $1,000 bond up to and including the coupon maturing November 1, 1935, the republic is offering to pay $23 in cash and a funding bond of $222 principal amount bearing 5 per cent interest, payable semiannually and maturing in 1951, according to the plan.

TIGERS' BATTING BARRAGE TROUNCES NATS, 15-7

Barry Fights Houghton at Twin City

Capital Boy Returns From N. Y. Rings; Burns on Card.

A RED-HEADED YOUTH of 18, bristling with confidence and flaming spirit after a two-months' sojourn in Metropolitan boxing circles, comes back to familiar scenes tonight to show home town folks and his host of admirers that he has climbed a notch or two higher on the fistic ladder.

The sorrell-topped fighter is none other than Donald (Reds) Barry, southeast Washington's youthful heavyweight, whose eight-round feature bout with Eddie Houghton, Philadelphia lad, has smoked up plenty of interest in the program at Twin City Arena in Laurel, starting at 8:30 o'clock. Thirty-six rounds are carded. There will be three eights and three fours.

Before embarking for New York, where he came under the coaching of Mushky Johnson, Barry fought three matches at Twin City. Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom beat the protege of Patsy Donovan in ten rounds while Reds thrashed both Tim Charles and Herman Weiner in eights.

Barry Won Unpopular Decision.

Barry and Houghton are renewing a conflict started some time ago when the Capital scrapper was awarded a decision that met with a deluge of boos. All of which happened in Baltimore, but Reds stoutly maintains he was the better boxer. He says his performance tonight will prove it. Houghton is no slouch. He takes 'em on the nose and jaw quite frequently from Tommy Loughran, with whom he trains constantly. Joe Smith, the former light heavy champ's manager, will pilot Houghton in his corner.

Irving to Battle Skeeba.

In the fours, Henry Irving, who knocked out ten opponents before District patrons in the past year, battles Stanley Skeeba; Sailor Leonard meets Leroy Zinkhan and Doug Swetman takes on Sam Romano.

Seats will remain on sale at Vic's Sport Shop until 5 p. m. Buses leave the Annapolis Hotel on regular schedules, starting at 7 o'clock.

BOXING BITS AND SELECTIONS—Barry to beat Houghton, Burns to beat McKenna, Lennox to beat Antonelli, Irving to beat Skeeba, Leonard to beat Zinkham, Swetman to defeat Romano.

ST. LAWRENCE SLOOP WINS

Seaside Park, N. J., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club of Montreal took to Canada today the International sloop series trophy, after winning the finals day's sailing against the Barnegat Bay Racing Association. The Canadians scored 43 points to 35 for the United States, despite two victiries today by Charles Dunbar, Yale University sophomore.

Columbia Heights Annexes Capital City League Title

BEN SPIGEL.

THREE years of ceaseless endeavor in quest of a Capital City League championship were rewarded yesterday when a jubilant Columbia Heights team gained that honor by defeating the Dixie Pigs, 3-0, at Byrd Stadium in the final game of their titular series. Victory was sweet for the winner, and gall for the vanquished who have played in three Capital City League championship series but have never carried through to the title. Yesterday's defeat, incidentally, was the first shutout suffered in three years of league competition by the Dixies.

To Ben Spigel must be given the major share of credit for the victory. The same seemingly indefatigable pitcher who pulled the sectional championship out of the fire for his team; who was charged with defeat in the first game of the championship series when his support failed him, but who retained that same stoical countenance through victory and defeat to climax a successful year on the sandlots by hurling his club to the realization of its most cherished ambition.

Spigel Tight With Hits.

Spigel's opponents found him uncharitable in giving base hits. Only four were gleaned from his offerings, and they were scattered so widely as to not be on speaking terms with one another. His support yesterday also was much better than usual. Dick Nelson, at third, and Dick Wingate, in center field, were particularly good on the defense.

Ad Adair, who hurled for the Dixies, gave up only five hits, but the new champions bunched three of these in the second inning and took advantage of a miscue in the same frame to score all of their runs. From then on Columbia Heights only strove to retain its lead, which it did in admirable fashion.

Colliflower Starts Rally.

Ed Colliflower started the rally with a stinging single to center. Wingate was passed, but Harding rapped a single to right field, scoring Colliflower, Wingate going to third. The latter made a dash for home with Stahl holding the ball and was safe. Collier then atempted to nab Harding at second, but his throw was wild and Harding continued on to third, scoring soon after on Spigel's infield out.

The Dixies failed seriously to threaten their rivals, so well did Spigel hold them in check. Not a Dixie Pig runner progressed as far as third base, and only three reached the midway bag.

Immediately following the game a protest was entered by Hugh Waldrop, manager of the Dixies, questioning the eligibility of Eddie Colliflower, who played second base yesterday for Columbia Heights. The matter will be considered at a meeting of the Capital City League protest board, to be held Wednesday night at the District Building.

ARMY-NAVY FIELD LED BY VANN

Cafritz Wins Woodmont Event; News From Courses.

By DAVE HERMAN.

WITH Maj. E. A. Noyes in the role of defending champion, the Army and Navy Club tournament got under way yesterday, with only 5 out of a field of 95 entries touring the course on the first day. J. W. Vann's 39—44—83 was the lowest of the quintet. R. H. Mattox shot a 40—44—84. Other scores posted were 92's by B. Anderson and J. N. Harriman and a 93 by T. J. Camp.

The rest of the qualifying field will swing into action throughout the week, with the medalist to be named before match play starts next Sunday. Army and Navy's finest golfers are entered.

Maj. Richard Sutherland, Army golf champion, whose 32 for nine holes made last week at Army and Navy, was the big talk among club golfers, yesterday shot an eagle two on the 268-yard sixth hole, as his partner, Maj. W. M. Robertson, duplicated the same feat. They bagged their deuces in the face of two birdies which their opponents, Maj. E. A. Noyes and Capt. K. J. Fiedler, had just registered. Robinson chipped off green into the cup and Sutherland rammed home a neat putt.

Mrs. R. C. Mitchell and John Money, using only two clubs, one being a putter, won low gross honors with 53—46—99 in the novel mixed Scotch foursome yesterday at Beaver Dam. High score was tallied by Mrs. A. Tucker and R. Kelly—125. With participants wearing tacky clothes, Mrs. Frank Heffler was awarded first prize for having the best costume. Mrs. R. C. Mitchell wore the funniest. Earl Sechrest and Martin F. McCarthy also were given costume prizes.

Two freak shots were reported yesterday at Beaver Dam. Mrs. Frank Hessler, shooting the 454-yard third hole, watched her iron shot, which she played from the top of a hill 125 yards away, strike the top of the flag and drop into the cup. She got her par 5. Mrs. Ted Rutley's second shot on the eighth stuck in the crotch of a tree. Her caddy had to move it, and she was forced to take a penalty stroke.

Al Houghton's record 72 for Beaver Dam's course was broken Saturday by the home pro, Cliff Spencer, during a round with Elmer Imlay, jr., Martin F. McCarthy and Johnny Miller. Cliff breezed around in 71, one below par. An eagle 3 on the 481-yard sixteenth featured. His card, with par:

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harvey, jr., put together a 40-43 for an 83 yesterday to win first low gross in the mixed Scotch foursome at Indian Spring. A tie for low net resulted between the team of Miss Martina Henderson and C. A. Willingham, with 98—25—73, and Miss Florence Lumsden and Edward L. Duffies, with 96—23—73. Mrs. W. B. Vogel, with 89—15—74, and Mrs. George Diffenbaugh and Craig McKee, 84—10—74, were deadlocked for third.

10th Straight To Cubs on Late Rally

Cuyler's Hit in 9th Brings Defeat of Giants, 5-4.

Hogan's Homer Gives New York Short-Lived Lead.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—A ninth-inning rally brought the Chicago Cubs their tenth straight victory today as they nipped the New York Giants in the third game of the series, 5 to 4.

Shanty Hogan's homer with two on base had put the New Yorkers ahead in the final frame, but the Bruins came through in their half with two runs to keep their winning streak intact.

Kiki Cuyler knocked in four of Chicago's five runs, including the final game-winning tally. In the third he singled to score English and Herman and to give Malone a lead. In the eighth he hit a home run far over the lef-field bleachers for the third Cub run, and his fly to Ott was responsible for Gudat's final tally.

Pat Malone and Herman Bell were the starting hurlers, Bell limiting the Cubs to two runs in the seven innings he pitched. Both were due to Cuyler's hit which took a bad hop over Critz's head.

Malone likewise was in form until the ninth when Ott singled after one was out and both he and Terry were safe on a fielder's choice. Hogan then hit his home run, a long drive into the left-field stands, giving New York a 4-3 margin.

Luque was pitching the ninth when Koenig singled with one out. Gudat, batting for Malone, also singled. Gibson took Luque's place and Bill Herman dropped a double in right that sent Koenig home tying the count. English was purposely passed, filling the bases. Cuyler then filed to Ott in short right, but when the throw to the plate was wide, Gudat scored the winning run.

Japs Future Threats To U. S. in Olympics

La Havre, France, Aug. 28 (U.P.).—Japanese athletes will furnish the United States with the most formidable competition in future Olympic meets, members of the French Olympic contingent said today upon their arrival from California.

The French athletes marveled at the showing made by Japan at the Los Angeles games and pointed out that the Nipponese had replaced Europeans as America's Olympic menace of the future.

Athletes and officials alike praised California as the ideal site for athletic competitions and lauded the efficiency of the American Olympic organization.

Latona Beats Considine In 3 Sets

Annexes Capital City League Title for Second Year.

PLAYING the best tennis of his young career, Anthony Latona, promising young District tennis player, yesterday afternoon gave Bob Considine one of the most decisive defeats of his long career at Wardman Park Hotel in the final round of the Capital City Tennis League singles tournament. The scores were 6—3, 6—2, 6—1.

Latona played some of the best tennis seen in Washington this year to enact the victory, hitting his entire coterie of strokes with a confidence that bordered on the unbelievable. Every ball he hit, whether it was backhand, forehand, smash, volley or serve, hit the bell and won for him point after point, and he utterly routed the player who was seeded No. 1 in the tournament.

It was the second straight year Latona has won the tournament. Last year he beat Frank Shore in the finals.

Latona Fails to Crack.

While the crowd and Considine waited for Latona to begin to crack, after he had outsteadied Considine from the back court in the first set, Latona refused to comply with their wishes and continued hitting a constant stream of shots into his opponent's courts. Seeing that he was waging a losing game in the back court, usually his best position, Considine began to attack from the net, only to view Latona making unbelievable passing shots on the dead run to continue his winning streak.

What shots Considine could reach at the net, he generally blundered, missing many easy set-ups, but there is little doubt that if the former District champion had been at the very peak of his game he would not have been able to stave off defeat at the hands of the determined and clean-stroking Latona.

Victory gave him two legs on the Deck Trophy. He needs one more for permanent possession.

Mile Swimming Title to Buscher

Larry Buscher added the 1-mile title to his list of A. A. U. championships yesterday when he triumphed over a large field in a race held off the Washington Canoe Club float. Buscher negotiated the distance in 31 minutes 47 4-5 seconds. The winner competed for the host club. Eric Larson, of the Chevy Chase Swimming Club, was second, and Frank Daly, of the Washington Canoe Club, was third.

Representatives of the Shoreham Swimming Club scored a clean sweep in the race for women. Lenore Taube flashed across the line in 36 minutes 12 4-5 seconds to lead the field. She was followed by Clara Wrenn and Mary Maurine.

Recheck Gives Shoot Title to Mrs. Andrews

Vandalia, Ohio, Aug. 28. (A.P.).—Mrs. Walter Andrews, of Atlanta, Ga., and not Miss Alice Crothers, of Chestnut Hills, Pa., won the North American women's title at the grand American trapshoot which ended here Saturday, a recheck of records showed today.

Miss Crothers had been reported as the winner, since she broke 151 out of 200 targets for a higher score on the doubles, but a check of the rules disclosed that only the first 100 targets are counted for the title.

Mrs. Andrews broke 77 out of the first 100 in the doubles to win. It was a rally on the second 100 that gave Miss Crothers a higher mark on the 200, and it was on the doubles score that Miss Crothers was credited with the victory.

RUTH HITS 2 AS YANKS DIVIDE

Chisox Beaten, 11-5, After Taking First by 5-2 Margin.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Principally because of Babe Ruth's batting, the Yankees got an even break with the Chicago White Sox today, winning the second game, 11 to 5, after the Sox had taken a 5-to-2 decision.

Ruth, who hit his thirty-eighth homer in the ninth inning of the opener, clouted No. 39 and added a single in the ninghtcap, batting in four runs. Ted Lyons held the Yanks to five hits in the opener and contributed a homer.

HORSE RACING RETURNS TO NEARBY MARYLAND TOMORROW

5-Day Meet Awaited at Marlboro

Large Crowds From Washington Are Expected.

THE second lap of Maryland's fall half-mile racing season, as well as its series of fairs, will be ushered in at Marlboro tomorrow at 2 p. m.

The Southern Maryland Agricultural Fair Association has been working since last September to make this week's program the greatest since its organization, and if the caliber and quantity of entries for the races can be taken as a criterion, then the work of General Manager Joseph B. Boyle and his associates has not been in vain.

Many of the largest racing establishments in the East, including those of Sylvester W. Labrot, Ral Parr, H. Guy Bedwell, Maj. G. L. Stryker, Mrs. P. J. Vanderbeek, J. Y. Christmas and William Garth, have representatives already quartered there, thus assuring the race meeting of being a success.

350 Stalls Are Filled.

Every one of the 350 stalls on the grounds were allotted days ago by Track Superintendent Dick Pending, who has been handling this end of the work. Many of those thoroughbreds that won last week at Cumberland are being vanned here, and, while they may not be seen under silks tomorrow, turfites of Baltimore and Washington can rest assured that they will swing into action not later than Wednesday, for the purses offered by the Southern Maryland Agricultural Fair Association are too lucrative to keep a horse inactive any length of time.

The staff of officials selected for this week's meeting is one of the finest ever to grace a half-mile session in the State. Each and every man selected knows the racing game from A to Z, and woe betide any horseman or rider who transgresses from the rules that govern the sport of kings.

While Race Secretary John P. Turner has been gathering a galaxy of clever thoroughbreds to race, Mortimer M. Mahony, pari-mutuel manager, has been lining up several hundred of the best sellers, cashiers, ticket, checkers, calculators, sheet writers and money changers to care for the expected crowds from Baltimore and Washington who will want to back their favorite steeds.

Track Handles Big Play.

This track handles a big play daily in the pari-mutuel machines, due in a measure to the fact that it has show wagering, together with the fact that the fields are always large and so evenly matched that there are few standout horses.

The train service, via the Pennsylvania Railroad, should be excellent from both Baltimore and Washington, as that road is running specials at noon daily from both cities. In addition, fleets of automobile buses will carry additional fans here.

Track Superintendent Dick Pending has made parking space for 5,000 automobiles adjoining the race track, and numerous fans will use their own cars to arrive in time for the day's sport.

JOE AND ASBESTOS

(Watch Sunday's Post for New Secret Code) —By Ken Kling

Asbestos' roll to date is $26.60, and Joe's is $199.25. Our sleeper in Saturday's big race lost, but we will collect plenty on him, as he is our best 2-year-old. Laugh that off. Joe's system horses today are Gold Prize, Regula Baddun, Trek, Ted Clark, Indian Runner, Pigeon Hole, Prince Fox.

Asbestos bets $1 Win, $2 Third, Flagtime, at Hawthorne.

AT THE POST

DEAR AL: HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, CHICAGO, AUG. 28.

Esseff, Playdale and Happy Fellow stepped down for me yesterday and allowed me some recreation over the week-end. I had them fighting each other to get in the money in other races but everything considered it was no day to write home about. Plucky Play fooled me and a lot of other people by carrying that 126 pounds to victory over Faireno.

BILL.

FIRST RACE—HIGH EXPLOSIVE turned on the speed at the finish the last time and may be helped today by that No. 1 post position. I'm giving him the call over SPINNING WAY, another that showed neat form last out. PHARAHEAD for the third money.

SECOND RACE—I'm going to try to make SARAZEN II take the measure of FLAG TIME, which looms as a favorite. Sarazen's last was a sizzler and another like that will be the goods. LA SALLE has a chance to take it all.

THIRD RACE—NORTHGALIS is a much improved juvenile and has a good post today. Has to travel fast to take the purse from HOPE TO DO. ARROWSWIFT may be the third one.

FOURTH RACE—Looks like a romp for INDIAN RUNNER here unless somebody has been fooling. GALLANT SIR appears to have the edge over SEVEN VEILS for the place award.

FIFTH RACE—CAPTAIN ED, much improved, has been right up there for three straight races without winning. However, I believe tomorrow's the day. JEAN LAFITTE and DURANGO to fight it out for the remainder.

SIXTH RACE—Forced to stick to PIGEON HOLE until he takes it on the chin. WRIGLEY FIELD'S last to make him eligible for second money here. BLAST to account for the show.

SEVENTH RACE—I look for ULTRAMARINE to do it again. This one has never been better, and with Lewis in top riding form it looks like a purse. BROWN BRUTUS and SON O'SWEEP to make the top one hustle.

EIGHTH RACE—Don't ask me why, but I'm putting OATEN on top here. Across the board at track odds if you can get them. PIECEMEAL and BATTLE AX for the rest.

STATE RESTS SOON IN TRIAL OF DUNCAN

Case of Former Arlington Clerk Expected to Reach Jury Wednesday.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

The case of William H. Duncan, former Arlington County clerk, goes into its second week in the Circuit Court before Judge Walter T. McCarthy today.

Duncan is on trial on an indictment charging misuse and misappropriation of public funds totaling $7,815, alleged to be State funds.

Commonwealth's Attorney Lawrence W. Douglas announces that the State will rest its case early today. Indications are that the case will reach the jury some time Wednesday.

Duncan is being represented by Attorneys Amos C. Crounse, of Arlington County, and Leo P. Harlow, of Washington and Alexandria, and Marshall Lynn, of Alexandria.

The effects of the depression seem to be rapidly fading from the county, according to report made public yesterday by Frank Lyon, president of the firm of Lyon & Fitch, developers of Lyon Village and Lyon Park.

The report shows that eleven properties, six of which are located in Lyon Park, have been sold in the past ten days, representing approximately $71,500.

Mr. Lyon states that plans are being drawn for the immediate construction of 25 more homes in Lyon Village and Lyon Park. The value of these properties will total $160,000.

Plans also are being completed for the erection of a modern service station at the intersection of Lawton and Washington avenues. The plans are being prepared by A. F. Thelander, architect, of Arlington County.

The Lyon Park Citizens Association will hold its monthly meeting at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the Community House.

Train Wreck Plot Theory Discarded

Owner of Stolen Vehicle and Two Others Are Released.

Three young men were temporarily held by Montgomery County police yesterday for questioning in connection with the abandonment of a machine on the railroad tracks Saturday morning at Capitol View, Md., in the path of a fast train. After several hours' questioning they were released.

Lawson Griffin, of 411 Randolph street northeast, owner of the wrecked machine, which he said was stolen earlier Saturday morning, was arrested and released, as were two young men who appeared late Saturday at the scene of the accident in company with Griffin. The latter two were Milton Thomas, 7721 First street northwest, and Theodore Watkins, of 1719 Twentieth street northwest.

A theory that the machine was placed on the tracks by persons who sought to wreck the train has been discarded by police, Sergt. Guy Jones, of the Montgomery County police, said.

Dr. T. S. Russell Expires in Fairfax

Retired Episcopal Minister Became Clergyman After Being Engineer.

Dr. Thomas Simpson Russell, 69, retired Episcopal minister, died yesterday at his home in Fairfax, Va., following a brief illness. He was a native of Toronto, Canada, and was educated in Toronto schools and McGill University as an engineer.

For many years Dr. Russell served as consulting engineer of the Canadian National Railways. He gave up his profession to study for the ministry and entered the Theological Seminary near Alexandria.

Dr. Russell was rector in Cleveland, Ohio; Franklin, Tenn., and Ashland, Va., churches. He retired about six years ago.

Surviving Dr. Russell are his wife, Mrs. Bessie G. Russell, a son, Benjamin, and a daughter, Mary.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Zion Episcopal Church in Fairfax. Interment will be in Fairfax Cemetery.

Steel Trade Organ Feels Optimistic

Demand for Raw Materials Cited as Indicator of Upswing.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—A quickening in raw materials and a 9¾ per cent lift in the scrap iron composite sounded an optimistic note in the steel industry, Steel said today in its weekly trade review.

This quickening in raw materials, as contrasted by a lag in finished steel production, is almost a complete reversal of the order of recovery in 1921, the magazine declared.

Then, steel buying led the way, with railroad requirements playing an important role, and it was 30 to 45 days after the turn that pig iron and scrap participated in a measurable degree.

As production of pig and steel began to recover, prices became exceedingly irregular, Steel pointed out. Thus far, except for some weakness in pig iron and marked concessions in sheets, prices have been comparatively steady.

Sunday Roadside Marts Hit at Church Session

Akron, Ohio, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The roadside market with its fruit and farm produce set out to attract Sunday motorists was condemned as "among the many influences at work to continentalize and undermine the Christian Sabbath," at the closing session of the Ohio conference of the Evangelical Church.

The highway markets, it said, were regarded, "aside from moral implications, as positively unfair to the business men of the Nation who, as law-abiding citizens, confine commercial activities to the six days of the week."

Hix Cartoon Involved In Strange Coincidence

"Strange As It Seems," Post cartoon feature, was topped last night by the high card of coincidence when Walter Haight, Post sports writer, glanced idly, then gapingly, at the oddities exhibited daily by the pen of John Hix.

Hix, in today's edition, tells of postage stamps being issued as currency in 1862. Haight only a few minutes before glancing at the early edition of The Post, had been exhibiting to friends a well-preserved 25-cent postage stamp note of the issue of 1862, cited by Hix. The sports writer had found it yesterday afternoon while arranging the effects of his father, Henry S. Haight, who died August 21.

CONFEDERATE SONS RAP PENSIONS CUT

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

Robert E. Lee Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, R. Samuel Luckett, commander, has adopted a resolution to be presented for consideration at the annual meeting of the Grand Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, at Radford, Va., September 8, 9 and 10, condemning the reduction of pensions to Confederate veterans and their widows, and urging a reversal of the ruling of the attorney general of the State of Virginia on this subject.

The ruling in question is that the act of the last General Assembly requiring the Governor of Virginia to reduce appropriations, is construed to include the appropriation for pensions paid to veterans and their widows, this reduction, of 10 per cent, becoming effective on July 1 last.

The resolution sets forth that the amounts paid to the individual pensioners are, generally speaking, extremely small and the number of such pensioners is decreasing rapidly each year, and will in the ordinary course of nature, be extinct in a few years; that it is the opinion of this camp that it was not the intention of the members of the General Assembly that the reductions should affect Confederate pensions.

A copy of the resolution has been forwarded by the adjutant of the camp to Gov. John Garland Pollard; to Attorney General Saunders; to J. Fred Birrell, delegate from Alexandria; to Comrades John W. Rust and Edmund H. Allen, the former State senator from this district, and the latter delegate from Fairfax County; and to the Commander of the Grand Camp of Virginia.

James Edward Taylor died on Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lee Gorman, at Franconia, Va. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Sydenstricker Chapel, Fairfax County, with burial in the cemetery at that place. He is survived by four sons and four daughters.

Mrs. Lillian E. McConchie died on Saturday at Remington, Va., and the funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Wheatley funeral home, 809 King street, conducted by the Rev. Dr. E. V. Regester, pastor of the Del Ray Methodist Episcopal Church. Burial will be in Bethel Cemetery. She is survived by her husband, H. C. McConchie, of 141 Lloyd avenue, Alexandria, and three daughters, Mrs. J. S. Feagans and Mrs. H. L. Butler, Alexandria, and Mrs. Murray Reynolds, Falls Church.

Charles W. Nichols, aged 76 years, died yesterday at his home, 1724 Duke street. The funeral will be held from the home at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow, conducted by the Rev. Ernest W. Aaron, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Burial will be in Ivy Hill Cemetery. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Roberta G. Nichols, and a daughter, Mrs. Conway Brawner.

Smuggling Is Charged To Mexican Policeman

Nogales, Ariz., Aug. 28 (U.P.).—International complications threatened tonight when United States immigration inspectors arrested Arcadio Garcia, policeman of Nogales, Sonora, charged with attempting to smuggle Chinese aliens into this country. The officers stopped Garcia as he drove a patrol wagon over the line. They claimed four Orientals were inside.

The incident climaxed charges of several months' standing that the Mexican constabulary was forcing Chinese merchants out of Mexico. The "dumping" process drew a protest to the State Department from John C. Jung'l, Federal attorney for Arizona, who claimed the expense of deporting Chinese was being shouldered on the United States.

Brother of Mexican President Resigns

Mexico City, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—President Paseual Ortiz Rubio tonight announced the resignation of his brother, Francisco, as president of the Beneficencia Publica, government charitable agency financed by the national lottery.

Simultaneously it became known that all the department heads and many of the federal district employes had handed their resignations to the president as the latest manifestation of discord in national political affairs. The chief of the federal district government, the equivalent of Mayor of Mexico City, resigned recently with the explanation that he had incurred the president's disfavor by intervening in the general hospital dispute. The hospital came under Francisco Ortiz Rubio's jurisdiction. The chief of the health department stepped aside in the argument.

Since the disagreement occurred there have been rumors that the president and Plutarco Elias Calles, the "strong man" of Mexico, were not in agreement in the matter.

$100,000 FIRE RAZES PETERSBURG PLANT

Trunk and Bag Firm's Lumber Yards Also Destroyed by Flames.

Petersburg, Va., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—The Independent Trunk & Bag Co.'s plant and lumber yards near here were destroyed by fire today at an estimated loss of $100,000.

Two nearby dwellings were razed and several other houses threatened by the blaze, which was fanned by a stiff breeze.

Petersburg, Colonial Heights and Ettrick firemen joined in fighting the blaze, but were handicapped because of an inadequate flow of water.

The fire, which started in a brush field, quickly spread to the lumber yard. Although firemen battled the blaze for three hours in an effort to save the plant, the building finally caught fire and burned in less than an hour.

Meanwhile flames from another end of the lumber yard licked across a road to two nearby dwellings, which were burned. Fourteen other buildings were threatened, but firemen succeeded in saving them.

The plant was used to supply lumber to Petersburg trunk industries and for the manufacture of lumber products.

Curtis Announces Dry Issue Silence

Holds His Attitude on Prohibition Will Not Hamper Ticket.

Providence, R. I., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—Vice President Charles Curtis, arriving here tonight for a vacation at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Webster Knight 2d, said he will open his campaign in Pennsylvania on either September 15 or 17. He declared that his personal attitude of being opposed to repeal of the eighteenth amendment would not react unfavorably toward President Hoover. He said:

"I have said all that I am going to say on the prohibition question in my acceptance speech, and if people will read it thoroughly and not merely a few words of it they will see that I have answered this question clearly."

Replying to the acceptance statement of Speaker Garner, Democratic nominee for Vice President, Mr. Curtis said:

"Everyone knows that President Hoover started at the beginning of the depression to call conferences of trades people in an effort to restore business. As for the Smoot-Hawley tariff, that was enacted a year after the depression started and had nothing to do with it."

Teacher Admits Killing His Wife

Resented Her Preference for Career, His Signed Statement Says.

Marshall, Ill., Aug. 28 (A.P.).—A psychosis spurred by going home to a "sinkful of dirty dishes and a messy house" was the reason given authorities tonight by H. C. Moor, 31, Robinson, Ill., high school teacher, for the slaying of his teacher-wife, Marjorie, 32.

Victor C. Miller, Clark County State's attorney, said Moor signed a confession last night that he shot his wife to death in their automobile the night of August 14.

Miller said Moor explained the slaying as a result of the accumulated resentment toward his wife's preference for a career and disregard of a home.

Every night, Miller said Moor told him, he returned home to find unwashed dishes about the kitchen. Moor covered his resentment for a long time and then suddenly snapped, Miller said.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Aug. 28 (A.P.).—A survey of seven of the larger representative management trusts by the Allied General Corporation, discloses that a total of 43 per cent of their resources were in cash or Government securities, 38 per cent in common stocks, 12 per cent in bonds and 7 per cent in preferred stocks of June 30. The trusts under review were the American European, Capital Administration Fourth National, General Public Service, Lehman Corporation, Prudential Investment and Tricontinental.

Average daily sales of reporting chain store organizations were about 9 per cent less than in July, 1931, a smaller reduction than was reported for any previous month since March, according to the September monthly review of the New York Federal Reserve Bank. Total July sales of reporting department stores in this district were 80 per cent below a year ago, but after making allowance for two less shopping days in July this year than in 1931, the reduction in average daily sales was slightly smaller than in June, the review states.

Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., and Phelps, Fenn & Co. are offering today at prices to yield from 3.75 to 4.30 per cent, $392,000 City of Johnstown, N. Y., 4½ per cent school bonds, due serially October 1, 1933 to 1961.

An important step in the return to normal business conditions has been taken, said the Guaranty Trust Co. today in its monthly survey of business conditions, through the substitution of hope instead of fear as an active agent in busines men's minds. "It is certain that this change in mental attitude is a necessary prelude to any recovery. The cessation of hoarding, the will to buy, and the impulse to build follow in natural sequence."

The New York Central Railroad Co. today reported for July net railway operating deficit of $161,870, compared with income of $2,717,056 in July, 1931. Its subsidiary, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad, had July net railway operating income of $76,483 compared with $258,122 in July, 1931.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

CAUGHT in a sudden snowstorm which swept the Northwest thousands of years ago during the ice age, millions of grasshoppers were killed and buried in huge drifts in Montana. The snow was pressed into solid ice by the pressure from above, and the ice, now a glacier, still holds the frozen bodies of the ancient grasshoppers.

The glacier lies on the north flank of Mount Wise at an altitude of 10,000 feet. It covers about 320 acres. The face shows a cross-section of alternate layers of clear ice and grasshopper-laden ice.

Hoarding of money is not new; a panic in 1862 resulted in the hoarding of so much small coinage that the Government was forced to substitute currency of small denominations. By an act of Congress signed by President Lincoln in July, 1862, the Government issued millions of postage stamps for circulation to take the place of coins which were hidden away in thousands of homes throughout the Nation.

The unfitness of postage stamps as currency soon became apparent, and Congress a year later replaced the stamps with fractional notes.

RESISTING ARREST, ASSAILANT IS SHOT

Policeman, Struck on Head by Two Bricks, Seriously Wounds Man.

Struck on the head by two bricks and disarmed of his baton, Policeman Lester A. Howard, of the Fourth Police Precinct, yesterday shot and seriously wounded Andrew Herd, 35, with whom he was struggling in an effort to arrest him.

Howard had been asked to go to 508 Eighth street southwest by Mrs. Clara Herd, who told him that she was having trouble with her husband. Approaching the house, Howard said Herd was standing with a brick in each hand, and grappled with him when he attempted to arrest him.

According to the report of the struggle, Herd threw the policeman to the ground and struck him on the head. While struggling for his baton, which he had dropped as he fell, the policeman reported he drew his revolver and fired two shots at his assailant. One of the bullets entered Herd's left thigh.

Mrs. Minnie Nolan, 54, of 502 Eighth street southwest, who witnessed the struggle, was struck by one of the bullets, which ricocheted after it struck the ground. She was given first aid at Emergency Hospital and allowed to go home.

The wounded man was taken to Providence Hospital, where his condition is said to be serious, due to the loss of blood and shock. He was treated for the bullet wound and also for a laceration to his left ear.

Herd was charged with being drunk, disorderly and assault on an officer. Capt. James E. Bobo, of the Fourth Precinct, said last night that in view of the circumstances, Howard was justified in using his gun.

Gallinger Attendant, Hit by Trolley, Guarded

John Coffman, 28, of 3019 Ninth place southeast, an attendant of Gallinger Hospital, last night found himself at that institution in the garb of a patient after he had apparently jumped into the path of a Washington Railway & Electric street car at Nichols avenue and Stirlin street southeast, yesterday afternoon.

Coffman was taken to Casualty Hospital in the Eleventh Precinct patrol wagon where he was tr ated for lacerations and bruises. His condition was said to be not serious, and he was transferred to Gallinger under police guard for mental observation.

Mrs. Robert D. Howell's Condition Is Improved

The condition of Mrs. Robert D. Howell, wife of the secretary-treasurer of Rock Creek Cemetery, was considered improved yesterday, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Fishkill, N. Y. Mrs. Howell suffered a fractured skull in an auto crash near Fishkill Friday.

Her condition remains critical, however, and physicians said that it will be two weeks before she is out of danger. Mr. Howell received a fractured foot. The Howells live at 3900 Fourth street northwest.

BOY SCOUT TROOP BACK FROM CAMP

Completing an unusual experiment in juvenile penal administration, the Boy Scout troop of the National Training School for Boys, on Bladensburg road, last night returned to base, happily refreshed by a two-day stay at Camp Roosevelt, scout camp on Chesapeake Bay.

Thomas McCarthy, recreational director at the school and scoutmaster of the troop, numbering 28, was elated at the result of the trip and deemed it a great success.

"There was never any thought of a break for 'liberty' on the part of the boys as far as I could see. They were too much engrossed in their fun for that.

"Much of the time the boys roamed through the woods of their own free will, using scoutcraft and having a general good time. They were allowed to go out in boats by themselves and were treated at all times just as boys in normal circumstances are."

McCarthy said District scout officials were highly pleased with the conduct of the boys and said that their exhibition of scouting compared very favorably with any crack organization ever to visit the camp.

The boys were glowing in their descriptions of the two-day outing. Swimming was the most enjoyed pastime, but McCarthy said the boys did a fine job of policing the camp and adhered well to the program laid out in advance.

Two Soldiers Face Robbery Hearing

Will Go Before Judge in Arlington Today in Beating and Theft.

A hearing on charges of assault and robbery will be held today for two Fort Myer soldiers who are accused of having beaten and robbed Charles L. Riner, 44, of 1005 Quebec place northwest, a taxicab driver, who was hired in Washington and held up near Radio Station, Va.

The hearing will be before Arlington County Judge B. M. Hedrick. Riner was unable to identify the men who gave their names as Thomas Burrett, 22, of Quitman, Ga., and James W. Gallaway, 24, of Bristol, Tenn. A colored man who witnessed the assault identified the men as Riner's assailants, according to Arlington County police.

The two soldiers were identified by Hoyt Hodgkins, a taxicab driver, of 1417 Massachusetts avenue southeast, as the persons who beat and robbed him Friday night on Military road near Arlington Cemetery. The Arlington County authorities will not prosecute this case, since it occurred on Federal property.

Boy Huckster, 12, Badly Hurt by Auto

Child Was Crossing Road After Making Sale to Motorists.

Didier Pfalzgraf, 12 years old, was seriously injured yesterday when struck by an automobile near his home on the Lee-Jackson highway, about 2 miles south of Fairfax, Va. The automobile was operated by W. N. Hall, colored, of Middleburg, Va.

The boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Pfalzgraf, was serving customers that stopped at the fruit and vegetable stand conducted by his parents. He had delivered produce to an automobile across from the stand, and while running back he stepped into the path of the automobile.

He was taken to Alexandria Hospital, where his condition was described as serious.

Boy Hurt in Fall From Milk Truck.

Richard Lindsay, 19, of 417 W street northeast, suffered lacerations and bruises to his arm yesterday when he fell from a milk truck parked in the 2900 block of Brandywine street northwest, and cut himself on a milk bottle. He was given first aid treatment at Emergency Hospital.

Work to Be Exhibited as Vacation Classes End Tomorrow.

With the closing tomorrow night of the fourth annual vacation school at the Neighborhood House, 470 N street southwest, 138 southwest children from 2 to 13 years of age will have completed nearly three months of handiwork and intensive study of foreign countries.

Two dozen dresses, made by the girls of the sewing class, will be included in the exhibition to be held at the Neighborhood House today and tomorrow. Other examples of the children's work to be featured include basketry, bird houses, chairs, pillows, water-colored pictures and hundreds of trinkets made by the smaller pupils.

"Trips" to Japan, China, Mexico and South America were made by means of maps and pictures. The Red Cross lent an exhibition of dolls, slippers, dresses and trinkets made by boys and girls in Japan.

The staff of instructors included: J. P. S. Neligh, arts and crafts; Miss Lena Barghausen, organization; Miss Caroline Babb, registrar; Mr. M. H. Burton, athletics and excursions; Miss Ella Weimer, hand and machine sewing; Miss Dorothy J. Hadley, play groups; Mr. S. H. Walker, home craft and poetry, and Mrs. Joseph M. Stoddard, social music.

The school will close tomorrow night with songs, dances and an operetta sung by the class.

Woman Saves Navy Worker During Swim

Prompt action by a woman member of his swimming party near Shadyside, Md., yesterday afternoon, probably saved the life of Charles A. Lewis, chief pharmacist's mate, U. S. N., stationed at the Naval Hospital. Lewis was seized with cramps and floated unconscious on the water for nearly ten minutes.

His plight was discovered by Mrs. Mamie Conover, of 2128 H street northwest, who with several companions had gone to the Maryland resort with Lewis to visit friends.

Mrs. Conover said members of the party were swimming in shallow water near shore. Lewis suddenly disappeared and it was presumed he had returned to a cottage some distance back from the water.

After several minutes searching and with Lewis still missing, Mrs. Conover swam out from shore and found him floating face downward in the water. Quickly towing him to land, Mrs. Conover applied first aid. Continued resuscitative treatment for more than six hours failed to revive Lewis. He was still unconscious when an ambulance from Naval Hospital arrived.

Physicians last night said he was "resting comfortably."

$35 and Rings Stolen From Store.

Thieves broke into a store at 2221 Georgia avenue northwest yesterday and stole $35 from the cash register and two rings valued at $120, Frank Kanninsky, proprietor, reported to police.

MAJ. LUSBY REPORTS AT CAMP POLLARD

Officers of District Militia Get Intensive Training in Infantry Weapons.

Special to The Washington Post.

Camp Pollard, Virginia Beach, Va., Aug. 28.—Maj. James R. Lusby, United States property and disbursing officer for the District, reported for duty here yesterday with the Twenty-ninth Division, District of Columbia National Guard. He was assigned to quarters with the headquarters detachment.

Officers of the division, in addition to staff problems, are receiving extensive training in the use of infantry weapons. Under Capt. J. C. Jensen, a number of expert pistol shots have developed during the periods on the firing range.

Leading the local detachment are Lieut. Col. P. G. Nevitt, adjutant general of the Twenty-ninth Division, and Capt. Fletcher F. Bernsdorff, assistant quartermaster.

Among prominent Washingtonians training at the encampment are Maj. William Roy, assistant parliamentarian of the House of Representatives, and Maj. Sidney Morgan, engineer inspector of the District of Columbia National Guard.

Two Men Held for Quiz After Safe Is Cracked

Yeggs cracked a safe in a warehouse at 1105 Eleventh street southeast yesterday and ransacked the premises, but nothing was discovered missing. The thieves apparently were unable to open a second safe in the warehouse.

An automobile discovered abandoned nearby contained safe-cracking tools. Entrance was gained to the premises by cutting the bars in a rear window. George W. Singletary, 28, of 524 Eighth street southeast, and Carlton Small, 30, of 233 Eighth street southeast, were arrested for investigation.

Mrs. N. D. Etchison Dead in Maryland

Services to Be Held Today for Resident of Gaithersburg.

Mrs. Nettie Dorsey Etchison, 75, a native of Montgomery County, Md., died Saturday at her home in Gaithersburg. She was the widow of Dr. Elisha C. Etchison.

A son, Garnett Waters Etchison; two granddaughters, Mrs. Philip Watkins and Janet Etchison, and four half brothers, Eugene, Julian, Bowie and William Waters survive. She was the daughter of the late Horace D. and Mary Jane Dorsey Waters.

Funeral services will be held at her home at 2:30 p. m. today, followed by burial in Forest Oak Cemetery at Gaithersburg.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

LABOR DAY WEEK will, as usual, begin it.

On Friday, September 2, the motion picture theaters will let go with their biggest guns to signalize the inauguration of their major offensive against the dog days' amusement depression and box-office paralysis. All of the national interests represented in the local field of exhibition will make strong bids for public favor, come Friday.

At the Metropolitan, the Warner Brothers are instituting a "Pledged Entertainment Season"—which, I am given to understand, means precisely what it says that the Metropolitan henceforth will be pledged to offer the finest screen diversion obtainable, both as to feature pictures and short-reel subjects.

The line-up, insofar as it is made public, seems to justify the boast. Beginning Friday, the Met will present the Four Marx Brothers in the most insanely hilarious of all their efforts before the camera, "Horse Feathers." Following this will come Lee Tracy in "Blessed Event," the newspaper comedy in which he plays the role created by Roger Pryor on the stage; George Arliss in "A Successful Calamity;" Marlene Dietrich in "The Blonde Venus;" Ernst Lubitsch's "Thieves and Lovers," with Miriam Hopkins; Richard Barthelmess in "The Cabin in the Cotton" and the screen's most widely discussed production of the year, "Life Begins," starring Loretta Young.

That last would seem to have been the logical title for the picture to open the drive, after an August as dead as this has been.

Loew's Palace will be stepping right along in the Labor Day parade, too. Beginning Friday, Will Rogers will occupy the screen at Thirteenth and F in "Down to Earth," described as his best vehicle to date, to be followed by Maurice Chevalier's "Love Me Tonight" and Norma Shearer in the articulate version of "Smilin' Through," originally made by another Norma, ycleept Talmadge.

Although it will be the fourth week of the RKO "Greater Show Season," RKO-Keith's will get in the big push Friday with Wheeler and Woolsey in "Hold 'Em, Jail," a comedy of the gridiron and the big gray house!

Came then a joint letter from Harry Crull, late manager of the Fox, and Charlie Raymond, former managing director of the Rialto, both at the moment in M-G-M's Empire Theater, on Leicester Square in that dear old Lunnon.

In taking over the management of the Empire from Charlie, Harry says a great many of the things he was warned against in London he finds to be entirely nonexistent. The theater is a handsome one, and business is swell. So what? Charlie, on the other hand, has his big thrill still in anticipation. Having been joined by the wife and kiddies—Mrs. Raymond is the former Virginia Futrelle, concert and light operatic soprano, daughter of the novelist, Jacques Futrelle, who perished in the Titanic disaster—he sails September 16 for Johannesburg, South Africa, to assume the management of an M-G-M house scheduled to open the first week in November.

And evidently not having heard that we, personally, have gone off the gold standard, they have the crust to chirp, "You must come over." The nerve of them, without even a mention of sending the boat back to pick us up!

That reminds me. Harry E. Long, Eastern division manager of Loew's, Inc., dropped into town last week long enough to appoint Roscoe Drisell house manager at the Fox and Bill Fischer at the Columbia. Conglomerations, boys!

Just to anticipate the corrective suggestions of a probable plurality of attention-callers-to, I knew the minute I saw it in type that "Gypsy Love" was not the name of Pola Negri's screen version of "Carmen." So don't bother to tell me it was "Gypsy Blood." Thanks just the same.

Wonder what you do about an umbrella tree that spraddles all over the back yard, even if you do cut it back to nothing every winter?

Trade it for a parasol tree, I suppose—or was that you who just went out and slammed the door?

3,000 SEE REVIEW OF SIXTH MARINES

Special to The Washington Post.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 28.—More than 3,000 persons lined the parade ground at Camp Pollard today as 1,000 members of the Sixth Marine Reserve Brigade, with fixed bayonets and light marching order, passed in review before Col. J. J. Meade, commanding officer of the Marine Corps Reserve of the entire United States; 25 members of the Washington Board of Trade, who have spent two days under canvas as guests of the brigade, and officers of the Twenty-ninth Division staff of the National Guard, commanded by Maj. Gen. Anton A. Stephan.

As the companies passed in review with perfect alignment a steady wave of applause came from the reviewing party and spectators and continued until the last company had marched away. After passing in review the brigade separated into battalions and wheeled into the famous Pershing square, which is a battalion in close formation. This movement is very intricate and is seldom used by any but experienced troops.

The sea soldiers performed the movement with perfect ease. This is the same drill which the brigade will present on the Washington Monument Grounds next Sunday night on their return home. It is expected that a much larger crowd will be on hand at that time. Col. Meade praised the brigade very highly after the review, describing it as a "very beautiful show."

All day visitors filled the camp and were shown about by officers and members of the guard. It is estimated that 2,000 persons visited the camp over the week-end, most of them being relatives and friends of members of the command. At the evening parade alone more than 800 cars lined the parade ground and traffic was handled by a detail of twelve men under Capt. Francis R. Geraci. These men are all members of the Washington police force, many of them from the traffic squad.

The efficiency pennant for the best-kept mess hall was retained for the third time in as many days of competition by the mess hall occupied by Companies C and D of the Twenty-third Regiment. One more win will give this mess the cup awarded to the mess keeping the best sanitary conditions.

The training schedule for the second week will be followed closely with the Twenty-third Regiment undergoing training in field problems and the Twentieth Regiment going on the range.

William F. Burke's Funeral Tomorrow

Former Policeman Will Be Buried in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Funeral services for William F. Burke, former policeman, will be held at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow at his home, 2204 Lawrence street northeast. Requiem mass will be held at 9 a. m. at the Church of St. Francis de Sales. Interment will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Burke was found dead early Saturday in a rooming house at 1208 N street northwest. After investigation, Acting Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald issued a certificate of death from natural causes, but instituted a chemical examination of the contents of Burke's stomach and also called for a blood analysis. Detectives found a quantity of sleeping tablets in the room where Burke's body was found.

During his fourteen years on the police force Burke came to public notice several times. He was a member of Capt. Guy Burlingame's "flying squadron" and of Lieut. O. J. Letterman's vice squad. During his service he appeared before the Trial Board several times, finally being dismissed in December, 1930, on a charge of intoxication.

Mrs. Louella Fouts Last Rites Today

Native of Yates City, Ill., to Be Buried in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Louella B. Fouts, of 1330 Belmont street northwest, will be held at the funeral parlors of W. W. Chambers at 2 p. m. today. Burial will be in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Mrs. Fouts was born at Yates City, Ill., on April 2, 1860, and was married to Levi N. Fouts in 1886. After assisting her husband in teaching for several years in high schools and colleges, she came with him to Washington in 1898 when he was appointed an assistant examiner in the Patent Office.

Her teaching activities continued after she came to Washington. In 1909 she took charge of a Bible class at Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church. The class grew from 4 members to 250 members by 1913. Mrs. Fouts is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. P. E. Rowe and Miss Ruth M. Fouts.

Mrs. Shives' Rites Will Be Tomorrow

Member of Ruth Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, Died Saturday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Rebecca J. Shives, long a resident of Washington, who died Saturday at the Washington Sanitarium, Takoma Park, Md., following a protracted illness, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from her late residence, 740 Rittenhouse street. Following services in Trinity Episcopal Church, Piney Branch road and Dahlia street northwest, interment will be in Glenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Shives was a native of Cheltenham, Md. She had lived in this city for more than twenty years and was a member of Ruth Chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Surviving Mrs. Shives are her husband, Jesse A. Shives; two daughters, Mildred and Dorothy Shives, and three brothers, Wallace, George and Novel Curtin, all of Washington.

GRADING AT STADIUM GIVES WORK TO 200

Gotwals Supervises Project at Roosevelt High; More May Be Added.

Two hundred men, drawn from the ranks of the unemployed, are working energetically on grading the new Roosevelt High School athletic field so the field will be ready when the institution opens for the first time on September 19.

Wages of the men are being paid out of the $350,000 unemployment relief fund provided for the District by Congress. The work is being supervised by the office of the Engineer Commissioner of the District, Maj. John C. Gotwals.

Thirty men have been put to work on grading improvement on the athletic field of the Macfarland Junior High School, adjacent to Roosevelt. The former school was deprived of space for its recreational activities when the stadium was begun for the Business High School.

It is hoped that 300 men will comprise the entire force working on the Roosevelt Stadium next week, and it is further planned to put more men to work on the Macfarland field.

Edward R. Williams, president of the Roosevelt High Parent-Teacher Association, expressed extreme gratification yesterday at the progress made by the formerly unemployed workers. He said he was pleased that the men had been given temporary work and spoke highly of their accomplishments so far on the stadium.

Girl Injures Her Ankle In Swimming Pool

She was removed to Emergency Hospital by the Bethesda Rescue Squad and admitted for treatment.

Blessed Eucharist Topic of Lecture

The Blessed Eucharist was the subject of an address by Miss Helen Connolly before the Catholic Evidence Guild on the campus of Catholic University yesterday. Miss Connolly pointed out that when Christ at the Last Supper turned bread and wine into His body and blood and told the apostles to do the same in commemoration of Him, He instituted the means by which He would be the actual living center of His church for all time.

When Christ said, "Except you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you shall not have life in you; He that eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood hath everlasting life," He meant that the apostles should accept literally His statement, Miss Connolly said. When Christ taught this doctrine in the Synagogue of Capharnaum many of the disciples deserted Him. But He did not go after them or explain that His teaching was not to be taken literally, Miss Connolly stated.

Meetings of the Catholic Evidence Guild are held every Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the campus of Catholic University. Various religious questions are discussed.

Man Stabbed Trying To Settle Argument

Knife wounds received last night when he intervened in a quarrel between his landlady and a neighbor may prove fatal to Gus Larsen, 28, of 902 M street northwest, it was said at Emergency Hospital, where Larsen was found to be suffering from severe lacerations of the abdomen and left side.

Larsen was cut when he attempted to assist Mrs. A. L. Glascoe in evicting a man from the Glascoe residence. Jess Robbins, 34, 909 M street northwest was later arrested by Second Precinct police. He is being held at the precinct station on a charge of investigation pending the outcome of Larsen's injuries.

PASTOR DESCRIBES BENEFITS IN SLUMP

May Take Years to Learn How Depression Aided, Says Rev. Holsopple.

"Only such as have known the bitterness of defeat can sense the sweetness of victory," said the Rev. F. F. Holsopple, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, preaching yesterday morning.

"As in depressions of the past, we will ultimately learn that it was good to suffer all these losses. But it will take the perspective of years to learn that it was good for us," the Rev. Mr. Holsopple said.

"It has been the experience of mankind that following periods of loss and depression come periods of reconstruction and advance.

"In a recent conference a man queried, 'What, I should like to know, has become of all the money that was reputed to be in our country before the depression?' No one attempted to give a categorical answer to the query. It seemed to have been here and is now gone. No one knew where it had gone.

Flight of Prosperity.

"It is as though some mighty devourer had ravaged the country and almost overnight our vaunted 'prosperity' had disappeared. Values shrank with unprecedented rapidity. Men whom we considered prosperous were suddenly impoverished. All that was left intact was the obligations that were made during the years of our prosperity.

"A mighty 'eater' was at work. The complete havoc he made can be testified to by multitudes of those who have suffered loss.

"In Milton's 'Samson Agonistes' we have the poet's picture of Samson after he has been betrayed by Delilah. Blinded by his captors, shorn of his strength because he intrusted the secret to his mistress, and set to work as a degraded slave to grind at the mills of the Philistines, we have a picture of degredation and utter despair. As he toiled his locks grew long and his great strength reappeared.

"On the feast of Ashteroth Samson was brought out to make a holiday for the people, who rejoiced because they had in their power one who was feared.

Destruction of Temple.

"His final request of his captors was that he might be permitted to rest against the pillars of the temple. While the multitude were making holiday, rejoicing and drinking, he bowed himself against the pillars of the temple and, as though an earthquake had suddenly occurred, the temple collapsed and the multitude were, with Samson, buried in the debris. In his vengeance Samson compassed also his own death.

"In Samson we have a character with great physical prowess combined with serious moral weaknesses. His strength was in no sense a match for the duplicity and chicanery of those who were weaker but more subtle. He who had successfully resisted the multitudes with no other weapon than the jawbone of an ass could not resist the blandishments of a woman. It was by those in whom he confided that he was betrayed, and in his betrayal suffered loss and defeat.

"In the riddle of life and the solution of its ultimate problems and its final conquest there is no failure but moral failure."

CHURCH ATTENDANCE PROBLEM EXPLAINED

St. Thomas' Preacher Tells How Reluctant May Be Brought Into Fold.

"When attendance falls off, we say that nothing can be done about it. In this, I think, we are altogether wrong," said the Rev. Robert Shores of the clergy staff of St. Margaret's Church, preaching in St. Thomas' Church yesterday.

Taking for his text the twenty-third verse of the fourteenth chapter of St. Luke, "Go into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in," the minister declared that it was the present duty of the church to restore faith, hope and cheer to the world, and that if this duty were discharged men would come to church as they came to Christ.

"This does not mean," said the preacher, "that we must go about with tipstaves and policemen; it does not mean that we must threaten and storm when they stay away. It means that we must employ that same force our Lord employed when He compelled men to follow Him."

St. Augustine's Reservation.

He compared the careless churchgoer with Jonathan Bing in the children's rhyme who forgot his hat, or tie or other necessary thing when he went to visit the king and finally, made up his mind to stay at home.

Reverting to his text, he said:

"In that day, as in this, men were cautious about self-surrender. They had then, as now, a certain hesitancy about complete dedication, such as led St. Augustine in his youth to pray, 'O Lord, make me good, but not yet.'

"But they knew that when they were with Him they felt an assurance they did not feel without Him. He gave them confidence. He gave them hope. He gave them cheer. There is a saying in the business world that a salesman must believe in his goods. So a missionary must believe in his God. If we do not buy hair tonics from bald barbers, neither are we persuaded by those who are obviously insincere, unconvinced or in any wise doubtful of that which they offer in the way of religion. Hopeless men can not give us hope.

"Many False Prophets."

"Men are talking today of the approaching eclipse of the sun. They are interested but not mystified. They know what it means. Mark Twain's Yankee in 'A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court' persuaded his ignorant captors that he had caused the eclipse, which they witnessed, that he had put out the sun and that it would never shine again until he gave the word.

"There are many false prophets among us today who are trying to persuade us that the shadow which has lain on the world for the last two years has come to stay; that the only way to lift it is to abandon our religion, overturn our Government and destroy our civilization. Nobody could persuade us that the sun will not shine again. Nobody should be able to persuade us that the shadow will not lift from the world.

"To point out this truth to humanity is the present business of the church. And when the church fearlessly and sincerely preaches her gospel of hope and cheer, of faith in God and faith in humanity, she, by the same power our Lord used, will compel men to come in."

Man Suffers Loss of Two Fingers in Auto Crash

Henry B. Belcher, of 313 Tennessee avenue northeast, suffered the loss of two fingers on his left hand yesterday afternoon when his car collided head-on with another machine at Thirtieth and Q streets northwest. He was taken to Emergency Hospital, where his condition was said not to be serious.

NATS WIN 13-INNING THRILLER FROM BROWNS, 7-6

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

A NATIONAL champion begins the defense of his title today and it is not easy to recall his name to mind. The casual follower of golf news and events may be startled to learn that Tom Creavy, of Buffalo, is the reigning king in the national professional golf tournament at St. Paul.

As national champions go, Tom Creavy has been among the most unobtrusive. The youth who shocked the golfing world by knocking over Gene Sarazen in the semi-finals last year by a score of 5 to 3 and then going on to defeat Denny Shulte in the finals, has been in virtually total eclipse ever since, figuring in the news about as frequently as Helen Wills' husband.

Protecting Integrity Of Pro Golf.

The current P. G. A. tournament is striking a hard blow in the interest of the integrity of professional golf.

Gene Sarazen and Leo Diegel, two of the outstanding drawing cards whose presence are deemed vital to the finances of a national tournament are on the sidelines at the cost of many dollars to the Professional Golfers Association.

It would have been easy for Sarazen to accept an automatic qualifying berth by reason of his British and United States Open triumphs, but he chose to take his chances in the qualifying round and lost. Sarazen's assistant, Arthur Lacey, qualified, and it would have been an easy matter for Lacey to drop out, thus qualifying Sarazen, who was first alternate in the metropolitan sector, but such has not come to pass. Diegel, too, might have prevailed upon a lesser light to withdraw.

Schmeling-Walker Ballyhoo.

The ballyhoo for the Schmeling-Walker battle next month was unloosed in a distinctly novel manner yesterday when a convenient airplane accident focused attention upon the German's departure for his training camp at Spectacular, N. Y.

Twenty days before the battle in Madison Square Garden's new bowl of punch at Long Island City, there are indications that the bout will be well attended and another financial success.

The scriveners are not yet recovered from the shock of the capacity attendance at the Sharkey-Schmeling fight in June when a financial flop was freely predicted only to see the fans fighting their way to get into the stadium to the number of 80,000.

Walker Knows Not How to Retreat.

A Schmeling-Walker match recalls last year's Sharkey-Walker bout, which developed almost as much controversy as last June's championship fight between the German and the Boston sailor man. Sharkey was given a draw with Walker at the end of fifteen rounds which saw the little Jerseyman outmaul the Bostonian to an extent that many of the critics thought Walker entitled to the verdict.

There is reason to believe that a Schmeling-Walker battle holds more in store for the fans than the German's fight with Sharkey. The Bostonian in that bout was a backsliding, backstepping, defensive boxer lacking the spark that helped him up the ladder in his younger days. Walker doesn't know how to retrace his steps in the ring.

Walker is destined to provide Schmeling with a more lively evening than did Sharkey despite the fact that Schmeling lost the decision last June. It will be a better fight, but this department cannot see Walker as the next champion with Schmeling and Sharkey still hanging around.

Barry Beats Houghton by Decision

By DAVE HERMAN.

THEY threw an inexperienced fighter at Donald (Reds) Barry, 18-year-old Washington boxer, last night at Twin City Arena in Laurel, and the District heavyweight, returning to a familiar canvas after several months of scrapping in New York rings, coasted to one of the easiest victories of his career.

Barry's victim was Eddie Houghton, a rangy sparring partner from Tommy Loughran's Philadelphia camp. It was Houghton's eighth fight but he was game to the core as Reds unlimbered everything in his boxing category. Barry won every round except the first, which they fought on even terms. At the finish Houghton was groggy, happy, however, in the thought that the punishment had ceased.

Bout Listless From Start.

The bout, an eight-rounder, was listless from the start and was not the rip-snorting fight that fans had expected. Throughout the match, spectators voiced their disapproval, and Referee Ed Brockman continuously pleaded with the two boxers to "step in and mix it."

In the fours, Henry Irving, of the District, fought to a draw with Stanley Skeeba, of Fort Myer; Stanley Zinkhan scored a technical knockout over Sailor Leonard, Baltimore, and Doug Swetman whipped Sammy Romano.

Macks and Tigers Divide in Twin Bill

A's Win Opener, 8 to 3, Then Bow, 10 to 7; Error for Hayworth.

Philadelphia, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Detroit and the Athletics halved a double-header today, the A's winning the first game, 8 to 3, with a six-run rally in the eighth inning, and the Tigers capturing the second contest, 10 to 7, by breaking a tie with three runs in the ninth frame.

Detroit led the Macks, 3 to 0, in the seventh inning of the opener, when Eric McNair wallopped a home run with Foxx on base. Then came the big parade in the eighth, giving the Athletics an impregnable lead, and George Earnshaw his seventeenth victory of the season.

Yanks Rich in Experience in World Series in Sharp Contrast to Grimm's Cubs

By EDWARD J. NEIL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—The combatants may growl, cross their fingers, and insist it's too early to talk about world series, but as far as the rest of the baseball world is concerned the Cubs and Yankees are going to play themselves seven games or less this fall for the world championship.

So it's particularly interesting to note that the Yankees, led by that hoary veteran of title play, Babe Ruth, will carry into the crucial action just about double the experience of the National League champions.

Over his record-shattering career the big Bambino, going as strongly today on his shaky legs as he did in his glamorous youth, has played in nine world series, a mark no other hickory swinger in history can challenge.

Yankees' Experience Totals 27 Years.

His personal contribution toward the thing that counts most when the going is toughest and the pressure tightest—experience—lifts the total of the Yankee team to a round 27 years of world series play, excluding the master-minding of Joe McCarthy and his right-hand man, Jimmy (Sunset) Burke, whose mental efforts failed to lift the Cubs above a single victory over the Athletics in the 1929 classic.

On the other hands the Cubs, with only Kiki Cuyler, embattled old Burleigh Grimes, and the recently rejuvenated Mark Koenig boasting more than a single year of World Series experience, can total only 15 years of play in baseball's annual climax.

And of these, strangely enough, Grimes and Koenig played in six on alien fields while Cuyler, in three World Series, played one in Pittsburgh in 1925, saw another from the Pirate bench in 1927, and competed again for the Cubs in the 1929 series with the Athletics. Koenig's World Series experience was gathered as a member of the Yankees' infild in the fall battles of 1926, 1927, and 1928.

Bush Only Pitcher to Win a Game.

The remainder of the Cub's veterans, manager Charley Grimm, "Old Hoss" Stephenson, Gabby Hartnett, and Pitchers Guy Bush, Charley Root and Pat Malone saw only one engagement, the disastrous 1929 campaign. Of the pitchers Bush alone tossed a winning game and only Koenig, in the rival league, and Grimes with the Cardinals last fall, have played with world champions.

The Yanks, on the other hand, sparkle with triumphant campaigners. Joe Sewell and Ruth played on championship outfits before coming to the Yankees, while Herb Pennock,

BEACH FIRST IN PRO GOLF STAKES

Second place was captured by Al Treador, Monor tutor, who had a 38—38—76. A. B. Thorn, of Woodmount, scored a 79, after shooting a 38 on the incoming nine. Thorn's assistant, Claude Orndorff, went out in 43, but flashed a better game on the journey home to wind up with 81. Cliff Spencer, home par, shot an 82, and Tony Sylvester, of Bannockburn, 84.

Mrs. Hall's 77 Leads Field at Washington

Mrs. William E. Hall got off to a flying start in the two-day 6-hole medal handicap tournament for women yesterday at the Washington Golf and Country Club, having a medal score of 91 with a 14 handicap for a 77.

Mrs. Hall's 44—47 was low for the day—the only entry to break 100.

With fourteen players competing, Mrs. Hall topped Mrs. C. H. Merrilat, who had a 100—19, by four strokes.

Eighteen more holes will be played this morning, with the winner to receive a replica of the beautiful silver trophy which Dr. Stewart Muncaster, prominent member of the Washington Golf and Country Club, is donating.

Mrs. William E. Hall, 91—14—77; Mrs. C. H. Merrilat, 100—19—81; Mrs. Douglas Tschiffely, 102—19—83; Mrs. W. F. Draper, 101—18—83; Mrs. J. E. McCabe, 106—22—84; Mrs. G. C. Roney, 119—35—84; Mrs. I. W. Carnera and Schaaf Matched for Sept. 29

New York, Aug. 29 (U.P.).—Humbert Fugazy, promoter for Ebbets Field, announced today that he had matched Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight, and Ernie Schaaf, of Boston, for a twelve-round bout on September 29.

Chicago Group Buys Fair Grounds Track

The syndicate, Murphy announced, purchased 2,778 shares of the stock in the Louisiana Jockey Club, which operates the track, from E. R. Bradley, the principal owner. The purchase price was reported to be in the neighborhood of $700,000.

WALKER CUP PLAYERS IN PRACTICE

Voigt Has Subpar 70 to Lead; Ouimet, Johnston Idle.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 29 (A.P.). Every member of the American Walker Cup Golf Team today reported at the country club, scene of international matches with the British on Thursday and Friday, and all except two of the homebreds managed to get in impressive practice rounds.

Capt. Francis Ouimet, stricken with a heavy cold last week, felt strong enough to follow a foursome for a few holes. His physicians did not decide he was fit to go outdoors until late in the afternoon.

Johnston Will Be Ready, He Says.

The national champion was accompanied by Harrison R. ("Jimmy") Johnston, of St. Paul, who arrived here suffering from a twisted ankle. He explained he received the injury while playing tennis Saturday. It did not appear to give him much trouble and made his prediction, "I'll be in shape to play Thursday" sound convincing.

George Voigt, of New York, who got in a few licks at the historic layout yesterday, was in rare form, getting a subpar 70 on his afternoon round. Jess Sweetser, another veteran internationalist, had an easy time shooting a par 71. He appeared fully recovered from his recent illness. Sweetser is no stranger to the country club lay-out. While winning his 1922 championship on that course, he gave Bobby Jones an 8 and 7 drubbing in one of the early matches.

Long Shot and Choice Finish in Dead Heat

Chicago, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Tommy Tickle, owned by the Leader Stable, and H. O'Neil's Battle Ax raced the first dead heat since horse racing was revived in Chicago in 1926 in the eighth race at Hawthorne today.

Tommy Tickle, ridden by Melvin Lewis, took the lead at the quarter and held it into the stretch of the 1⅛-mile race. George Woolf, on Battle Ax, caught the leader and pulled out in front with a sixteenth to go. Lewis shook his mount up for one more effort, and they raced the last few strides on even terms.

104 Golf Pros Start Quest For Title

Qualify Today in U. S. Tourney on Links at St. Paul.

By PAUL MICKELSON.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 29 (A.P.).—The big push for the professional golf championship of America opens over the trapped reinforced Keller fee course tomorrow with every important pro of the Nation, excepting Gene Sarazen and Leo Diegel, in the big drive.

Although Sarazen and Diegel long since announced they would not accept a berth among the 104 qualifiers because of their failure to land among the low 14 in the Metropolitan trials, they didn't have a chance tonight. Entries at the registration bureau disclosed every Metropolitan qualifier had arrived early.

152 Score Seen as Qualifying Limit.

The general consensus was it would take between 149 and 152 shots to land in the qualifying bracket of 32 after tomorrow's 36-hole qualifying test. And if there was one outstanding championship player in the field, it was Harry Cooper, of Chicago, a great shot maker who won thte $10,000 St. Paul open over the same course in 1930 and finished a good second last year.

Walter Hagen, five times winner of the crown, astounded the tournament officials by showing up for a practice round. It was the first time in many years Sir Walter had even taken the trouble to drill for a tournament or even to show up exactly in time to start. He shot a 67 at the Interlachen course.

Others included Johnny Farrell, of New York; Olin Dutra, of Los Angeles; Tommy Armour, of Detroit; Billy Burke, of Greenwich, Conn.; John Golden, of Noroton, Conn.; Horton Smith, Chicago, and Denny Shute, of Cleveland, runner-up last year to Tom Creavy, of Albany, N. Y., defending champion. Creavy appeared a trifle off his game in the practice rounds, but had one distinct advantage in the fact he didn't have to play 36 holes to qualify.

After tomorrow's 36-hole grind, the battle for the title will revert to match play with 36-hole rounds daily through the championship final Sunday.

Al Houghton, Mel Shorey, Capital Hopes, on Scene

St. Paul, Aug. 29.—The twin threats from Washington, D. C., Al Houghton and Mel Shorey, winners of first and second places in the Middle Atlantic qualifying play, were on the scene of action today. Houghton, in a practice round, continued the fine golf which has marked him in Middle Atlantic competition this year.

Rites for Dick Hughes Will Be Held Today

Funeral services for Dick Hughes, well-known sandlot baseball pitcher, who died Saturday, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from his residence, 4015 Grant street northeast. Members of the Griffith-Blue Coat team will act as honorary pallbearers. Hughes was on the roster of the team until his death.

Death followed an attack of pleurisy which developed into pneumonia. A blood transfusion was of no avail.

12 Walks Aid Indians To Beat Red Sox, 6-3

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Cleveland did little hitting today, but the Red Sox pitchers were unable to find the plate, the visitors winning 6 to 3.

The Indians made only five hits, while the Sox made nine, but Dusty Rhodes and McHaughton issued twelve bases on balls between them. Averill walked in five tripe to the plate, and Willie Kamm drove in three runs.

YANKEES WIN PAIR FROM WHITE SOX

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Lefty Gomez and Charlie Ruffing rang up their twenty-second and sixteenth victories, respectively, today as the flagbound Yankees took a double fall out of the Chicago White Sox, 10 to 3 and 4 to 3.

Ruffing, the league's strike-out artist, had a close brush before he subdued the scrapping Hose in the nightcap. The big redhead was pounded for thirteen hits, and would have gone down but for the hard and timely hitting of Ben Chapman, whose three hits brought in half the Yankee runs.

By striking out five batters, Ruffing ran his total for the season to 174, just one lesss than were accumulated by Lefty Grove last year in leading both leagues. The Yanks at the same time were breaking one of their own records. The ran the number of consecutive games in which they have scored to 129, one more than the previous mark of 128 games without a shutout set by the Yankees of 1927.

MARLBORO OPENING TODAY TO DRAW CAPITAL RACE FANS

Horse Races Back After 3 Months

WASHINGTONIANS in large numbers will be eyewitnesses to horse racing again today when the bangtails, absent since late in May, return to nearby Maryland to open the five-day meeting of the Maryland Agricultural Fair Association over the half-mile Marlboro course down in Prince Georges County. Depression or no depression, Capital fans want their racing and a steady stream of cars is expected to cross the Pennsylvania avenue bridge this afternoon en route to the historic track.

The Marlboro Fair, which, of course, is featured by the seven-race daily program, draws 90 per cent of its patronage from the District and the meeting has come to be known as Washington's own little battle with the horses.

Large Fields Assured.

The entries for today as well as the list of horses stalled at the track, reveal that a higher class of racers than ever before are available. With many horses on the grounds, large fields are assured and the management has announced it will cater to winning horses in mapping its programs, rather than to losers, as is the case on most half-mile tracks.

Among the feature races for the rest of the week are the Mount Vernon, today's outstanding event; the Brandywine, Chesapeake Beach, Potomac, District of Columbia, Sherwood Forest, the Willard, the Mayflower and the Washington purses.

A new result and approximate odds board has been erected and the turns on the track have been resurfaced. Officials have announced that tickets will be taken up at the end of the grandstand this meeting instead of at the gate of the grounds. This latter method has annually created a traffic jam.

Two-year-old maidens will open the program today as usual. They will be ushered to the post at 2 o'clock.

Hundleys and Orioles Open Series Tomorrow

The Capital City League insect division championship series will get under way tomorrow morning when the Ben Hundleys clash with the Orioles at 11 o'clock on the East Elipse diamond. The Hundleys won the honors in the first half and the Orioles triumphed in the second.

Johnny Coakley, who won an easy victory over the Hundleys in the second turn around the circuit, is Manager "Rip" Mills' choice for mound duty in the inaugural. Coakley held his opponents to six hits and two runs the last time he faced them. Bernie Baker, who pitched both games for the tire dealers against the Orioles, probably will see service tomorrow. He won a 10-9 decision over his opponents in the first game, but was beaten in the second.

JOE AND ASBESTOS

(Watch Sunday's Post for New Secret Code) —By Ken Kling

The muddy track caused Asbestos' horse to be scratched. The change in track conditions also ruined Joe's handicap figures, but those are the kind of breaks they have been getting lately. But this awful luck can't keep up forev . Asbestos' bank roll is $26.60. Joe's bank roll is $184.25. The code today is Bainbridge, 14-6-14-14-2-20-8-1.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

DEAR AL: EN ROUTE TO MARLBORO, AUG. 29.

The boss came to my rescue. Just as I was going to do something desperate about this Hawthorne business, I get a wire—"On to Marlboro." I sold the ticket on my watch and grabbed the first train. Just give me one drink of that cold well water out of that old barrel and I believe I can make Fourth Ward beat Equipoise. Boy! Oh boy! A dose of that good old Marlboro dust on my shoes, a deuce ticket on a long shot and eye room on the top of the hill by the stretch turn and I can let the rest of the world go by.

I'm going to get down early tomorrow to inspect the tobacco and corn and maybe get a hot thing or two from the sheriff. BILL.

FIRST RACE—AELLA'S three starts have been made on half-mile courses and the daughter of Chatterton gave evidence of leaving the maiden ranks early in her races at Cumberland. Placed to Sisko last out after setting the early pace. LEZEV ran a good race at Fort Erie, losing only by two and one-half lengths. LADY TOURNAMENT, a first-time starter, goes to the post with the Trueman stamp.

SECOND RACE—BENISH WAY is something of a half-mile track star and has capably handled the 120 pounds assigned him tomorrow. Finished right up with Hagerstown and others in a blanket finish at Cumberland. TANG looms as a dangerous one. Showed two fine races up the line and if the mud comes up, will be hard to handle. LORD TOURNAMENT has class on the others, but had a habit last spring of running out and this kind have a lot of trouble on the short courses.

THIRD RACE—GRAND ACRE performed brilliantly in his only start at Cumberland and although asked to sprint today, appears the best. FOURTH WARD showed a neat flash of form up North and may make the Goodacre horse step. ROLAND GREY to show.

FOURTH RACE—HAGERSTOWN looks like the best bet of the day. This one is in top form and needs only to run his race. BRIGHT BIRD will be right there if the top fellow makes mistakes. BABOO is my long shot to show. Aside from an apparent dislike for the half-mile tracks, this one is as fast as anything in the race.

FIFTH RACE—NOISY MISS, a Royal Canopy lass, was out three times at Cumberland and seemed to be working up to a winning performance. SANDY SAN defeated her the last time, but I see a reversal due. PRIMLIN to beat the others.

SIXTH RACE—KAFFA'S last was impressive although the opposition was cheap. The same effort tomorrow will add another purse. HIGH SOCKS drops 8 pounds and may take the place. FRANCES COOPER is always dangerous among this kind.

SEVENTH RACE—SAND BELL and Jockey Prain to end the winning streak of DARK AYR. Both are at tops after Cumberland victories. Old PLAIN DEALER appears to be the sleeper.

TIE IS LIKELY IN JUNIOR SECTION

Fussells Can Share Lead by Downing S. W. Merchants.

PRESENTED with the opportunity of tying the Georgetown A. C. for the second-half honors of the junior division of the Capital City League, Manager Jim Mathews plans to start his strongest team in an effort to add the necessary victory to the Fussell-Young team's record. Southwest Merchants will oppose the ice cream manufacturers, and from the haphazard way this team has performed in its recent games, it seems that nothing short of a miracle can prevent Fussell-Young from winning.

Mathews, however, distinctly remembers that the Dixie Polish nine, after apparently clinching the first-half laurels, was defeated by the lowly Wheeler Club team in a postponed game and subsequently lost the title.

Fussell-Young Nine Choice.

If the old apple cart doesn't topple over Sunday, Georgetown will stack up against Fussell-Young the following week in a single game for the second-half honors. Should "Buck" Trundle's charges win, the race will be over, but a loss will necessitate the playing of a three-game series for the city championship.

Col. Hjalmar Ericson, president of the league, last night ruled against the Dixie Pigs, who lost to Columbia Heights Sunday in the deciding game of the unlimited championship series, on their protest of Eddie Colliflower, Heights second sacker. Col. Ericson stated that a protest should have been entered when the eligibility lists of the teams were examined at the meeting of the managers held before the start of the series.

AUTHS WIN AGAIN.

Stocks Again Yield Advance To Attack of Profit-Takers

Market Closes Fraction Up, Despite Losses; Sales, 3,923,850 Shares.

New York, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—The bull campaign in financial markets was pursued with vigor, but it met considerable opposition from profit-taking sales today.

Stocks pushed up vigorously at times, with coppers and a sprinkling of utilities and industrials advancing briskly, obtaining considerable support from advancing commodities.

Industrial and corporation news remained more favorable than otherwise, including report of some quickening of steel production in the Youngstown area. Announcement of a receivership for United Cigar Stores of America was probably not an important factor, as it was not wholly unanticipated.

The movement in the coppers followed strength of that metal in the London market during the past week, and was accompanied by unconfirmed rumors that domestic producers were planning a sharp increase in the metal price here, to take advantage of the 4-cent-a-pound tariff. The metal showed a firm tone at 5½ cents a pound, which is said to be substantially under average production costs in the United States.

American Smelting touched 24, a new high for the year, and closed at 22¾, up 1½ points. Anaconda and Kennecott rose 1 to nearly 2 points, and maintained most of their gains. Green Cananea rose 2½, to 21, a new high for 1932, in a small turnover.

Electrical equipments were strong, presumably reflecting the hope that the effort to induce industry to make substantial expenditures at this time to renovation of equipment should help them. General Electric touched 22, up 1¾, and closed within ⅛ of the best. Westinghouse Electric pushed up 3 to a new high for the year, then lost half its gain.

Rails encountered considerable pressure. Union Pacific closed off 2½ points, and Santa Fe and New York Central lost about a point. U. S. Steel and American Telephone closed with fractional net losses. United Cigar Stores was an active low-priced issue, in advance of the receivership announcement, accounting for more than 250,000 shares of the day's total turnover in the stock exchange of 3,923,850 shares.

Stocks unchanged	145	139
Total issues traded	809	721

Stocks.

Profit takers again slowed down bullish operations and held stocks to a rise of two-tenths. The turnover was 3,923,850 shares.

Bonds.

The market was hesitant, and the list averaged a fractional loss. High-grade issues showed firmness on profit sales. Volume of trading dropped to $10,197,000.

Curb.

Wheat.

Heavy buying again boosted the price of wheat more than 1 cent. Corn and oats also made strong advances. Provisions were irregular.

Cotton.

After gaining about $1.50 per bale and July selling at 10 cents, the market sold down 2 to 9 points. December closed at 9.31.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

London—Trading was cheerful and prices firm on the stock exchange due to favorable Wall street and Paris reports and renewed buying. Rubber shares were a feature and commodity issues also improved. Russian issues rose on copper prospects while Brazilian issues were weak. Textile shares were affected by the cotton strike. The market closed steady.

Paris—Prices on the bourse continued to improve on Wall street news and the rise in London metals. The gains in cotton also imparted firmness. Led by French rentes and stimulated by conversion reports prices rose substantially in all sections and closed firm.

Berlin—Stimulated by the government's economic program, which surpassed expectations, prices on the boerse developed a regular boom. There were considerable orders from private interests and abroad. The closing was strong with Reichsbank shares 6 points higher. Dye Trust 3. German General Electric 5, and shipping interests generally 1 to 2.

Curb Gains Sliced After Record Sale

New York, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Fresh buying enthusiasm greeted the opening of the curb market today, but under force of profit taking in the late trading early gains were largely washed away, and the market was irregular at the close.

Total transactions reached the highest total since September 21, 1931. They reached 840,000 shares.

Electric Bond & Share common led the early uprush to higher levels, reaching a peak price of 48, but it reacted to close at 43⅞ where it was off ½ point on the day. American Superpower was one of the leaders in point of activity. The stock pushed through 10 for a new high for the year and closed at 9 for a gain of 2¾ points.

The Swift Packing issues were sold fairly heavily, the omission of dividend payments by Swift & Co. coming as a distinct surprise to most Wall street traders. This stock broke 3½ points to close at 10, and Swift International was off a fraction.

U. S. Banks Cut Interest Rate On Short Loans in Germany

New York, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Abbott Goodhue, chairman of the committee of American banks interested in short-term credits in Germany, announced today that the banks had agreed to cut the rate of interest on a portion of the short-term loans to 5 per cent from 6 per cent.

It was understood that the reduction affects about half of loans aggregating $400,000,000.

Bonds Fraction Off In Irregular Sales

High-Grade Issues Show Firming Tendencies in Profit Taking.

It was the slowest full day's session in several weeks, sales totaling only $10,197,000 par value. The average for 60 corporate securities stepped back .3 of a point.

Profit taking in the speculative rail group proved a somewhat unsettling factor. Many of the low-grade carriers dropped from 1 to 4 or more points.

Loans of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co. were given some assistance by announcement that the road expected to meet its September 1 charges through cooperation of the Railroad Credit Corporation. The company's 4½s gained 1¾, but the 5s lost 2½ points. The higher grade carrier issues were comparatively steady.

Declines of 1 to 2 or more points were suffered by some issues of Allegheny Corporation, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake Corporation, Chicago & Northwestern, Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific and Wabash.

The utilities and industrials were mixed. International Telephone, Postal Telegraph and Western Union loans sagged. Fisk Rubber 8s were up more than 5.

Argentine government obligations lost from 1 to 4 points and the Australians eased. The Germans rallied, as did some the Japanese.

Lumber Trade Mounts On Increase of Orders

New York, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Lumber mills last week experienced the most favorable flow of new business in several months, the National Lumber Manufacturers Association reports. Orders amounted to 144,780,000 feet, or 32 per cent above the production of 109,936,000 feet.

WHEAT VALUES GAIN ON HEAVIER BUYING

Corn and Oats Also Share in Popularity; Provisions Close Irregularly.

Chicago, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Buying power was evident in all grain pits today, but the coarse grains, corn and oats, almost took the play away from wheat. Wheat was active after an early attack of profit taking had been quelled, but corn and oats enjoyed prosperity too. Demand for these cereals, based on belief that rising trends in other commodity markets made grains look cheap by comparison, was the heaviest in some time. Traders again disregarded routine news and followed stock market firmness and sensational advances in cotton.

Wheat closed strong at almost the day's top level, and 1⅛ to 1⅜ above Saturday's finish. Corn also was strong and 1 to 1⅛ higher; oats ⅝ to 1 up, with provisions 2 cents lower to 5 cents advance.

Liverpool wheat was firm, and Winnipeg was stronger than Chicago, wet weather in harvest regions being responsible.

Commission house buying on a big scale was responsible for the upturn in corn and oats. The latter ran up a cent a bushel during the time that profit taking was dragging wheat under. It was the greatest demonstration of the current season in oats.

$47,529,800 IS PAID BY ASSOCIATED GAS

Companies in System Gain Strength as Maturities of 1932 Are Met.

By THOMAS CAHILL.

The financial position of companies in the Associated Gas & Electric System has been strengthened by the payment of $47,529,800 worth of obligations maturing in 1932 with which they were faced on January 1, 1932. The step that completed this financing was taken August 15, when the balance of the $2,382,000 maturity of General Gas & Electric Corporation was met. Just before this, on August 12, the financing of the $7,500,000 note issue of Staten Island Edison Corporation was completed.

The largest maturity in companies of the New England Gas & Electric Association (which is one of the two major units of the Associated System), was th. $4,460,000 note issue of New Bedford Gas & Edison Light Co. These notes, due June 15, 1932, were paid at maturity with funds obtained from bank loans. The loans are to be repaid out of earnings over a period of two years.

At the beginning of the year the Associated Gas & Electric Co. itself was faced with the necessity of paying $10,440,153 in bank loans and purchase money obligations contracted during the company's period of expansion. This figure was a reduction from $23,831,793 outstanding at the beginning of 1931. All these obligations were paid by June 16, 1932, leaving the Associated Gas & Electric Co. without further obligations of any importance which had been unprovided for, maturing before 1948.

Obligations of three major subsidiary companies, Staten Island Edison Corporation, $7,500,000; Rochester Gas & Electric Corporation, $10,000,000, and Pennsylvania Electric Co., $9,000,000, were also financed.

This financing was accomplished with proceeds from the sale of Associated Gas & Electric Corporation 8 per cent eight-year gold bonds, of mortgage issues of operating subsidiary companies, with loans from bankers, and through exchange of securities. Indebtedness to the banks incurred by the Rochester maturity has been met by the sale of an issue of $8,478,000 of Rochester Gas & Electric Corporation general mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds, due 1962, series E.

Bankruptcy Plea Filed By United Cigar Stores

New York, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—The United Cigar Stores Co. of America, with 810 stores in the principal cities throughout the country, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy today.

The petition listed liabilities of $9,502,029.90, with the principal liability $8,515,000 as guarantor for the Cigar Stores Realty Holdings, Inc., an affiliate which also filed a petition in bankruptcy today. Book value assets of $8,341,634.98 were listed.

The realty affiliate listed liabilities at $8,701,000 and assets with a book value of $9,811,957. The petition also listed "possible liabilities" of $5,306,250 arising out of deficiency judgments in foreclosure proceedings.

COTTON PRICES SAG AFTER HEAVY GAINS

Ten Cents Reached for July in Early Trading; Losses 2 to 9 Points.

New York, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—A further advance of about $1.50 a bale in cotton here today, which carried the prices of July contracts up to the 10-cent level and December to 9.86, or 35 points above the closing quotation of last week, was followed by reactions under realizing and selling for a reaction.

December sold off to 9.30, or 36 points from the best and closed at 9.31, with the general market closing barely steady, net 2 points higher to 9 points lower.

Offerings were absorbed on comparatively moderate reactions and the market reached the highest prices of the day and movement during the afternoon. Apprehensions that the tropical storm approaching the Florida Coast from the Bahamas, might cause some damage, and continued bullish crop advices from the South were contributing factors on the advance which carried active months about 31 to 35 points above the previous finals.

The market broke rapidly in the late trading on general realizing. A private crop report placing the condition at 57.9 and the indicated yield at 11,900,000 bales compared with an indication of 12,575,000 bales by the same authority a month ago, may have contributed to the reaction which carried prices back to about the previous finals.

December selling at 9.66 on today's advance was $21.80 per bale above the low level reached by that delivery early last June. Liverpool cables reported general speculative buying supplied by Manchester and Bombay realizing in that market and while houses with Liverpool connections bought here at the opening, they were credited with selling later on the differences. Exports today 26,397, making 401,698 so far this season.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Against all the traditions of August dullness some of the commodity markets today enjoyed the distinction of record turnover. On the New York Cocoa Exchange the volume of business was 9,451 tons, an all-time high record, while the business done on the Rubber Exchange of New York, 6,620 tons, was the heaviest since May, 1929. The New York Curb Exchange had its biggest day this year with a turnover of 840,000 shares.

Effective September 1 the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey is reducing the commissions to retail agents in New Jersey to 2½ cents from 3 cents a gallon.

The much postponed auction of the collateral of Insull Utilities Investment, Inc., and Corporation Securities Co., held by New York banks has been put off until August 31, it was announced today.

TRADE AND CREDITS DECLARED ON MEND

Westinghouse Head Reviews Industry at Pittsburgh Chamber Meeting.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29 (A.P.).—Financial and credit affairs "are clearly and positively better," said A. W. Robertson, chairman of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co., speaking before a group of industrial and business leaders at the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce today.

Mr. Robertson outlined the purposes of the national committee on rehabilitation, of which he was made chairman at the economic conference in Washington last week. He explained the committee was formed to induce manufacturing and other industries to make capital expenditures now for the rehabilitation of plant and the replacement of obsolete and worn-out equipment.

"Improvement or alternation work done now," he continued, "would be helpful in many ways. It would help unemployment. It would cost less. It would interfere little with routine production."

Stressing financial conditions favorable to the sort of work which his committee is promoting, Mr. Robertson pointed out that excess reserves of member banks of the Federal Reserve system approximate $300,000,000, forming a basis for expansion of bank credit, and in consequence, bank deposits, of a potention maximum of some $3,000,000,000. Currency hoarding, he added, is clearly decreasing, and gold is returning from abroad.

While explaining the amount of credit expansion which these trends may induce may be a matter of guess work, he estimated that it should amount to $5,000,000,000.

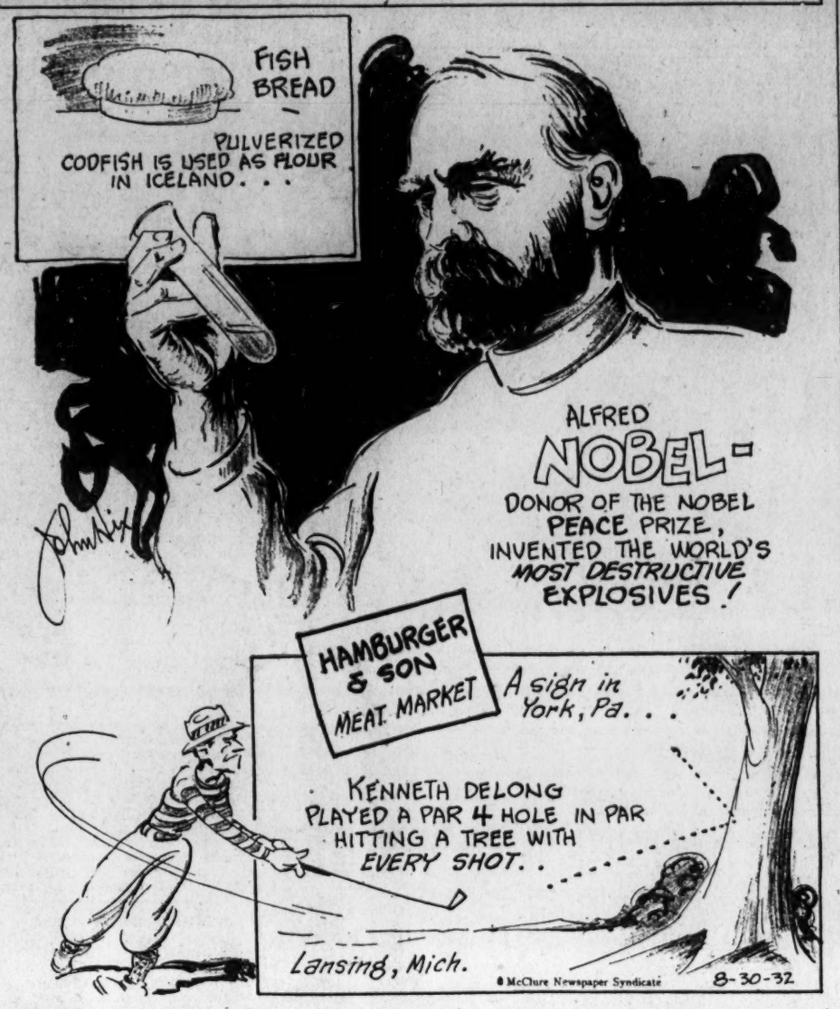
STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix



FROM a fortune founded on the invention and manufacture of high explosives used in war comes the money distributed annually as the "Nobel Peace Prize" to the person or society that does the most to preserve and assure peace among nations. Alfred B. Nobel's life was devoted to the creation of complex explosives that make modern warfare the most destructive in the history of the world.

Strange as it seems, the Swedish inventor was firm in his belief that his inventions would so horrify nations that none would wage war upon his neighbor. It was not, biographers agree, a gesture to ease his conscience that caused Nobel to create his several annual awards for persons outstanding in physics, chemistry, medicine, literature and peace.

A stroke into a tree is, often as not, a wasted stroke for the golfer. But not for Kenneth DeLong, who two years ago made a hole in par on the Grosbeck Municipal Links at Lansing, Mich., hitting a tree with each shot. The par-four hole was played as follows:

DeLong sliced the tee shot and hit a tree, the ball bounding back onto the fairway. The second shot, played high, fell through the branches of a clump of trees, near the green. The third, a niblick, bounded from a small stone into a tree and came to rest behind a small sapling just off the green. Playing the fourth shot with a putter, DeLong grazed the sapling. The ball rolled on the green and into the cup—for par.

TRAIN HURTS MAN LYING NEAR TRACK

Victim Is Believed to Be Dying in Hospital From Fractured Skull.

Charles Kline, 50 years old, a painter of Maryland Park, Md., was seriously injured last night when struck by a train as he lay near the tracks on the Chesapeake Beach Railway near the District Line.

More than 50 minutes were required to transfer the man to Casualty Hospital, where he is believed to be dying from a fractured skull.

The train, according to Everfield Marquess, the engineer, of Chesapeake Beach, Md., left that place for the Capital at 7 o'clock. As it neared the District Line station, he said it struck the man who was lying near the tracks, with his head between two ties.

The man was brought to the station and a call was placed for the Casualty Hospital ambulance. First-aid treatment was given the man by Dr. Raymond Apgar, of 6119 Dix street northeast. After a wait of more than a half hour, members of the Seat Pleasant Rescue Squad started for Washington with Kline in the fire engine. They stopped at Dr. Apgar's home.

At Third and Benning road northeast, Kline was transferred to the Casualty Hospital ambulance, which had been answering another call when the summons came from Seat Pleasant.

Army Band Will Play Selections for Children

A musical program by the Army Band will supplement the children's presentation of "Playground Night" at the final summer festival tomorrow night at 7 o'clock at the Sylvan Theater.

Juvenile selections will be featured by the band. The playground program, directed by Miss Maude Parker, of the Playground Department, will include folk dances, tumbling and a march and dance sketch.

Patrolman Is Injured In Alleged Rum Chase

Patrolman Robert E. Talbott, of the Third Precinct, was slightly injured last night when he leaped to the running board of an allegedly liquor-laden automobile on N street near Twenty-fourth street northwest.

The policeman became suspicious of the automobile, and when it passed him he jumped to the running board, slightly injuring his left leg. The driver, Ralph Turner, 22 years old, of 1114 Abbey place northeast, was charged with illegal possession of 24 pints of alleged liquor and driving without a permit. Stewart Humberger, 26 years old, of 1504 Columbia road, was also charged with illegal possession. He accompanied Turner.

LABOR DAY PARADE CUP

The Officers' Association of the District Fire Department shows its appreciation of Sergt. A. J. Bargagni's genius in organizing Labor Day policemen and firemen's parades. The cup was given to Sergt. Bargagni last night at the District Building by Capt. John Werheim, president of the association. Sergt. Bargagni, right, will present the cup to the company, Washington entries excepted, which makes the best appearance in next Monday's parade.

BRIDGE LEAP CALLED SUICIDE BY CORONER

Telegraph Office Manager Jumps 145 Feet to His Death.

A certificate of suicide was issued in the death of Douglas S. Broders, 22-year-old manager of a branch office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, who plunged from the Calvert Street bridge early yesterday.

Broders, who was said to have been in ill health, was seen to leave his auto at the approach of the bridge and climb to the rail and drop 145 feet to the driveway. His mother and a brother with whom he lived at 1225 Randolph street northwest, said that he told them that he was going to take a walk before breakfast.

A colored guard at the Zoo found the body on the driveway. The body was removed to the morgue after Emergency Hospital physicians pronounced the man dead. Several persons noticed Broders climb to the rail of the bridge but were unable to prevent the suicide.

Police searched Broder's automobile which he had left on the car tracks but found nothing but a few personal effects and a bankbook. He had been employed at the telegraph company since he was 13 years old and his services there were considered by officials very satisfactory.

Broders was a graduate of the McKinley High School and attended George Washington University. He is survived by his 60-year-old mother, Mrs. J. H. Broders, and a brother, Hewitson Broders, 26, who is also employed at the telegraph concern. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Police Legionnaires Hit Charity Overhead

In a resolution, Washington Police Post of the American Legion yesterday protested against the distribution of funds derived from the Police and Firemen's baseball game by the "Community Chest or any other relief agencies where there is an overhead expense in the granting of relief to the poor or unemployed."

The legion body urged Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford and Chief Engineer George Watson to appoint A. J. R. Lanahan, retiring police officer, and Battalion Chief Nicholson, who will soon retire from the Fire Department, to administer the fund.

'Men at Work' Sign Failure; Liquor Seized

Concealed in a truck disguised as a Maryland State highway vehicle, a truck load of whisky was discovered by Federal dry agents and local police yesterday beneath a covering of roadway repair equipment and signs labeled, "Men at work."

Tipped off that an attempt would be made to bring the liquor in from Maryland, police waited in the vicinity of Soldiers Home and surprised the occupant of the disguised vehicle. Arrested, he gave his name as Anthony J. Tambrino, 28, of Baltimore. He was charged with transportation and possession and with three traffic violations.

The occupants of a car who were said to be lookouts for the liquor truck were arrested by police on a charge of aiding and abetting the transportation of liquor. They gave their names as Raphael Marcontino, 31, and Giuseppi Ranish, 30, both of Baltimore.

$1,500 TO BE GIVEN IN FIREMEN PARADE

District Companies Building More Than 50 Floats for Labor Day.

The greatest list of awards ever given for events in the national firemen and policemen's parade will be presented Labor Day when fire-fighters and policemen from nearby States join the local men in their tenth annual parade.

In addition to giving $1,500 in cash prizes, the Washington Board of Trade and the Greater National Capital committee will also award 40 cups for competitive events, it was announced yesterday.

Sergt. A. J. Bargagni has announced that more than 70 entries from seven adjoining States have been received. Besides the floats which these groups will enter in the parade, there are 50 floats now under construction at local enginehouses and police stations.

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland has accepted the parade committee's invitation to participate. He will be attended by Chief Jesse Fisher, of Annapolis, president of the Maryland Firemen's Association.

Sergt. Bargagni said that he had word from Charlottesville, Va., that its company, which recently won the prize for the best appearing company at the Virginia State Volunteer Firemen's convention in Alexandria, will enter its 125 men, a band and a drum corps in the event Monday.

One of the oldest pieces of fire-fighting apparatus in the country, an old engine from Greencastle, Pa., will also appear in the procession. This antique machine was discovered last year by Sergt. Bargagni and he has arranged for it to be brought here.

Bottle, Hurled at Ball Park, Cuts Boy Fan

A pop bottle, hurled by a fan at the ball game at Griffith Stadium yesterday, broke near Robert C. McGee, 9 years old, of Chevy Chase, Md., and the shattering glass cut the boy's right leg.

The boy was viewing the game with his father when the bottle was thrown. He was treated for the injury at Garfield Hospital and was then taken home. The thrower was not found by police.

Thief Takes Carpenter's Tools.

Carpenter's tools valued at $33 were stolen from a garage in the rear of 427 First street southeast, yesterday, it was reported by Charles M. Fling.

Watch Stolen From Trunk.

Small Girl Bitten by Dog.

Four-year-old Patricia Roberts, of 1347 F street northeast, was treated at a nearby physician's office when a neighbor's dog bit her on her hip while she was playing in the yard in the rear of her home.

TUB OF HOT WATER TAKES CHILD'S LIFE

The only child of Mr. and Mrs. Moody S. Lewis, Moody, Jr., 2½, was fatally scalded yesterday when he toppled into a tub of boiling water on the back porch of his parents' home in Radnor Heights, Va.

His mother was heating water preparatory to pouring it into a washing machine and had poured a portion of the water into a tub which was placed on the porch of their home.

The mother returned to the kitchen to get more water when she heard the child scream as he fell into the tub. Bernard Morse, a neighbor of the Lewis family, was nearby, waiting to transfer the water to the machine, when the child fell.

The baby had been in the kitchen with his mother only a few minutes before he backed into the tub. Morse took the child to the Georgetown University Hospital, where he died at 5 p. m.

Victim Tossed to Death, Is Charge Against Man

A charge of murder was placed against Lawrence King, 34, colored, of 1407 W street northwest, who is alleged to have thrown George Mallory, 37, colored, of 1421 W street northwest, to his death from the second story of Mallory's home after having stabbed him yesterday.

King was said to have broken into Mallory's home and attacked him and then gone to his own home, where he attempted to kill his wife.

Man Policeman Shot Said to Be Improving

The condition of Andrew Herd, 35, of 808 Eighth street southwest, who was shot in the thigh by Policeman Lester A. Howard when he resisted arrest Sunday, was said by Providence Hospital physicians to be improving yesterday.

Mrs. Minnie Lee Nowlan, 54, a neighbor who was watching the struggle, was slightly injured by one of the two bullets fired by the policeman. Herd was charged with being drunk and disorderly and assaulting an officer.

Clerk in Postoffice Is Overcome by Heat

Paul Spaulding, 23 years old, of 316 Fifteenth street southeast, a clerk in the City Postoffice, was overcome by the heat yesterday while at work.

He was taken to Emergency Hospital for treatment and then removed to his home.

Mother Rescues Baby From Fire

Mrs. S. C. Hopkins Braves $1,800 Blaze on Upper Floor.

The infant son of Dr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Hopkins was rescued from suffocation yesterday by his mother when fire broke out in the upper floors of their home at 4910 Hillbrook Lane northwest, causing $1,800 damage.

Thompson, the 1-year-old child, was sleeping in his crib on the second floor when his mother and the household maid detected smoke issuing from the upper floor.

Mrs. Hopkins rushed upstairs through the smoke and carried the child to safety. Their son, Stephen, 5 years old, was on the ground floor when the fire was discovered. Defective wiring was given as cause of the blaze.

Mortgage Situation Better, Fort Holds

(Associated Press.)

Franklin W. Fort, chairman of the Home Loan Board, said yesterday there had been a noticeable easing of the mortgage situation in the face of developing plans by the board to put the system's twelve banks in operation.

The board was working out arrangements yesterday for opening the capital stock subscription books in the various districts and was considering appointees for the 12 banks directorates. Fort said the hope that the setting up of the system would revive demand for mortgages as investments already was materializing.

"Already there has been a relaxation of tension of mortgage money," Fort said, adding, however, that there were "thousands of cases" of mortgagors in difficulty.

GREYHOUND SELECTS SITE FOR TERMINAL

Depot Will Be Located on New York Avenue, Near Fourteenth Street.

A permanent terminal for Greyhound Lines, Inc., and a garage for major servicing of all its buses in the Washington region were announced yesterday by L. C. Major, regional manager. The terminal will be located on the north side of New York avenue, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets northwest, and the garage, on New York avenue extended, between Bladensburg road and Florida avenue.

Bids for the garage, to cost approximately $135,000, will be called for in a few days. This building will be one story high, of brick and stone, and 300 by 115 feet. It will include machine, paint, blacksmith and body shops and will be able to service 122 coaches. Its establishment here will mean a substantial increase in the lines' personnel.

Relative to the terminal, officials of the lines filed application with the Public Utilites Commission yesterday for a formal hearing on its location. The site, which lies west of the Oxford Building at the northwest corner of Fourteenth street and New York avenue, will have a frontage of 122 feet and a depth of 139 feet. The site is leased, subject to the commission's approval, from Mrs. Evalyn Walsh McLean, for a period of ten years, at an unreported consideration. Greyhound Lines, Inc. were represented in the transaction by Shannon & Luchs Co., local realtors.

If the site is approved, Greyhound will erect on it a story-and-a-half brick building with limestone front, having a twelve-coach capacity in its two loading and unloading lanes. The building will be set back 20 feet from the pavement so that buses may enter and leave via New York avenue out of the street traffic line and proceed around the terminal on right-hand turns. The terminal will be a handsome building, including among all modern facilities such conveniences as showers and lounge rooms for passengers. Ralph Cummings, Chicago, is the architect.

U. S. Spends Years To Pay Nickel Debt

Letters and Calls Through 51 Months Rewarded By 5 Cents.

Four years, three months and five days after the opening of fiscal negotiations between Alonzo L. Keefer, of 604 D street northwest, and Uncle Sam accounts were cleared. Last week Mr. Keefer, a retired watchman of the old War Trade Board, received a Government check for 5 cents.

It seems that so long ago Mr. Keefer was notified that he had some money coming from the retirement fund to which all Government employes contribute. He filled out the formal paper and waited, wondering how much money was due him.

After he had paid street car fare to visit the office, consumed several nickels in telephoning in an attempt to complete the negotiations and finally had waited the above-mentioned time, he received his check. His wife said yesterday that they would save the nickel "until some time when we get hard up for a cup of coffee."

Woman Is Hit by Auto While Crossing Street

Mrs. May Weaver, 35, of 3544 Warder street northwest, was slightly injured yesterday when struck by an automobile while crossing Seventh street near N street northwest.

Mrs. Weaver was treated at Garfield Hospital for slight injuries to the back and the left leg. The car was said to have been operated by William C. Oliver, of 613 Harvard street northwest.

Man Crushed By Big Boiler Dies Instantly

Superintending the mooring of a huge boiler at the engineers' wharf at Eleventh and O streets southwest yesterday, Harry Ward, 48 of 714 Thirteenth street southeast, was instantly killed when the cast-iron cylinder slipped from its fastenings and crushed him against a work bench.

Members of the Fire Department rescue squad extricated the man and removed him to Casualty Hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Ward was an employe of the Washington Gas Light Co. and in charge of the laborers who were moving the iron cylinder across the Anacostia River to the light company's plant.

As the workmen were preparing to unload the boiler it slipped against Ward's abdomen and crushed him to death.

Dr. Fowler, on 'Sick Leave,' Weds Miss Laura Jaques

District Health Chief, at Atlantic City, Gives Office Surprise.

Dr. William C. Fowler, District health officer, pulled a "fast one" on his colleagues, it was revealed yesterday when an announcement of his marriage to Miss Laura A. Jaques, of the Chatham Apartments, was received by Dr. Edward J. Svhwartz, deputy health officer. The marriage was performed Saturday in Atlantic City.

Leaving his office ten days ago on leave, Dr. Fowler said that he wanted a rest to recuperate from ill health. Consequently, sympathy was the keynote whenever his absence was spoken of in the District Building. All that was known was that he had gone to Atlantic City.

The bride is a chief clerk of the Geological Survey, Interior Department, and has been in the Federal Government service for a number of years. Her father said last night that she had known Dr. Fowler for 25 years.

Dr. Fowler is a widower and in his sixties. His wife died about twenty months ago.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

Years ago—as such things are reckoned in the fluid business of the cinema—Colleen Moore thought she would step out and try herself a part as unlike her habitual flapper as possible. So she tackled Edna Ferber's "So Big," with results which, if not disastrous, at least were disappointing. Janet Gaynor, more recently, attempted the same sort of thing with largely the same sort of sorry outcome. And so did Barbara Stanwyck.

Barbara Stanwyck.

But Barbara, who always talks of Stanwyck as of a third person — you know, "Stanwyck will do this," or "Stanwyck can't get away with that" —has seen the light, or the light has been pointed out to her, or something. At any rate, she says Stanwyck is going hot-cha again. Back to the sophisticates, bag and baggage, not to say b'gosh!

This decision is the result of attempting to be a farmer's wife on the screen. She thought it would be swell to raise asparagus in "So Big"—the same one that was Colleen Moore's undoing—and wheat in "The Purchase Price." Her employers, the Freres Warner, let her have her way, but now are sorry they did, and so is she. To put it mildly, she didn't set any box-offices on fire. "Stanwyck," she admits, "isn't so hot in calico!"

So it's back to the boudoir for Barbara; back to the type of role she played with such signal success in "Illicit" and "Ladies of Leisure;" back to silks and laces and satins.

In short, away from the soil and back on the velvet—in more ways than one!

Speaking of feminine frolickers, there are several cavorting currently who deserve more minute identification than they are receiving in the absence of printed programs from our cinema cathedrals.

With Hal Le Roy, at the Earle, for example, is Betty Kean—not the diminutive, platinum Betty Keene who was such a favorite with the old Foxettes on F street, by the way—a charming dancer who appeared on the same stage with a Dennis White revue last November when Jim Cagney was on the screen in "Blonde Crazy."

Supporting Georges Carpentier, at Loew's Fox, are Evelyn Hayes, Lucille Arth and Barbara Jason, as the three harmonizing vocalists, and Dorothy Lawrence, the danseuse. Each is an individual specialist.

With Joe Phillips, on the same bill, is Aileen Cook, who has recently appeared in a dozen or so Paramount short subjects produced in the east coast plant at Astoria, L. I. Probably that is why you thought you knew her.

Reverting to the Earle, the feminine foils for Arthur and Morton Havel, in the skit laid on the deck of an ocean liner, are Mrs. Arthur and Mrs. Morton Havel. And please don't ask me which is which!

Following the condensed version of "Rio Rita," opening Friday at the Fox, another two-star vaudeville bill will be presented. For the week of September 9, headline honors will be split by Abe Lyman and his Band and Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, who has been in eclipse all these years.

After thoughts on the week's goings-on: Friday's best bets both won. . . Pola Negri sang "Paradise," at Loew's Fox, and Everett Marshall sang "That's Why Darkies Were Born," at the Earle. . . In case you think you recognize that kitchen set in "Doctor X," you do. . . Same one they used in "Miss Pinkerton". . . Just like old times when music was music. . . I mean Phil Lampkin's "Rio Rita" overture, with Austin Shaw singing from the stage, Phil tooting a trumpet solo from the leader's stand and Texas Rangers doing their stuff on the scrims. . . It makes a sure-fire hit out of a notoriously dud number. . . There is a scene in "Doctor X" identical with the one in Monta Bell's "Man, Woman and Sin" that they raised such a fog about. . . And nobody says a word. . . Wonder how Lee Tracy knew they had a pay phone. . . Oh, well.

And now, since he has proved himself so admirably equipped for the Presidency by a solid grounding in Mother Goose and the nursery rhymes, I am impatiently awaiting Frankie Roosevelt's constructive proposals on farm and railroad relief—expressed, of course, in profound terms of "moo-cow" and "choo-choo train!"

Mystery Surrounds Cause of Sudden Careening of Hodge's Car.

Circumstances surrounding an automobile accident which last night cost the life of S. Evans Hodge, retired civil engineer of the Westchester Apartments, 4000 Cathedral avenue northwest, and injured his wife and two other passengers, were being investigated early today by headquarters detectives and Seventh Precinct police.

Mr. Hodge was killed almost instantly when the machine he was driving crashed head-on into a telegraph pole near Thirty-ninth street and Cathedral avenue. Neither his wife nor two other passengers in the car, Mr. and Mrs. James Moir, of Burlington, Iowa, could explain how the accident occurred.

Drove at Moderate Speed.

Mrs. Hodge and Mrs. Moir were riding in the rear seat, while Mr. Moir was in front with Mr. Hodge. The machine turned from the gates of the Westchester and had proceeded less than a block when witnesses declared it suddenly careened from the road, over a curbing and crashed into a telegraph pole.

Everett L. Thompson, of 3026 Forty-fourth place northwest, who was driving his car about half a block away, said the Hodge machine was traveling at between 25 and 30 miles an hour. The street was clear, Thompson declared, when the car suddenly swerved to the right and onto the sidewalk.

Illness Theory Advanced.

It was pointed out that Mr. Hodge would have been unable to gain any great amount of speed in the short distance the machine traveled. Apparent lack of damage to the car puzzled police. A bent bumper, broken spring and broken windshield were the only evidences of the crash.

Physicians at Georgetown Hospital, where the injured were taken, declared Mr. Hodge died of a fractured skull. Belief was also expressed that he might have been stricken suddenly ill before the accident.

Mrs. Hodge suffered slight bruises and lacerations and refused hospital treatment. Mrs. Moir, 56 years old, although suffering from a severe gash on her forehead, also declined hospital aid. Her husband was admitted to the hospital with lacerations to his head and left hand. He is 65 years old.

Woman Faints as Three Cars Collide.

Delores Russell, of 1820 California street northwest, fainted late yesterday when the car in which she was riding collided with two other cars at Twelfth and O streets northwest, according to authorities of Emergency Hospital, where she was treated. The car was being driven by Teressa Carter, of the California street address.

Cigarettes and Cash Taken From Store

Watches Among Robbers' $77 Loot.
